Data Bases and Data Base Systems Related to NASA's Aerospace Program, 1983 China: Fragile Superpower Susan L. Shirk, 2007-04-16 Once a sleeping giant China today is the world's fastest growing economy the leading manufacturer of cell phones laptop computers and digital cameras a dramatic turn around that alarms many Westerners But in China The Fragile Superpower Susan L Shirk opens up the black box of Chinese politics and finds that the real danger lies elsewhere not in China's astonishing growth but in the deep insecurity of its leaders China's leaders face a troubling paradox the more developed and prosperous the country becomes the more insecure and threatened they feel Shirk a former Deputy Assistant Secretary of State responsible for China knows many of today's Chinese rulers personally and has studied them for three decades She offers invaluable insight into how they think and what they fear In this revealing book readers see the world through the eyes of men like President Hu Jintao and former President Jiang Zemin We discover a fragile communist regime desperate to survive in a society turned upside down by miraculous economic growth and a stunning new openness to the greater world. Indeed ever since the 1989 pro democracy protests in Tiananmen Square and the fall of communism in the Soviet Union Chinese leaders have been haunted by the fear that their days in power are numbered. There is a regime afraid of its own citizens and this fear motivates many of their decisions when dealing with the U S and other foreign nations. In particular the fervent nationalism of the Chinese people combined with their passionate resentment of Japan and attachment to Taiwan have made relations with these two regions a minefield. It is here Shirk concludes in the tangled interactions between Japan Taiwan China and the United States that the greatest danger lies. Shirk argues that rising powers such as China tend to provoke wars in large part because other countries mishandle them. Unless we understand China's brittle internal politics and the fears that motivate its leaders we face the very real possibility of avoidable conflict with China. This book provides that Eastern European Jewish immigrants are often credited with building a film industry during the first decade of the twentieth century that they dominated by the 1920s. In this study Steven Carr reconceptualizes Jewish involvement in Hollywood by examining prevalent attitudes towards Jews among American audiences. Analogous to the Jewish Question of the nineteenth century which was concerned with the full participation of Jews within public life the Hollywood Question of the 1920s 30s and 40s addressed the Jewish population within mass media. This study reveals the powerful set of assumptions concerning ethnicity and media influence as related to the role of the Jew in the motion picture industry. American Motorcyclist , 2001-02 American Motorcyclist magazine the official journal of the American
