The Story Within Us Megan Sweeney, 2012-09-11 This volume features in depth oral interviews with eleven incarcerated women each of whom offers a narrative of her life and her reading experiences within prison walls The women share powerful stories about their complex and diverse efforts to negotiate difficult relationships exercise agency in restrictive circumstances and find meaning and beauty in the midst of pain Their shared emphases on abuse poverty addiction and mental illness illuminate the pathways that lead many women to prison and suggest possibilities for addressing the profound social problems that fuel crime Framing the narratives within an analytic introduction and reflective afterword Megan Sweeney highlights the crucial intellectual work that the incarcerated women perform despite myriad restrictions on reading and education in U S prisons These women use the limited reading materials available to them as sources of guidance and support and as tools for self reflection and self education Through their creative engagements with books the women learn to reframe their own life stories situate their experiences in relation to broader social patterns deepen their understanding of others experiment with new ways of being and maintain a sense of connection with their fellow citizens on both sides of the prison fence

Telling the Untold Story Steve Weinberg, 1992 Author of his own controversial unauthorized biography of Armand Hammer Steve Weinberg here shows how a new generation of biographers is revealing the lives of powerful individuals in dramatic and important new ways Trained as investigative journalists today's writers have entered a domain once dominated by university scholars Unlike their more academic predecessors who often wrote nonjudgmental books on the public lives of long dead individuals these new biographers are willing to tackle such powerful living subjects as Nancy Reagan Henry Kissinger Hugh Hefner Pete Rose and Fidel Castro Few of these books are adoring Without cooperation from their subjects and sometimes under threat of lawsuit these writers are probing into private lives and enabling readers to make up their own minds about public figures Tracing the evolution of the craft of biography up to the present day Weinberg draws on interviews with some of today's best biographers as well as his own experience with the Hammer biography to highlight the careers of some of the writers whose work exploded the boundaries of traditional biography When Robert Caro became the first journalist to win a Pulitzer Prize for Biography for his book on Robert Moses it marked the dawn of a new approach to the craft Weinberg also explores the techniques of Philadelphia Inquirer journalists Donald Barlett and James Steele whose jointly authored biographies of Howard Hughes and Nelson Rockefeller mark another sign of how far the genre of biography has come The book is enriched by samples of investigative biography at its best including a scathingly honest profile of the reigning queen of unauthorized biography Kitty Kelley and Calvin Trillin's fascinating New Yorker profile of the Miami Herald's inimitable police reporter Edna Buchanan The living of a life is more difficult than the chronicling of it but the chronicling is certainly no simple task writes Weinberg Telling somebody else's life fully fairly and compellingly is probably an impossible task But it is important to keep pushing the limits of the possible For writers reviewers publishers and general readers Telling the Untold Story is a fascinating look at how a new kind of biographer has forever changed our expectations of the genre and continues to push biography to exciting new limits
