Reeds Promise:

The Promise of the West Mary Barmeyer O'Brien,2015-10-05 Driven by the promise of prosperity and opportunity on the frontier thousands of men and women traveled west in the mid 1800s to forge a new life Accompanying them were their children wide eyed and excited about the adventures that awaited them as they headed toward the setting sun Little did they know how treacherous and grueling the trip would be The toil and danger of overland travel forced parents to depend on their children to assist in their ultimate survival Girls were called upon to help cook set up and break camp and mind younger siblings Boys were called upon to help drive the wagons herd the oxen and horses assist with wagon repairs and guard the camp at night Even with their endless chores many pioneer boys and girls found time to record the details of their journeys in letters and diaries This collection of short episodes from the lives of these children on the trail offers fresh perspectives on the experience California. Ferdinand Werne, Discoveries and conquests which so frequently go hand in hand are of the greatest importance to the history of mankind Like a combination of streams they break through natural boundaries and the rocky dams of ages and open a way for the incessant progress of civilization through new and untrodden paths Yet glorious enterprises costly equipments and hazardous exploits may conceal a swelling kernel of material interest beneath a husk of fine reasons as if these constituted the primitive motive Thus Mohammed Ali the Viceroy of Egypt has done very much for science especially geography without even thinking of it whose comprehensive relations with respect to the higher requirements of mankind lie far beyond the limits of his ideas Neither has he honoured with his study the hieroglyphics in the Biban el Moluk near Thebes where the black Kushi bring golden rings as tribute to the Pharaohs Yet he knows and is so exceedingly fond of these rings Oki n which in Ethiopia even now serve instead of money that so far as the destroying arms of this much famed satrap reach in Belled Sudan no more oki n are to be seen Moreover he is making exertions to follow and secure those that have retreated and eluded his grasp which affords an excellent opportunity for extending our knowledge of the countries and people of East and Central Africa He sacrificed his son Ismail and through the Deftardar devastated and depopulated this beautiful country merely to secure to himself the way to the gold regions though he might have attained his object much better had he sought to elevate the country in every possible way and to re-establish mercantile confidence For from the earliest ages a market has existed here to which gold comes first hand in the leaf and grain form by barter with the inhabitants of the interior just as it has been separated from the sand of the torrents and kept in quills or horns of the gazelle In Sennaar or Kordofan it is found in rings of half and whole oki n and in gold wire but it is frequently changed by weighing and melting it down into ingots or bars which Mohammed Ali just as little contemns But Turks in this one word is included all and every answer to questions on the condition of the people We shrug up our shoulders and say Turks Whoever has lived some time amongst them must from the clearest conviction confess the perfect incapacity of these Turks for advancing and civilizing the countries under their government and their indifference to the interests nay even their premeditated murder of the nations infested by them The complete depravity of the Asiatic world even in the lifeless and powerless form of a mass dissolved in corrupt fermentation always effervesces strongly into cruelty with the wide spread barbarians of the East and displays itself in bestial vices to the disgrace of mankind and scorn of the sacred bond of nations A truly savage nature is theirs which from Montenegro to the east and south repels all western civilization and would seek a kind of national fame by ridiculous reactions against it as a hated and even despised foreign state of manners and life in order to cover their nakedness and infamy and to cloak their empty ostentation But the Turk of Egypt is the outcast of his countryman in Turkey itself Egypt for example is so decried in Albania on account of its corruption that the Arnaut returning from thence seldom obtains a wife even if he have his girdle full of red gold Post-Romantic Predicament Paul de Man,2012-04-04 The first collection of texts by Paul de Man to follow the posthumous Aesthetic Ideology 1996 the title refers to de Man s Harvard thesis of the late 1950s from which the long section on Mallarme is reproduced Also included are texts by de Man on Ste California.
