Men Of Learning In Europe:

Men of Learning in Europe at the End of the Middle Ages Jacques Verger, 2000 Medievalists prefer that we not view the Middle Ages in a static frame but rather a dynamic one They want us to be aware of the shifts and changes that characterize the period In Men of Learning in Europe at the Close of the Middle Ages Jacques Verger provides us with an important look at the evolution of social classes and an essential chapter in the study of cultural history By the end of the Middle Ages societal categories which were adequate for earlier periods those who pray those who fight those who work no longer allowed for the growing complexity of Western society One of the key new groups which emerged was that of learned men Through their intellectual competency and their ability to build a social and political utility these men came to be important figures The fledgling modern state found them to be helpful allies and favored their ascension among the traditional elite Thus they contributed not only to the advancement of knowledge making the Renaissance period possible but also to the reshaping of late medieval political structure Combining cultural social and political history Men of Learning in Europe at the Close of the Middle Ages measures the influence acquired by certain disciplines in particular religious literary and legal in the organization of European society Anyone interested in the Middle Ages or intellectual history will want to read this book

Learning across Generations in Europe Bernhard Schmidt Hertha, Sabina Jelenc Krašovec, Marvin Formosa, 2014-11-28 Learning across generations in Europe Contemporary issues in older adult education constitutes an important book in the emergent field of study of older adult learning The book gives a clear and wide overview on the different concepts ideas and meanings related to older adults education learning and intergenerational learning through strong theoretical standpoints empirical research and policy directions The field of older adult education has expanded immensely in recent years since it raised questions that are connected to a rapidly ageing society in very turbulent times of economic and social changes in Europe This book provides the basis for an in depth analysis of the understandings and interpretations of education and learning in later life rethinking the development of different approaches for education of older adults as well as diverse research and evaluation of different forms of older adults education and learning It brings together both orthodox approaches to educational gerontology and older adult learning on important emerging issues faced by educators around the globe The chapters address the contemporary differentiated discussion on diverse phenomena labelled ranging from intergenerational learning to older men learning providing robust impulses for the development of further theoretical and empirical research on older adult and intergenerational learning It is the editors intention that this collection of papers acts as a persuasive argument for formal and non formal learning agencies to open more doors for older adults Bernhard Schmidt Hertha Ph D is Full Professor of educational science with focus on continuing education and further vocational training at Institute of Education University of Tuebingen His research and writings address the topics of adult education intergenerational learning informal adult learning and higher education Sabina Jelenc Krašovec Ph D is Associate

Lifelong Learning in Europe

Riddell, Sheila,Jorg Markowitsch (Ed),Elisabet Weedon,2012-07-04 The ongoing economic crisis raises fundamental questions about the political and social goals of the European Union particularly the feasibility of harmonising social and education policy across member states The forward momentum of the European project is clearly faltering raising the possibility that the high water mark of European integration has been achieved with implications for many aspects of education and social policy including lifelong learning This timely book makes a major and original contribution to the development of knowledge and understanding of lifelong learning in an expanded Europe Its wide range of contributors look at the contribution of lifelong learning to economic growth and social cohesion across Europe focusing its challenge to social exclusion It draws on comparative data from the EU Sixth Framework Project Lifelong Learning Policy and Practice in Europe LLL2010 which ran from 2005 2011 and involved twelve European countries and Russia Very little research has been conducted to date on the nature of lifelong learning in post Soviet countries and this book provides important insights into their evolving education and lifelong learning systems The book will be of interest to researchers and academics in the UK and Europe especially those from social policy adult and comparative education equality studies and practice of lifelong learning Lifelong Learning, Young Adults and the Challenges of Disadvantage in Europe John Holford, Pepka Boyadjieva, Sharon Clancy, Günter Hefler, Ivana Studená, 2023-03-23 This open access book challenges international policy groupthink about lifelong learning Adult learning too long a servant of business competitiveness should be reimagined as central to democratic society Young adults especially from disadvantaged backgrounds engage more in education and training and learn more day to day at work if provision is democratically organised and based on enduring and inclusive institutional networks and when jobs encourage and reward the acquisition of skills Using innovative qualitative and quantitative methods the contributors develop a critical perspective on dominant policies investigating across the European Union and Australia how vulnerable young adults experience programmes designed to improve their employability and how skills for jobs policies squeeze out wider and wiser ideas of what education and training should do Chapters show why some provision works for those with poor educational backgrounds why labour market and educational institutions matter so much how adult education can empower and expand people's agency and the challenges of using artificial intelligence in lifelong learning policy making Several investigate the pivotal role of workplace learning in organisational life and in learning during emerging adulthood Important comparative studies of workplace learning in the metals retail and adult education sectors show the role of management trade unions and social movements in young adults learning Lifelong Learning and the Roma Minority in Central and Eastern Europe Andrea Óhidy, Katalin R. Forray, 2019-09-30 This book discusses the current educational climate and the impact of these policy measures for Roma people in eight Central and Eastern European countries There is a severe lack of information about the Roma people in the public domain This book seeks to raise awareness of this forgotten minority

