Letter Writing in Late Modern Europe Marina Dossena, Gabriella Del Lungo Camiciotti, 2012 In recent years there has been a renewed interest in correspondence both as a literary genre and as cultural practice and several studies have appeared mainly spanning the centuries between Early and Late Modern times However it is between the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries that the roots of contemporary usage begin to evolve thanks to the circulation of new educational materials and more widespread schooling practices In this volume chapters representing diverse but complementary methodological approaches discuss linguistic and discursive practices of correspondence in Late Modern Europe in order to offer material for the comparative cross linguistic analyses of patterns occurring in different social contexts The volume aims to provide a general and solid methodological structure for the study of largely untapped language material from a variety of comparable sources and is expected to appeal to scholars and students interested in the linguistic history of epistolary writing practices as well as to all those interested in the more recent history of European languages

Morale and Discipline in the Royal Navy during the First World War Laura Rowe, 2018-08-30 In contrast to the voluminous literature on trench warfare few scholarly works have been written on how the First World War was experienced at sea The conditions of war challenged the Royal Navy s position within British national identity and its own service ethos This challenge took the form of a dialogue fuelled by fear of civil unrest between the discourses of paternalism from above and democratism from below Laura Rowe explores issues of morale and discipline using the contemporary language of discipline to shed light on key questions of how the service was able to absorb indiscipline with marked success through a subtle web of loyalties history ethos traditions and customs which were rooted in older notions of service but moulded by the new conditions of total war In so doing she provides not only a new methodological framework for understanding morale but also military discipline and leadership
