

Hungary. Fortunately, before its departure from the United States, it was microfilmed and deposited in the Library of the American Hungarian (Studies) Foundation of New Brunswick, New Jersey.

In addition to collecting sources, Vasváry was also involved in writing. He authored thousands of short articles for various Hungarian-American periodicals and newspapers, such as the Szabadság (Liberty), the Amerikai Magyar Népszava (American Hungarian People's Voice), and the Amerikai Magyar Világ (American Hungarian World). Most of these writings are unavailable to the average researcher, for they were never published in book-form. The only exceptions are a few of his earlier English language articles on Hungarian participation in the American Civil War, which appeared in a volume under the title Lincoln's Hungarian Heroes in 1939.⁴³

Besides Pivány, Feleky and Vasváry, the only other well-known Hungarian-American who assembled a respectable "Hungarica" collection in the United States during the interwar period was Joseph Reményi (1892–1956), a Professor of Comparative Literature at Western Reserve University (Cleveland, Ohio) for nearly three decades, one of the most noted popularizers of Hungarian literature in North America.⁴⁴ After Reményi's death in 1956, his collection went to the Library of the American Hungarian (Studies) Foundation (New Brunswick).

During the post-World War II decades, and especially since the 1960s and 1970s, numerous other "Hungarica" collections also came into being in North America. Some of these collections are held by private organizations, others by public and university libraries, and still others by private collectors whose number has grown steadily in the course of the past two decades.

Hungarian-American Libraries and Archives Today

The largest Hungarian-American collection in the United States today is the Library of the American Hungarian (Studies) Foundation, directed since its inception by August J. Molnár. The Library's holdings now exceed 35,000 volumes, a sizable portion of which is related to the Hungarian-American past and culture. It also has a large collection of archival materials, which grows day after day, but remains largely uncatalogued and therefore difficult to use.⁴⁵

Of almost equal size is the Library of the Hungarian Cultural Center of Toronto, Canada. Its archival collection, however, is much smaller and its book collection contains many duplicates and thousands of volumes that have nothing to do with Hungary and Hungarian-Americans.⁴⁶ Smaller collections are held by the Hungarian Cultural Foundation of Atlanta, Georgia; the California Hungarian American Cultural Foundation of Northridge; the Hungarian Scout Association of Garfield, New Jersey; and the American Hungarian Library and Historical Association of New York City. The Hungarian-American collection of the Immigration History Research Center of the University of Minnesota, the Library of Congress, the New York Public Library, the Cleveland Public Library, and the libraries of such major universities as Columbia
