Hall,2003 Periphery Lynne Jamneck,2012-05 Periphery is as much about the female perspective of the future as it is an exploration of individual identity in a world increasingly dominated by technology How do we define our humanity if not by the way we connect to others Yet even in the realm of the physical and the sensual technology continues to change perspectives on what it means to be human Through the stories collected in Periphery we experience the intersection between a number of possible futures and how we will continue to discover through our fallible emotions what it means to be human

Angels Town Ralph Cintron, 1998-11-01 As issues of power and social order loom large in Angelstown Ralph Cintron shows how eruptions on the margins of the community are emblematic of a deeper disorder In their language and images the members of a Latino community in a mid-sized American city create self respect under conditions of disrespect Cintron's innovative ethnography offers a beautiful portrait of a struggling Mexican American community and shows how people including ethnographers make sense of their lives through cultural forms

Margaret Atwood's Aesthetics Dunja M. Mohr, Kirsten Sandrock, 2025-03-31 Perhaps more timely than ever Margaret Atwood's Aesthetics offers novel perspectives on both contemporary and canonical topics in Margaret Atwood's work with a special focus on the intersections of literature and politics Arguably one of the most political writers of our times Atwood's oeuvre subtly and overtly entangles readers in the dialectics of personal and political power asymmetries intrinsic to her aesthetic practices The collection takes its cue from the concept of the artpolitical as coined by Crispin Sartwell whose afterword addresses Atwood's aesthetic and imaginative material world construction and explores the interrelationship between literatures and aesthetic as well as political systems in Atwood's works Individual chapters of Margaret Atwood's Aesthetics contribute to increasingly burning questions concerning the relevance of literature today by drawing on a variety of critical perspectives including Anthropocene studies gender intersectionality the nonhuman and the posthuman Mikhail Bakhtin's carnivalesque risk studies nationhood intermediality and teaching Chapters offer fresh views on some of Atwood's most prominent works such as The Handmaid's Tale and The Testaments and their transmedial adaptations while other chapters focus on Atwood's latest publications as well as on under researched works including her graphic novels and her web serialized publications Margaret Atwood's Aesthetics provides unique insights into the aesthetic and political power of Atwood's oeuvre arguing that literary and media representations and cultural adaptation practices contain a significant transformative potential that reaches beyond the page
