The Boy-Man, Masculinity and Immaturity in the Long Nineteenth Century Pete

Newbon, 2018-09-04 This book explores the evolution of male writers marked by peculiar traits of childlike immaturity The Boy Man emerged from the nexus of Rousseau's counter Enlightenment cultural primitivism Sensibility's Man of Feeling the Chattertonian poet maudit and the Romantic idealisation of childhood The Romantic era saw the proliferation of boy men who congregated around such metropolitan institutions as The London Magazine These included John Keats Leigh Hunt Charles Lamb Hartley Coleridge Thomas De Quincey and Thomas Hood In the period of the French Revolution terms of childishness were used against such writers as Wordsworth Keats Hunt and Lamb as a tool of political satire Yet boy men writers conversely used their amphibian child-adult literary personae to critique the masculinist ideologies of their era However the growing cultural and political conservatism of the nineteenth century and the emergence of a canon of serious literature inculcated the relegation of the boy men from the republic of letters diversity not only of genre or setting but of themes and aspects of human life The contrasts of the personal and the political of romance and friendship of the sacred and the secular Life is like a collection of short stories Each page turns into a different dimension and a different setting No two short stories just like the real life they represent are alike The Little Red Book of Hunter's Wisdom Graham Moore, Peter J.
