The Famous Lady Lovers Cookie Woolner,2023-09-12 Black queer women have shaped American culture since long before the era of gay liberation Decades prior to the Stonewall Uprising in the 1920s and 1930s Black lady lovers as women who loved women were then called crafted a queer world In the cabarets rent parties speakeasies literary salons and universities of the Jazz Age and Great Depression communities of Black lady lovers grew and queer flirtations flourished Cookie Woolner here uncovers the intimate lives of performers writers and educators such as Bessie Smith Ethel Waters Gladys Bentley Alice Dunbar Nelson and Lucy Diggs Slowe along with the many everyday women she encountered in the archives Examining blues songs Black newspapers vice reports memoirs sexology case studies and more Woolner illuminates the unconventional lives Black lady lovers formed to suit their desires In the urban North as the Great Migration gave rise to increasingly racially mixed cities Black lady lovers fashioned and participated in emerging sexual subcultures During this time Black queer women came to represent anxieties about the deterioration of the heteronormative family Negotiating shifting notions of sexuality and respectability Black lady lovers strategically established queer networks built careers created families and were vital cultural contributors to the US interwar era

Toward a Feminist Theory of the State Catharine A. MacKinnon,1989 Toward a Feminist Theory of the State presents Catharine MacKinnon s powerful analysis of politics sexuality and the law from the perspective of women Using the debate over Marxism and feminism as a point of departure MacKinnon develops a theory of gender centered on sexual subordination and applies it to the state The result is an informed and compelling critique of inequality and a transformative vision of a direction for social change

Ready-to-Wear and Ready-to-Work Nancy L. Green, 1997-01-16 Nancy L Green offers a critical and lively look at New York's Seventh Avenue and the Parisian Sentier in this first comparative study of the two historical centers of the women's garment industry. Torn between mass production and art, this industry is one of the few manufacturing sectors left in the service-centered cities of today. Ready to Wear and Ready to Work tells the story of urban growth, the politics of labor, and the relationships among the many immigrant groups who have come to work the sewing machines over the last century. Green focuses on issues of fashion and fabrication as they involve both the production and consumption of clothing. Traditionally, much of the urban garment industry has been organized around small workshops and flexible homework, and Green emphasizes the effect this labor organization had on the men and mostly women who have sewn the garments. Whether considering the immigrant Jews, Italians, Puerto Ricans, Dominicans, and Chinese in New York, or the Chinese, Cambodians, Turks, Armenians, and Russian Polish and Tunisian Jews in Paris, she outlines similarities of social experience in the shops and the unions while allowing the voices of the workers in all their diversity to be heard. A provocative examination of gender and ethnicity, historical conflict and consensus, and notions of class and cultural difference, Ready to Wear and Ready to Work breaks new ground in the methodology of comparative history.

Beauty Regimes Genevieve Alva Clutario, 2023-02-13

Genevieve Alva Clutario traces how beauty and fashion in the Philippines shaped the intertwined projects of imperial expansion and modern nation building during the turbulent transition between Spanish, US, and Japanese empires. Desired States Lessie Jo Frazier, 2020-06-12 Desired States challenges the notion that in some cultures sex and sexuality have become privatized and located in individual subjectivity rather than in public political practices and institutions. Instead, the book contends that desire is a central aspect of political culture. Based on fieldwork and archival research, Frazier explores the gendered and sexualized dynamics of political culture in Chile, an imperialist context, asking how people connect with and become mobilized in political projects in some cases, or in others, become disaffected or are excluded to varying degrees. The book situates the state in a rich and changing context of transnational and localized movements, imperialist interests, geopolitical conflicts, and market forces to explore the broader struggles of desiring subjects, especially in those dimensions of life that are explicitly sexual and amorous: free love, movements, marriage, the sixties sexual revolution, in Cold War contexts, prostitution, policies, ideas about men's gratification, the charisma of leaders, and sexual domestic violence against women.

