The Ball of Fire George Randolph Chester, Lillian Chester, 2021-11-05 Allison helped her into his big piratical looking runabout and tucked her in as if she were some fragile hot house plant which might freeze with the first cool draught He looked with keen appreciation at her fresh cheeks and sparkling eyes and softly waving hair He had never given himself much time for women but this girl was a distinct individual It was not her undeniable beauty which he found so attractive He had met many beautiful women Nor was it charm of manner nor the thing called personal magnetism nor the intelligence which gleamed from her eyes It was something intangible and baffling which had chained his interest from the moment she had appeared in the vestry doorway and since he was a man who had never admitted the existence of mysteries his own perplexity puzzled him
