Oil Pollution Deskbook Environmental Law:

Oil Pollution Deskbook Environmental Law Institute, 1991 The Oil Pollution Deskbook interprets the intricacies of the Oil Pollution Act provides valuable insight into the policies that shaped the Act and reflects on what the Act may become With the complete text of the Oil Pollution Act and the essential legislative history this valuable desk reference provides the reader with a vital understanding of the Act and its implications for the future Environmental Crimes Deskbook John F. Cooney, 1996 The Environmental Crimes Deskbook will help environmental professionals understand the rapidly growing and complex area of criminal enforcement of environmental law and avoid the field's abundant traps for the unwary

Advanced Introduction to U.S. Environmental Law Elliott, E. D., Esty, Daniel C., 2021-10-22 Providing a comprehensive overview of the current and developing state of environmental governance in the United States this Advanced Introduction lays out the foundations of U S environmental law E Donald Elliott and Daniel C Esty explore how federal environmental law is made and how it interacts with state law highlighting the important role that administrative agencies play in the creation implementation and enforcement of U S environmental law Civil Liability for Bunker Oil Pollution Damage Dan Malika Gunasekera, 2010 This book deals with the liability conventions brought into existence by the International Maritime Organization and concentrates on the newly adopted instrument dealing with bunker oil pollution as an area of great concern for every stakeholder involved in shipping business The work covers a wide spectrum ranging from the Convention itself to its scope of application liable and aggrieved parties jurisdiction requirements of liability and admissibility of claims defences and exoneration from liability It addresses many areas of interest and of importance to international and national legal advisors lawyers law students and anyone interested in the relevant field such as shipowners charterers shipbrokers ship personnel and associated contractors and sub contractors Core List for an Environmental Reference Collection, 2002 Civil Liability for Marine Oil Pollution Damage Hui Wang, Wang Hui, 2011-01-01 This remarkable book the first in depth examination of the civil liability regime for marine oil pollution damage from a law and economics perspective examines the efficiency and effectiveness of the regime with particular attention to whether it is in fact designed in the public interest or merely a distribution of risks and costs among interested parties The question is asked does the liability system give the potential polluter incentives to take precautionary measures to avoid pollution or to reduce the possibility of pollution The international regime on civil liability for marine oil pollution rests on the International Convention on Civil Liability for Oil Pollution Damage CLC and the International Convention on the Establishment of an International Fund for Compensation for Oil Pollution Damage Fund Convention However the world's biggest oil consumer and importer the United States has ratified neither preferring its own Oil Pollution Act of 1990 OPA and China currently the world's second oil consuming country has not ratified the Fund Convention Thus it is reasonable to compare the three regimes international US and China as such a comparative study may reveal some advantages or disadvantages among the three systems Among the issues raised and tackled head on by the author are the following whether the contents of international conventions can be considered as the result of the influence of the various interest groups involve overview of the regulations of marine pollution technical standards rules for operation professional criteria to what extent a state may take action against trans boundary polluting activities what liability a state may incur for non action or non effective action significance for liability of the charter party generally considered the evidence of the hire of a ship and the bill of lading considered the evidence of the contract of carriage of goods by sea the crucial role of the so called International Group of 13 Protection and Indemnity P and I Clubs non profit organizations specializing in liability insurance the main international players the International Maritime Organization IMO the Comit Maritime International CMI and industry organizations such as INTERTANKO and the Oil Companies International Marine Forum OCIMF the particular regime on offshore facility pollution liability in the United States port state control criminal liability and EU and other regional initiatives In addition a detailed study of the Erika case reveals some of the rationale for many of the persistent features of marine pollution liability regimes The well thought out legal and economic analysis provided in this book along with its clearly stated policy recommendations and constructive perspectives for future development of the liability system will be immeasurably valuable to lawyers and policymakers active in this highly visible area of international law

RCRA Deskbook ,1991 China Law Deskbook James M. Zimmerman,2005 Vessel-Source Pollution and Coastal State Jurisdiction Erik

Franckx,2001-01-01 After seven years of work the Committee on Coastal State Jurisdiction Relating to Marine Pollution of the International Law Association concluded its work by submitting its final report for discussion at the occasion of the London conference July 25 29 2000 This book brings together the different official reports submitted by this Committee at the 1996 Helsinki 1998 Taipei and 2000 London conferences as well as some preparatory documents necessary for the correct understanding of these just mentioned reports The Committee concentrated its work on vessel source pollution and made it a central objective of its work to produce results which could facilitate the interpretation of the 1982 United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea During its work it became moreover apparent that an accurate assessment of state practice proved more than once problematic either because of problems relating to interpretation or simply because the basic information was missing For that reason the present book contains a special section where different members of the Committee prepared detailed national reports written according to a strict outline worked out for this purpose in order to shed additional light on the specific issues dealt with by the Committee Together with the conclusions arrived at by the Committee these additional national reports represent a valuable statement of the present day status iuris questionis