Sex, Sickness, and Slavery Marli F. Weiner, Mayzie Hough, 2012-06-21 This study of medical treatment in the antebellum South argues that Southern physicians' scientific training and practice uniquely entitled them to formulate medical justification for the imbalanced racial hierarchies of the period. Challenged with both helping to preserve the slave system by acknowledging and preserving clear distinctions of race and sex, and enhancing their own authority with correct medical diagnoses and effective treatment, doctors sought to understand bodies that did not necessarily fit into neat dichotomies or agree with suggested treatments. Expertly drawing the dynamic tensions during this period in which Southern culture and the demands of slavery often trumped science Weiner explores how doctors struggled with contradictions as medicine became a key arena for debate over the meanings of male and female sick and well black and white North and South

Fashioning Inland Communities Yaari Felber-Seligman, 2025 When viewed from the economic centers of the Indian or Atlantic Oceans the Ruvuma region of East Africa crossing what is now Tanzania Malawi and Mozambique would look like a periphery But the same factors that marginalize the region historically brought distinct opportunities In Fashioning Inland Communities Yaari Felber Seligman traces the long history from the first millennium CE into the twentieth century of Ruvuma trade practices within a changing world Felber Seligman argues that Ruvuma trade should be understood fundamentally as a set of voluntary choices undertaken and revised to further communities aspirations Ruvuma used fashion to build varied communities from local to pan regional reflecting the dynamic relationships among inland groups Examples of Ruvuma popular fashions reveal processes of meaning making and community building that call for us to expand our attention to the ways in which East African peoples interacted alongside as well as beyond trade networks that sourced prestige and commercial goods Popular culture here emerges as a heterarchical force that shaped lasting multidirectional connections across and between Ruvuma and their neighbors As both a subject and a strategy for analysis the history of popular fashion shifts how we view histories of small decentralized societies as they encounter larger economies Felber Seligman demonstrates that this has implications for our understanding not only of trade but of material culture community gender and family

The Routledge Handbook of the History and Sociology of Ideas Stefanos Geroulanos,Gisèle Sapiro,2023-09-26 The Routledge Handbook of the History and Sociology of Ideas establishes a new and comprehensive way of working in the history and sociology of ideas in order to obviate several longstanding gaps that have prevented a fruitful interdisciplinary and international dialogues Pushing global intellectual history forward it uses methodological innovations in the history of concepts gender history imperial history and history of normativity many of which have emerged out of intellectual history in recent years and it especially foregrounds the role of field theory for delimiting objects of study but also in studying transnational history and migration of persons and ideas The chapters also explore how intellectual history crosses the study of particular domains law politics economy science life sciences social and human sciences book history literature and emotions

Tiresian Poetics Ed Madden,2008 Blind seer articulate dead and mythic transsexual the figure of Tiresias has always represented a liminal identity and forms of knowledge associated with the crossing of epistemological and ontological boundaries In twentieth century literature the boundaries crossed and embodied by Tiresias are primarily sexual and the liminal and usually prophetic knowledge associated with Tiresias is based in sexual difference and sexual pleasure Indeed in literature of the twentieth century Tiresias has come to function as a cultural shorthand for queer sexualities This book argues for the emergence of a Tiresian poetics at the end of the nineteenth century As Victorian and modernist writers reimaged Ovid's tale of sex change and sexual judgment they also created a poetics that grounded artistic or performative power in figures of sexual difference most often a feminized often homosexual male body which this study links to the developing discourses of homosexuality and sexual identity

Curated Stories Sujatha Fernandes,2017-08-10 Storytelling has proliferated today from TED Talks and Humans of New York to a plethora of story coaching agencies and consultants Heartbreaking accounts of poverty mistreatment and struggle may move us deeply But what do they move us to do And what are the stakes in the crafting and use of storytelling In Curated Stories Sujatha Fernandes considers the rise of storytelling alongside the broader shift to neoliberal free market economies She argues that stories have been reconfigured to promote entrepreneurial self making and restructured as easily digestible soundbites mobilized toward utilitarian ends Fernandes roams the globe and returns with stories from the Afghan Women's Writing Project the domestic workers movement and the undocumented student Dreamer movement in the United States and the Misi n Cultura project in Venezuela She shows how the conditions under which certain stories are told the tropes through which they are narrated and the ways in which they are responded to may actually disguise the deeper contexts of global inequality Curated stories shift the focus away from structural problems and defuse the confrontational politics of social movements Not just a critical examination of the contemporary use of narrative and its wider impact on our collective understanding of pressing social issues Curated Stories also explores how storytelling might be reclaimed to allow for the complexity of experience to be expressed in pursuit of transformative social change
