Transcultural Memory and Globalised Modernity in Contemporary Indo-English Novels Nadia Butt, 2015-09-14 This book places transcultural memory in the South Asian cultural and literary context Divided into two parts the book first defines transcultural memory in the age of globalised modernity both as a theory and social practice Then it examines contemporary Indo English novels from India and Pakistan with the theoretical and methodological tool of transcultural memory to shed new light on the connection between memory and modernity and memory and South Asian cultures in the wake of new social and political transformations on the Indian subcontinent A special focus on commemorative tropes in the novels not only show the possibility of a dialogue with different versions of the past but also how such a dialogue shapes processes of remembrance between and beyond borders Hence the books comes up with alternative ways of reading the Indo English novels divesting the concept of trans cultural memory from its Euro centrism and claiming it as equally significant in comprehending the new configurations of memory and modernity in non Western locations

Ghosts of the African

Diaspora Joanne Chassot, 2018-01-02 The first monograph to investigate the poetics and politics of haunting in African diaspora literature Ghosts of the African Diaspora Re-Visioning History Memory and Identity examines literary works by five contemporary writers Fred D Aguiar Gloria Naylor Paule Marshall Michelle Cliff and Toni Morrison Joanne Chassot argues that reading these texts through the lens of the ghost does cultural theoretical and political work crucial to the writers engagement with issues of identity memory and history Drawing on memory and trauma studies postcolonial studies and queer theory this truly interdisciplinary volume makes an important contribution to the fast growing field of spectrality studies Lines Review ,1995 Exhibiting Slavery Vivian Nun Halloran, 2009-09-22 Exhibiting Slavery examines the ways in which Caribbean postmodern historical novels about slavery written in Spanish English and French function as virtual museums simultaneously showcasing and curating a collection of primary documents within their pages As Vivian Nun Halloran attests these novels highlight narrative objects extraneous to their plot such as excerpts from the work of earlier writers allusions to specific works of art the uniforms of maroon armies assembled in preparation of a military offensive and accounts of slavery's negative impact on the traditional family unit in Africa or the United States In doing so they demand that their readers go beyond the pages of the books to sort out fact from fiction and consider what relationship these featured objects have to slavery and to contemporary life The self-referential function of these texts produces a museum effect that simultaneously teaches and entertains their readers prompting them to continue their own research beyond and outside the text The 1990s: A Decade of Contemporary British Fiction Nick Hubble, Philip Tew, Leigh Wilson, 2015-05-21 How did social cultural and political events in Britain during the 1990s shape contemporary British Fiction From the fall of the Berlin Wall to the turn of the millennium the 1990s witnessed a realignment of global politics Against the changing international scene this volume uses events abroad and in Britain to examine and explain the changes taking place in British fiction including the celebration of national identities fuelled by the move toward political devolution in Northern Ireland Scotland and Wales the literary optimism in urban ethnic fictions written by a new generation of authors born and raised in Britain the popularity of neo-Victorian fiction Critical surveys are balanced by in-depth readings of work by the authors who defined the decade including A S Byatt Hanif Kureishi Will Self Caryl Phillips and Irvine Welsh an approach that illustrates exactly how their key themes and concerns fit within the social and political circumstances of the decade The New York Times Index ,1995 Black Subjects Arlene Keizer, 2018-08-06 Writers as diverse as Carolivia Herron Charles Johnson Paule Marshall Toni Morrison and Derek Walcott have addressed the history of slavery in their literary works In this groundbreaking new book Arlene R Keizer contends that these writers theorize the nature and formation of the black subject and engage established theories of subjectivity in their fiction and drama by using slave characters and the condition of slavery as focal points In this book Keizer examines theories derived from fictional works in light of more established theories of subject formation such as psychoanalysis Althusserian interpellation performance theory and theories about the formation of postmodern subjects under late capitalism Black Subjects shows how African American and Caribbean writers theories of identity formation which arise from the varieties of black experience re imagined in fiction force a reconsideration of the conceptual bases of established theories of subjectivity The striking connections Keizer draws between these two bodies of theory contribute significantly to African American and Caribbean Studies literary theory and critical race and ethnic studies
