American Photography, 1929 Agnes Varda between Film, Photography, and Art Rebecca J. DeRoo, 2017-10-17 Agn's Varda is a prolific film director photographer and artist whose cinematic career spans more than six decades Today she is best known as the innovative mother of the French New Wave film movement of the 1950s and 60s and for her multimedia art exhibitions Varying her use of different media she is a figure who defies easy categorization In this extensively researched book Rebecca J DeRoo demonstrates how Varda draws upon the histories of art photography and film to complicate the overt narratives in her works and to advance contemporary cultural politics Based on interviews with Varda and unparalleled access to Varda's archives this interdisciplinary study constructs new frameworks for understanding one of the most versatile talents in twentieth and twenty first century culture Rites of Realism Ivone Margulies, 2003-03-27 A collection of essays rethinking and reviving realism as a focus for film theory particularly emphasizing the relation of the genre to issues of the body Exhibiting Cinema in Contemporary Art Erika Balsom, 2025-10-01 Whether it involves remaking an old Hollywood movie projecting a quiet 16mm film or constructing a bombastic multi screen environment cinema now takes place not just in the movie theatre and the home but also in the art gallery and the museum The author of this engaging study takes stock of this development offering an in depth inquiry into its genesis its defining features and the ramifications it has for art and cinema alike Through the lens of contemporary art history she examines cinema studies great disciplinary obsession namely what cinema was is and will become in a digital future Camera, 1929 On the Politics of Ugliness Sara Rodrigues, Ela Przybylo, 2018-08-29 Ugliness or unsightliness is much more than a quality or property of an individual s appearance it has long functioned as a social category that demarcates access to social cultural and political spaces and capital The editors of and authors in this collection harness intersectional and interdisciplinary approaches in order to examine ugliness as a political category that is deployed to uphold established notions of worth and entitlement On the Politics of Ugliness identifies and challenges the harmful effects that labels and feelings of ugliness have on individuals and the socio political order It explores ugliness in relation to the intersectional processes of racialization colonization and settler colonialism gender making ableism heteronormativity and fatphobia On the Politics of Ugliness asks that we fight against visual injustice and imagine new ways of seeing

Cinepoetry Christophe Wall-Romana, 2013-01-28 Cinepoetry analyzes how French poets have remapped poetry through the lens of cinema for more than a century In showing how poets have drawn on mass culture technology and material images to incorporate the idea technique and experience of cinema into writing Wall Romana documents the long history of cross media concepts and practices often thought to emerge with the digital In showing the cinematic consciousness of Mallarm and Breton and calling for a reappraisal of the influential poetry theory of the early filmmaker Jean Epstein Cinepoetry reevaluates the bases of literary modernism The book also explores the crucial link between trauma and trans medium experiments in the wake of two world wars and highlights the marginal identity of cinepoets who were often Jewish gay foreign born or on the margins What results is a broad rethinking of the relationship between film and literature The episteme of cinema the book demonstrates reached the very core of its supposedly highbrow rival while at the same time modern poetry cultivated the technocultural savvy that is found today in slams e poetry and poetic digital hybrids The Science of Imaging Graham Saxby, 2001-12-01 A genuine introduction to the subject The Science of Imaging An Introduction keeps the mathematics to a minimum and is copiously littered with examples It takes the reader on a grand tour of imaging Starting with the fundamentals of light and basic cameras the authors journey through television and holography to advanced scientific and medical imaging Topics such as digital recording of images the photographic process and film development are dealt with in an informative and entertaining manner A Gust of Photo-Philia Alexandra

Moschovi, 2020-12-15 The first transnational history of photography's accommodation in the art museum Photography was long regarded as a middle brow art by the art institution Yet at the turn of the millennium it became the hot global art of our time In this book part institutional history part account of shifting photographic theories and practices Alexandra Moschovi tells the story of photography's accommodation in and as contemporary art in the art museum Archival research of key exhibitions and the contrasting collecting policies of MoMA Tate the Guggenheim the V A and the Centre Pompidou offer new insights into how art as photography and photography as art have been collected and exhibited since the 1930s Moschovi argues that this accommodation not only changed photography's status in art culture and society but also played a significant role in the rebranding of the art museum as a cultural and social site

Camera Works Michael North, 2005 Camera Works is about the impact of photography and film on modern art and literature For many artists and writers these new media offered hope of new means of representation neither linguistic nor pictorial but hovering in a kind of utopian space between At the same time the new media introduced a dramatic element of novelty into the age old evidence of the senses For the avant garde the challenges of the new media were the modern in its most concentrated form but even for aesthetically unadventurous writers they constituted an element of modern experience that could hardly be ignored Camera Works thus traces some of the more utopian projects of the transatlantic avant garde including the Readie machine of Bob Brown which was to turn stories and poems into strips of linguistic film The influence of photography and film on the avant garde is traced from the early days of Camera Work through the enthusiasm of Eugene Jolas and the contributors to his magazine transition to the crisis created by the introduction of sound in the late 1920s Subsequent chapters describe the entirely new kind of sensory enjoyment brought into modern American fiction by the new media What Fitzgerald calls spectroscopic gayety the enjoyable disorientation of the senses by machine perception turns out to be a powerful force in much American fiction The revolutionary possibilities of this new spectatorship and its limitations are pursued through a number of examples including Dos Passos James Weldon Johnson and Hemingway Together these chapters offer a new and substantially different account of the relationship between modern American literature and the mediatized society of the early twentieth century With a comprehensive introduction and detailed particular readings Camera Works substantiates a new understanding of the formal and historical bases of modernism It argues that when modern literature and art respond to modernity on a formal level they are responding to the intervention of technology in the transmission of meaning an intervention that unsettles all the terms in the essential relationship of human consciousness to the world of phenomena

Subjectivity Dominique Chateau, 2025-10-01 Subjectivity is a central concept in film theory philosophy and cultural studies It was also a key term in the reception of the Nouvelle Vague film movement in France and Italy from the start of 1945 This timely volume explores the ways in which the concept of subjectivity has made its way into film theory history practice and criticism as well as the confrontations of the subject with this rapidly changing medium Contributors to this timely study include Francesco Casetti

Gregory Currie Marina Grzinic Maria Klonaris and Katerina Thomadaki Jacinto Lageira Jos Moure Pere Salabert C line Scemama Karl Sierek Vivian Sobchack and Pierre Taminiaux Their illuminating essays are a testimony to their profound involvement in the subjectivity debate enriching our perception of film history and our understanding of the medium
