First Hundred Years Ally Acker is the director of the ten part archival program series Filmmakers on Film Reader's Guide to Women's Studies Eleanor Amico, 1998-03-20 The Reader's Guide to Women's Studies is a searching and analytical description of the most prominent and influential works written in the now universal field of women's studies. Some 200 scholars have contributed to the project which adopts a multi-layered approach allowing for comprehensive treatment of its subject matter. Entries range from very broad themes such as Health General Works to entries on specific individuals or more focused topics such as Doctors.

Doing Women's Film History Christine Gledhill, Julia Knight, 2015-10-30 Research into and around women's participation in cinematic history has enjoyed dynamic growth over the past decade. A broadening of scope and interests encompasses not only different kinds of filmmaking mainstream fiction experimental and documentary but also practices publicity journalism distribution and exhibition seldom explored in the past. Cutting edge and inclusive Doing Women's Film History ventures into topics in the United States and Europe while also moving beyond to explore the influence of women on the cinemas of India Chile Turkey Russia and Australia. Contributors grapple with historiographic questions that cover film history from the pioneering era to the present day. Yet the writers also address the very mission of practicing scholarship. Essays explore essential issues like identifying women's participation in their cinema cultures locating previously unconsidered sources of evidence developing methodologies and analytical concepts to reveal the impact of gender on film production distribution and reception and reframing film history to accommodate new questions and approaches. Contributors include Kay Armatage Eylem Atakav Karina Aveyard Canan Balan C. Chich Monica Dall Asta Eliza Anna Delveroudi Jane M. Gaines Christine Gledhill Julia Knight Neepa Majumdar Michele Leigh Luke McKernan Debashree Mukherjee Giuliana Muscio Katarzyna Paszkiewicz Rashmi Sawhney Elizabeth Ramirez Soto Sarah Street and Kimberly Tomadjoglou.

Women Film Directors Gwendolyn A. Foster, 1995-11-14 Until now there hasn't been one single volume authoritative reference work on the history of women in film highlighting nearly every woman filmmaker from the dawn of cinema including Alice Guy France 1896 Chantal Akerman Belgium Penny Marshall U.S. and Sally Potter U.K. Every effort has been made to include every kind of woman filmmaker commercial and mainstream avant garde and minority and to give a complete cross section of the work of these remarkable women. Scholars and students of film popular culture Women's Studies and International Studies as well as film buffs will learn much from this work. The Dictionary covers the careers of nearly 200 women filmmakers giving vital statistics where available listings of films directed by these women and selected bibliographies for further reading. This is a one volume one stop resource a comprehensive up to date guide that is absolutely essential for any course offering an overview or survey of women's cinema. It offers not only all available statistics but critical evaluations of the filmmakers work as well. In order to keep the length manageable this volume focuses on women who direct fictional narrative films with occasional forays into the area of the documentary and is limited to film production rather than video production.

Wandering Women in French Film and Literature Mariah Devereux Herbeck, 2013-10-02 How and when can a narrative agent or voice be considered unreliable What happens when narrative authority fails and just as importantly why does it As a means to answering these questions Wandering Women in French Film and Literature examines the phenomenon of narrative drift through in depth analysis of twentieth century novels and films

The SAGE Handbook of Film Studies James Donald, Michael Renov, 2008-04-16 Written by a team of veteran scholars and exciting emerging talents The SAGE Handbook of Film Studies maps the field internationally drawing out regional differences in the way that systematic intellectual reflection on cinema and film has been translated into an academic discipline It examines the conversations between Film Studies and its contributory disciplines that not only defined a new field of discourse but also modified existing scholarly traditions It reflects on the field's dominant paradigms and debates and evaluates their continuing salience Finally it looks forward optimistically to the future of the medium of film the institution of cinema and the discipline of Film Studies at a time when the very existence of film and cinema are being called into question by new technological industrial and aesthetic developments

Focus On: 100 Most Popular English-language Film Directors Wikipedia contributors, A Short History of Film, Third Edition Wheeler Winston Dixon, Gwendolyn Audrey Foster, 2018-03-30 With more than 250 images new information on international cinema especially Polish Chinese Russian Canadian and Iranian filmmakers an expanded section on African American filmmakers updated discussions of new works by major American directors and a new section on the rise of comic book movies and computer generated special effects this is the most up to date resource for film history courses in the twenty first century

