Nutrition And Dietary Advice In The Pharmacy:

Nutrition and Dietary Advice in the Pharmacy Pamela Mason, 2000 A number of important changes in the field of food and nutrition have occurred since the first edition of this book was published Recent research has pointed to the importance of several new dietary links in cardiovascular disease notably folic acid other factors such as phyto oestrogens and bioflavonoids are beginning to emerge not only as protective factors in cardiovascular disease but also in cancer The incidence of over weight and obesity continues to increase making advice on weight control even more important for people of all ages including children and adolescents Each chapter has been updated to include these and a number of other changes What has not changed since the first edition is the need for dietary advice and the opportunity for pharmacists to provide it as individuals become increasingly interested in diet as a means of maintaining and improving their health

Handbook of Pharmacy Healthcare Robin J. Harman, Pamela Mason, 2002 This revised and updated edition of the Handbook of Pharmacy Healthcare provides a comprehensive account of a wide range of diseases for which medicinal treatment may be indicated The book outlines the most appropriate means by which the pharmacist can impart information and advice emphasising the patient rather than the drug related aspects of pharmacy The Role of the Pharmacist in Patient Care Abdul Kader Mohiuddin, 2020 The goal of a high quality cost effective and accessible health care for patients is achieved through constructing a team based and patient centered health care delivery system The expanded role of pharmacists uplifts them to patient care from dispensing and manufacturing or marketing of drugs Along with doctors and allied health professionals pharmacists are increasingly recognized as an integral part of the patient care team Furthermore colleges of pharmacy need to revise and up date their curricula to accommodate the progressively increasing development in the pharmaceutical education and the evolving new roles of practicing pharmacists in patient care settings This book focuses on the expanded role of the pharmacists in total patient care including prescribing dispensing compounding administering and monitoring of drugs at home hospital community hospice critical care changeover and other care settings The sector is emerging in both developed and under developed countries Overburdened by patient loads and the explosion of new drugs physicians turned to pharmacists more and more for drug information especially within institutional settings And today s patient care pharmacists are taking more interests in medication review and reconciliation patient education and counseling creating drug therapy regimen and monitoring compliance The purpose of this book is to guide the pharmacists in their daily interactions with patients and to ensure collaboration with other health professionals The contents are mostly based on recently published articles related to patient care with most recent ideas and activities followed by the patient care pharmacists around the globe However a pharmacist implements the care plan in collaboration with other health care professionals and the patient or caregiver Along with professional guidelines the book discusses the concepts and best practices of patient interaction patient rights and ethical decision making for the professional pharmacist apprentice and student In every chapter the role of pharmacists in that chapter specific issues are detailed explicitly so that a professional pharmacist or a student can figure out his or her do s and don ts in that specific situation Moreover further reading references are listed as future recommendations So the book is an archive of potential references too Among so many books about patient care either doctors or nurses roles are highlighted The proposed book highlights the pharmacists roles and responsibilities to the most separated from those of doctors and nurses with the most recent information obtained from most publications in several journals books bulletins newsletter magazines etc
