Nurturing Consumer Activism Sanjay Kaptan, 2003

Activism and the Policy Process Anna Yeatman, 2020-07-29

Activists protecting rainforests demanding increased childcare developing local community housing campaigning for AIDS funding or protecting consumers are as much part of the political landscape as the media parliament peak industry groups political parties or trade unions This collection explores the idea of policy activism and its relationship to the processes that not only set but implement and deliver the policy agenda Policy activists operate both inside and outside government They include community based organisers activist bureaucrats service providers and professionals Policy activism has been barely explored in existing literature This collection puts the idea on the map It is an innovative contribution to the literature using case studies across a broad range of policy areas This volume opens the window on an aspect of the policy process that rarely receives attention from students of politics or policy anywhere across the globe The framework presented and the cases included in these pages provide a glimpse of the workings of a complex democracy describing a range of actors responding creatively to the dynamics of social political and economic change It is fascinating to see how policy functions and social values appear to be more important to these processes than the formal structures of the government in which they are placed

Strategic Planning for Public Relations Ronald D. Smith, 2017-05-18

Strategic Planning for Public Relations is in its fifth edition of offering an innovative and clear approach for students looking to learn how to develop public relations campaigns It is a text intended for those serious about entering the rapidly changing professions of public relations and strategic communication Ronald Smith shows how to implement pragmatic research driven strategic campaigns used in public relations practice and draws from his years of experience as a professional in the industry and his years of teaching in the classroom The approach used in this text is a threefold pattern first readers are exposed to new ideas then see them in use before finally being showed how to apply those ideas themselves Complex problem solving and decision making processes in strategic communication and public relations are turned into a series of easy to follow steps flexible enough to be applicable to myriad situations and organizations in the real world This new fifth edition follows the same format as previous editions and includes numerous timely and real world examples of cases and current events along with classic cases that stand the test of time It includes new research on opinions and practices within the discipline and covers several recent award winning public relations campaigns

Sisters Or Strangers Franca

Iacovetta, Frances Swyripa, Marlene Epp, 2004-01-01 Spanning two hundred years of history from the nineteenth century to the 1990s Sisters or Strangers explores the complex lives of immigrant ethnic and racialized women in Canada The volume deals with a cross section of peoples including Japanese Chinese Black Aboriginal Irish Finnish Ukrainian Jewish Mennonite Armenian and South Asian Hindu women and diverse groups of women including white settlers refugees domestic servants

consumer activists nurses wives and mothers The central themes of Sisters or Strangers include discourses of race in the context of nation building encounters with the state and public institutions symbolic and media representations of women familial relations domestic violence and racism and analyses of history and memory In different ways the authors question whether the historical experience of women in Canada represents a sisterhood of challenge and opportunity or if the racial class or marginalized identity of the immigrant and minority women made them in fact strangers in a country where privilege and opportunity fall according to criteria of exclusion Using a variety of theoretical approaches this collaborative work reminds us that victimization and agency are never mutually exclusive and encourages us to reflect critically on the categories of race gender and the nation

Encyclopedia of the Environment in American Literature Geoff Hamilton, Brian Jones, 2014-01-10 This encyclopedia introduces readers to American poetry fiction and nonfiction with a focus on the environment broadly defined as humanity's natural surroundings from the discovery of America through the present The work includes biographical and literary entries on material from early explorers and colonists such as Columbus Bartolome de Las Casas and Thomas Harriot Native American creation myths canonical 18th and 19th century works of Jefferson Emerson Thoreau Whitman Hawthorne Twain Dickinson and others to more recent figures such as Jack London Ernest Hemingway Norman Mailer Stanley Cavell Rachel Carson Jon Krakauer and Al Gore It is meant to provide a synoptic appreciation of how the very concept of the environment has changed over the past five centuries offering both a general introduction to the topic and a valuable resource for high school and university courses focused on environmental issues

Stories of House and Home Christine Varga-Harris, 2016-02-19 Stories of House and Home is a social and cultural history of the massive construction campaign that Khrushchev instituted in 1957 to resolve the housing crisis in the Soviet Union and to provide each family its own apartment Decent housing was deemed the key to a healthy productive home life which was essential to the realization of socialist collectivism Drawing on archival materials as well as memoirs fiction and the Soviet press Christine Varga Harris shows how the many aspects of this enormous state initiative from neighborhood planning to interior design sought to alleviate crowded undignified living conditions and sculpt residents into ideal Soviet citizens She also details how individual interests intersected with official objectives for Soviet society during the Thaw a period characterized by both liberalization and vigilance in everyday life Set against the backdrop of the widespread transition from communal to one family living Stories of House and Home explores the daily experiences and aspirations of Soviet citizens who were granted new apartments and those who continued to inhabit the old housing stock due to the chronic problems that beset the housing program Varga Harris analyzes the contradictions apparent in heroic advances and seemingly inexplicable delays in construction model apartments boasting modern conveniences and decrepit dwellings happy housewarmings and disappointing moves and new residents and individuals requesting to exchange old apartments She also reveals how Soviet citizens identified with the state and with the broader project of building socialism
