in educational settings in four Nordic countries Sweden Norway Finland and Iceland Educational action research in Nordic countries is interpreted as being informed by the traditions of Bildung and folk enlightenment and thereby emphasizing the importance of collaboration discussion and dialogue in knowledge creation It explores the professional development of teachers especially through school university partnerships in which university researchers collaborate with teachers in a variety of educational settings in order to bring about change in and better understanding of practice It presents case studies of professional development in the context educational reform and change originating from both inside and outside schools and tackled with or enhanced by collaborative and action research By analysing the cases in the light of the Nordic traditions of Bildung and folk enlightenment the authors have been able to identify a number of key features of professional development enhanced by collaborative and action research These features are drawn together in the last chapter in a

Boas,2020-08-17 In Cultural Criticism in the Netherlands 1933 40 Jacob Boas offers a broad selection of the newspaper columns of legendary Dutch cultural critic Menno ter Braak Ter Braak s columns are noteworthy not only for their distinctive treatment of disparate cultural components ranging from literature to the social sciences but also for the light they throw on the extent to which politics intruded on the cultural sphere in the years prior to the outbreak of war Ter Braak set a standard for literary criticism of surpassing quality Moreover a staunch advocate of democracy the critic joined the battle against fascism urging fellow intellectuals to rise to the occasion The conscience of Dutch letters killed himself on the eve of the German occupation May 1940 Inventing Exoticism Benjamin Schmidt,2015-02-09 As early modern Europe launched its multiple projects of global empire it simultaneously embarked on an ambitious program of describing and picturing the world The shapes and meanings of the extraordinary global images that emerged from this process form the subject of this highly original and richly textured study of cultural geography Inventing Exoticism draws on a vast range of sources from history literature science and art to describe the energetic and sustained international engagements that gave birth to our modern conceptions of exoticism and globalism Illustrated with more than two hundred images of engravings paintings ceramics and more Inventing Exoticism shows in vivid example and persuasive detail how Europeans came to see and understand the world at an especially critical juncture of imperial imagination At the turn to the eighteenth century European markets were flooded by books and artifacts that described or otherwise evoked non European realms histories and ethnographies of overseas kingdoms travel narratives and decorative maps lavishly produced tomes illustrating foreign flora and fauna and numerous decorative objects in the styles of distant cultures Inventing Exoticism meticulously analyzes these while further identifying the particular role of the Dutch Carriers of the World as Defoe famously called them in the business of exotica The form of early modern exoticism that sold so well as this book shows originated not with expansion minded imperialists of London and Paris but in the canny ateliers of Holland By scrutinizing these materials from the perspectives of both producers and consumers and paying close attention to processes of cultural mediation Inventing Exoticism interrogates traditional postcolonial theories of knowledge and power It proposes a wholly revisionist understanding of geography in a pivotal age of expansion and offers a crucial historical perspective on our own global culture as it engages in a media saturated world

The Netherlands and Nazi Genocide G. Jan Colijn,Marcia Sachs Littell,1992 This collection of papers highlights the contradictions in the Netherlands which led on one hand to a Dutch Nazi Party and a very low rate of survival among Dutch Jews and on the other hand to facets of considerable resistance Informatics in Schools. Beyond Bits and Bytes: Nurturing Informatics Intelligence in Education Jean-Philippe Pellet,Gabriel Parriaux,2023-09-30 This book constitutes the proceedings of the 16th International Conference on Informatics in Schools Situation Evolution and Perspectives ISSEP 2023 held in Lausanne Switzerland during October 23 25 2023 The 14 full papers presented in this book were carefully reviewed and selected from 47 submissions They are organized in four topical sections named artificial intelligence and its applications competitions problem solving and computational robotics and unplugged modalities and curricula and computer science concepts This is an open access book Natural Disaster at the Closing of the Dutch Golden Age Adam Sundberg,2022-01-27 By the early eighteenth century the economic primacy cultural efflorescence and geopolitical power of the Dutch Republic appeared to be waning The end of this Golden Age was also an era of natural disasters Between the late seventeenth and the mid eighteenth century Dutch communities weathered numerous calamities including river and coastal floods cattle plagues and an outbreak of strange mollusks that threatened the literal foundations of the Republic Adam Sundberg demonstrates that these disasters emerged out of longstanding changes in environment and society They were also fundamental to the Dutch experience and understanding of eighteenth century decline Disasters provoked widespread suffering but they also opened opportunities to retool management strategies expand the scale of response and to reconsider the ultimate meaning of catastrophe This book reveals a dynamic and often resilient picture of a society coping with calamity at odds with historical assessments of eighteenth century stagnation Nurturing Children and Families Barry M.

The Nurturing of New Educational Researchers María de Ibarrola, Lorin W. Anderson, 2014-07-11 Five educational researchers coming from a variety of higher education institutions academic disciplines and cultural backgrounds met together over a three year period to discuss the present and future of doctoral education and training in the field of education Their hope was that the product of their discussions would enable educators and policy makers around the world to rethink restructure and even design new programs to prepare the rising generation of educational researchers in their countries These differences in academic national and institutional perspectives led to a variety of ways even conflicting ones in which the quality of doctoral education and training could be improved Based on our discussion we came to the conclusion that there are no universal solutions to the problems involved in setting up and operating a quality doctoral program Rather educators would be wise to be aware of the alternatives at their disposal and make informed choices based on an understanding of the larger societal and political contexts in their states regions or nations To facilitate this decision making process we have chosen to conclude with a set of key questions that should be addressed by those seeking to examine and improve their doctoral programs in education and briefly describe some of the alternative ways of answering these questions Instead of passively absorbing a unified position then the reader is invited to join the dialogue that has taken place and is still taking place between and among the authors To exemplify such a dialogue each chapter is followed by one or two commentaries written by members of the group We would encourage the reader to write commentaries on the individual chapters and perhaps the commentaries thereby engaging in a dialogue with the authors on a fairly personal level