A Short History of Film Wheeler Winston Dixon, Gwendolyn Audrey Foster, 2008-03-01 The history of international cinema is now available in a concise conveniently sized and affordable volume Succinct yet comprehensive A Short History of Film provides an accessible overview of the major movements directors studios and genres from the 1880s to the present More than 250 rare stills and illustrations accompany the text bringing readers face to face with many of the key players and films that have marked the industry Beginning with precursors of what we call moving pictures Wheeler Winston Dixon and Gwendolyn Audrey Foster lead a fast paced tour through the invention of the kinetoscope the introduction of sound and color between the two world wars and ultimately the computer generated imagery of the present day They detail significant periods in world cinema including the early major industries in Europe the dominance of the Hollywood studio system in the 1930s and 1940s and the French New Wave of the 1960s Special attention is also given to small independent efforts in developing nations and the corresponding more personal independent film movement that briefly flourished in the United States the significant filmmakers of all nations censorship and regulation and how they have affected production everywhere and a wide range of studios and genres Along the way the authors take great care to incorporate the stories of women and other minority filmmakers who have often been overlooked in other texts Compact and easily readable this is the best one stop source for the history of world film available to students teachers and general audiences alike The Silent Cinema Reader Lee Grieveson, Peter Krämer, 2004 The Silent Cinema Reader brings together key writings on cinema from the beginnings of film in 1894 to the advent of sound in 1927 addressing the development of film production and exhibition technologies methods of distribution film form and film culture during this critical period on film history Thematic sections address film projection and variety shows storytelling and the Nickelodeon cinema and reform feature films and cinema programs classical Hollywood cinema and European national cinemas Each section is introduced by the editors and contains suggestions for further readings and film viewings

Women Filmmakers in Early Hollywood Karen Ward Mahar, 2008-08-25 A study of how and why women in early twentieth century Hollywood went from having plenty of filmmaking opportunities to very few Women Filmmakers in Early Hollywood explores when how and why women were accepted as filmmakers in the 1910s and why by the 1920s those opportunities had disappeared In looking at the early film industry as an industry a place of work Mahar not only unravels the mystery of the disappearing female filmmaker but untangles the complicated relationship among gender work culture and business within modern industrial organizations In the early 1910s the film industry followed a theatrical model fostering an egalitarian work culture in which everyone male and female helped behind the scenes in a variety of jobs In this culture women thrived in powerful creative roles especially as writers directors and producers By the end of that decade however mushrooming star salaries and skyrocketing movie budgets prompted the creation of the studio system As the movie industry remade itself in the image of a modern American business the masculinization of filmmaking took root Mahar s study integrates feminist methodologies of examining the gendering of work with thorough historical scholarship of American industry and business culture Tracing the transformation of the film industry into a legitimate big business of the 1920s and explaining the fate of the female filmmaker during the silent era Mahar demonstrates how industrial growth and change can unexpectedly open and close opportunities for women With meticulous scholarship and fluid writing Mahar tells the story of this golden era of female filmmaking Women Filmmakers in Early Hollywood is not to be missed Samantha Barbas Women's Review of Books Mahar views the business of making movies from the inside out focusing on questions about changing industrial models and work conventions At her best she shows how the industry's shifting business history impacted women's opportunities recasting current understanding about the American film industry's development Hilary Hallett Reviews in American History A scrupulously researched and argued analysis of how and why women made great professional and artistic gains in the U S film industry from 1906 to the mid 1920s and why they lost most of that ground until the late twentieth century Kathleen Feeley Journal of American History Women Filmmakers in Early Hollywood offers convincing evidence of how economic forces shaped women's access to film production and presents a complex and engaging story of the women who took advantage of those opportunities Pennee Bender Business History Review Experimental Cinema Wheeler W. Dixon, Gwendolyn Audrey Foster, 2002 Brings together key writings on American avant garde cinema to explore the long tradition of underground filmmaking from its origins in the 1920s to the work of contemporary film and video artists Vanishing Women Karen Redrobe Beckman, 2003-04 Disappearing women as a persistent trope from nineteenth century magic through contemporary theory film and psychoanalysis
