Ghebreyesus, 2013-04-26 Sub Saharan Africa has only 12 percent of the global population yet this region accounts for 50 percent of child deaths more than 60 percent of maternal deaths 85 percent of malaria cases and close to 67 percent of people living with HIV Sub Saharan Africa however has the lowest number of health workers in the world significantly fewer than in South Asia which is at a comparable level of economic development The Labor Market for Health Workers in Africa uses the analytical tools of labor markets to examine the human resource crisis in health from an economic perspective Africa's labor markets are complex with resources coming from governments donors the private sector and households Low numbers of health workers and poor understanding of labor market dynamics are major impediments to improving health service delivery Yet some countries in the region have developed innovative solutions with new approaches to creating a robust health workforce that can respond to the continent's health challenges As Africa grows economically the invaluable lessons in this book can help build tomorrow's African health systems Airport Economics in Latin America and the Caribbean Tomás Serebrisky, 2011-12-05 Traditionally air transport infrastructure in Latin America and the Caribbean LAC was exclusively under government ownership and management Starting in the late 1990s several Latin American countries implemented innovative public private partnerships PPP that transferred the financing and management of air transport sector infrastructure to the private sector This book presents the findings of a first ever comprehensive study of how LAC region airports have evolved during this notable period of transition in airport ownership It is an unbiased positive analysis of what happened rather than a normative analysis of what should be done to reform the airport sector or to attract private participation It takes the first step in response to the need for more conclusive information about the influence of airport ownership on economic performance The book is centered around the study of three dimensions of performance productive efficiency institutional set up for the governance of the sector and financing of airport PPPs Using rigorous analytical tools this book answer a series of key questions to evaluate the introduction of private sector participation in the Latin American airport sector Are LAC airports technically efficient How has efficiency evolved in the last decade Are privately run airports more efficient than state operated airports How do independent regulators compare with government agencies in accountability transparency and autonomy How has the level and structure of aeronautical tariffs changed in recent years The main audience of this book are air transport practitioners transport regulators decisionmakers in transport ministries and PPP units and academics Leadership and Innovation in Subnational Government Tim Campbell,Harald

The Palgrave Handbook of Economic Performance Analysis Thijs ten Raa, William H. Greene, 2019-12-13

This Handbook takes an econometric approach to the foundations of economic performance analysis The focus is on the measurement of efficiency productivity growth and performance These concepts are commonly measured residually and difficult to quantify in practice In real life applications efficiency and productivity estimates are often quite sensitive to the models used in the performance assessment and the methodological approaches adopted by the analysis The Palgrave Handbook of Performance Analysis discusses the two basic techniques of performance measurement deterministic benchmarking and stochastic benchmarking in detail and addresses the statistical techniques that connect them All chapters include applications and explore topics ranging from the output input ratio to productivity indexes and national statistics

PPI partnerships versus PPI divorces in LDCs (or are we switching from PPPI to PPDI?) Antonio Estache, 2005

Because many of these experiences are also turning sour and the privatization fad of the 1990s seems to be turning into an antiprivatization fad it seems important to separate facts from emotions Estache argues that the wide differences in interpretations of the facts can be explained by wide differences in the assessment criteria used by analysts including the definition of the baseline data chosen to assess the incremental effect of reforms It is also driven by the sectors the regions and probably most important the actors on which the analysis tends to focus Once all these factors have been considered a relatively fair and quantitative assessment of the prospects of the public private relationship in infrastructure is possible
