Lost Time Cafe:

The Novel and Europe Andrew Hammond, 2016-10-05 This book examines the ways in which fiction has addressed the continent since the Second World War Drawing on novelists from Europe and elsewhere the volume analyzes the literary response to seven dominant concerns ideas of Europe conflict borders empire unification migration and marginalization offering a ground breaking study of how modern and contemporary writers have participated in the European debate The sixteen essays view the chosen writers not as representatives of national literatures but as participants in transcontinental discussion that has occurred across borders cultures and languages In doing so the contributors raise questions about the forms of power operating across and radiating from Europe challenging both the institutionalized divisions of the Cold War and the triumphalist narrative of continental unity currently being written in Brussels Amirosian Nights D. Kristian Shaw, 2021-07-29 Britain's vote to leave the European Union in the summer of 2016 came as a shock to many observers But writers had long been exploring anxieties and fractures in British society from Euroscepticism to immigration to devolution to post truth narratives that came to the fore in the Brexit campaign and its aftermath Reading these tensions back into contemporary British writing Kristian Shaw coins the term Brexlit to deliver the first in depth study of how writers engaged with these issues before and after the referendum result Examining the work of over a hundred British authors including Julian Barnes Jonathan Coe Kazuo Ishiguro and Ali Smith as well as popular fiction by Andrew Marr and Stanley Johnson Brexlit explores how a new and urgent genre of post Brexit fiction is beginning to emerge Cafe Wisconsin Joanne