Adult Learning in Modern Societies Hans-Peter Blossfeld, Elina Kilpi-Jakonen, Daniela Vono de Vilhena, Sandra Buchholz, 2014-06-27 As industrial societies increasingly evolve into knowledge based economies the importance of education as a lifelong process is greater than ever This comprehensive book provides a state of the art analysis of adult learning across the world and with Rethinking Gender, Work and Care in a New Europe Triin Roosalu, 2016-04-29 Given the growing importance of Eastern European countries in the development of the EU there is an urgent need to reconstruct the recent dynamic developments in women's work and care in these societies and the socio political determinants thereof Considering their specific cultural economic and historical development it can be assumed that the trends and determinants of women's labour market trajectories in CEE countries differ significantly from those in the other European countries that have frequently made up the basis for established theories in social and labour market research This being the case can standard theoretical approaches mostly modelled on evidence from Western Europe be transferred to the analysis of Eastern European countries This edited collection scrutinises pivotal aspects of women s careers in Eastern Europe providing a detailed overview of trends and determinants of women s employment in Eastern Europe and reflecting critically on theoretical approaches in social and labour market research Learning Law and Travelling Europe: Study Journeys and the Developing Swedish Legal Profession, c. 1630–1800 Marianne Vasara-Aaltonen,2020-05-18 In Learning Law and Travelling Europe Marianne Vasara Aaltonen offers an exciting account of the study journeys of Swedish lawyers in the early modern period Based on archival sources and biographical information the study delves into the backgrounds of the law students their travels through Europe and their future careers In seventeenth century Sweden the state building process was at its height and trained officials were desperately needed for the administration and judiciary The book shows convincingly that the studies abroad of future lawyers were intimately linked to this process whereas in the eighteenth century study journeys became less important By examining the development of the Swedish early modern legal profession the book also represents an important contribution to comparative legal history General Sketch of European History Edward A. Freeman,2023-03-21 Reprint of the original first published in 1872 The publishing house Anatiposi publishes historical books as reprints Due to their age these books may have missing pages or inferior quality Our aim is to preserve these books and make them available to the public so that they do not get lost Unwrapping the European Social Model Maria Jepsen,Amparo Serrano Pascual,2006-07-12 AGREED WITH AUTHOR The notion of the European Social Model ESM has been one of the fastest growing in European political and academic discourse in recent years It is conventionally used to describe the European experience of simultaneously promoting sustainable economic growth and social cohesion However the concept has suffered from a lack of clear definition And where definitions have been found in the literature they do not necessarily converge This book presents the outcome of a project coordinated by the European Trade Union Institute in which experts from different countries and social scientific disciplines sociology political science and economics were invited to reflect on both the meaning and political status of the concept of the ESM In addition to analysing the ambiguities and multiple meanings attributed to the concept the authors unpick the underlying assumptions and make use of a new approach the ESM as political project with which European countries can build consensus and share a common understanding Offering a new analytical framework and with new empirical evidence Unwrapping the European Social Model is essential reading for all those involved in European social policy research education policy and practice Maria Jepsen is Senior Researcher at the European Trade Union Institute and lecturer at the Free University of Brussels Amparo Serrano Pascual is Researcher and Lecturer at the Complutense University Madrid and formerly Senior Researcher at the European Trade Union Institute The Teaching and Learning of Arabic in Early Modern Europe ,2017-02-13 This volume brings together the leading experts in the history of European Oriental Studies Their essays present a comprehensive history of the teaching and learning of Arabic in early modern Europe covering a wide geographical area from southern to northern Europe and discussing the many ways and purposes for which the Arabic language was taught and studied by scholars theologians merchants diplomats and prisoners The contributions shed light on different methods and contents of language teaching in a variety of academic scholarly and missionary contexts in the Protestant and the Roman Catholic world But they also look beyond the institutional history of Arabic studies and consider the importance of alternative ways in which the study of Arabic was pursued Contributors are Asaph Ben Tov Maurits H van den Boogert Sonja Brentjes Mordechai Feingold Mercedes Garc a Arenal John Paul A Ghobrial Aur lien Girard Alastair Hamilton Jan Loop Nuria Mart nez de Castilla Mu oz Simon Mills Fernando Rodr guez Mediano Bernd Roling Arnoud Vrolijk This title in its entirety is available online in Open Access *Beginnings of European Biography.
