Complexity and the Nature of Primitive Man's Conception of the Supernatural William David Davis, 1971 English Literature and the Russian Aesthetic Renaissance Rachel Polonsky, 1998-11-05 The turn of the nineteenth century, a time of exceptional creativity in Russia, was also a time of great receptivity to foreign cultural influences. Among the most important of these were English poetry and aesthetic thought, which gave new impetus to the Russian imagination. This 1998 book is a study of the Russian reception of English literature from Romanticism to aestheticism, focusing particularly on the reception by Russian poets of Shelley, Ruskin, Pater, Frazer, and Wilde. Framing this account is a pioneering exploration of the intellectual background to these influences in comparative scholarship, illuminating a common interest in myth, folklore, anthropology, and the origins of language. This book discusses the relationship between Russian conceptions of national identity, literary influence, and the origins of comparative literary history. An Introduction to the History of Religion

(Routledge Revivals) F. B. Jevons, 2014-07-17 First published in 1902, this book investigates the history and development of early religion from an anthropological perspective. Rather than dealing with religions that grew from the teachings of their original founders such as Christianity, Islam, and Buddhism, Jevons considers those religions that were practised as a matter of custom and tradition. The title considers such subjects as the supernatural, life and death, animal sacrifice, and the worship of nature. It provides an introduction to the history of religion for students of religion, anthropology, and folklore. An

Introduction to the History of Religion Frank Byron Jevons, 1918 A History of Social Thought Emory Stephen Bogardus, 1922 Ethnoreligious Conflict in the Late Twentieth Century Jonathan Fox, 2002-01-01 Jonathan Fox's new work provides the first systematic empirical study of the role that religion plays in ethnic violence. Ethnoreligious Conflict in the Late Twentieth Century critiques the existing literature on religion and ethnic conflict, then presents and analyzes original quantitative data gathered from a variety of sources. Fox draws upon the Minorities at Risk model of ethnic conflict to develop and test a dynamic and comprehensive theory of religion and conflict. He applies this theory to resurgent conflicts between ethnic groups of different religions from the Iranian revolution and the Afghan struggle against the Soviets in the 1980s to the ongoing Middle East conflict, to pinpoint the ways in which religion has become intertwined in and lent legitimacy to conflicts in the contemporary world. Revival: The Mystic Rose (1960) Ernest Crawley, 2018-05-08 All
