Library Journal ,1998 Book Review Digest ,1999 Proceedings and Addresses of the American Philosophical Association American Philosophical Association,1998 List of members in v 1 Spirituality in Higher Education Sherry L. Hoppe,Bruce W. Speck,2005 This issue looks at spirituality in higher education through a number of lenses examining what many view as trend towards incorporating spirituality back into the lives of students faculty and administrators Questions about meaning and purpose are as old as humans and in the earliest days of higher education the search for truth was the ultimate journey of the student Over the decades though the academy has often shunned the spiritual aspect of a student's education. Whether that is to avoid controversy or to protect from acknowledging that all is not known, there is a predisposition to avoid talking about spirituality in the academy. Regardless, the result is the creation of what T. S. Eliot called hollow men who live in this world but do not know why they are here and thus do not know how to live their lives. This book is responding to a reawakening of desire to avoid such creatures. The issue's purpose, at least in a cursory way, is to look at spirituality in academe through a number of lenses. Composed of chapters from both faculty and administrators, this volume offers insight into the critical need for spirituality in educating the whole student while recognizing that how spirituality is viewed and taught and experienced is intensely personal. The goal is not to prescribe how spirituality should be integrated but to offer multiple options and perspectives. Not only will readers learn about the complex and vital role of spirituality; they will also be reminded that the quest for truth and meaning, not the destination, is what is vitally important in shaping discussions about spirituality. This is the 104th issue of the Jossey-Bass quarterly support series New Directions for Teaching and Learning.

Nueva sátira en la ficción postmodernista de las Américas Rosa María Díez Cobo, 2011-11-28. Aquest estudi es proposa recuperar la sàtira de la tradicional postergada a què s'ha vist sotmesa en els últims temps. En contrast amb les tendències crítiques que han proclamat la decadència del satíric dins de la narrativa contemporània, es pot afirmar que la sàtira ha experimentat un ressorgiment ja que s'ha trobat mai una manera inestable i alliberada d'anys prescripcions teòriques. A fi de demostrar aquest plantejament, aquest estudi enfoca la qüestió des d'una perspectiva comparatista que aborda l'anàlisi del rellevant paper exercit pel satíric en narratives postmodernistes de diferents procedències dins del marc cultural de les Amèriques. D'aquesta manera s'endinsa necessàriament en temes referents a la complexitat de les relacions Nord i Sud en l'àmbit de la teoria literària dins de l'espai americà.

Recalling Education Hugh Mercer Curtler, 2001. In this searching and relentlessly logical critique, a distinguished professor of philosophy argues that the purpose of education, enabling students to achieve intellectual autonomy, has been largely forgotten. Hugh Mercer Curtler challenges prevailing myths about education and indoctrination, explains the significance of a proper understanding of education in a democracy, and offers recommendations to reverse current trends.

Postmodern Perception of Ethics in Contemporary American Science Fiction Novel Firuze Güzel, John Barth and Postmodernism Berndt Clavier, 2007. John Barth's eminence as a postmodernist is indisputable. However, much of the criticism dealing with his work is prompted by his own theories of exhaustion and subsequent replenishment, leaving his writing relatively untouched by theories of postmodernism in general. This book changes that by focusing on the relationship between Barth's aesthetic and the ideology critique of the historical avant-gardes, which were the first to mobilize art against itself and its institutional practices and demands. Examining Barth's metafictional parodies in the light of theories of space and subjectivity, Clavier engages the question of ideology critique in postmodernism by offering the montage as a possible model for understanding Barth's fiction. In such a light, postmodernism may well be perceived as a mimesis of reality, particularly a recognition of the collective nature of self and the world
