Market State And Feminism:

Market, State and Feminism Sue Hatt, Linda Watson-Brown, 2000-01-01 This text offers an interdisciplinary critique of the free market backlash the view that free market economics can improve the position status and well being of women The Interplay Between Gender, Markets and the State in Sweden, Germany and the United States Lilja Mosesdottir, 2024-11-01 This title was first published in 2001 The development of gender relations during the post war period in Sweden Germany and the US forms the core of this work It looks at the hierarchical relations between men and women based on economic political social and biological differentiations The analytical focus is primarily on how actors cultural norms and institutional arrangements interrelate and affect the relative position of men and women to create patterns forms of gender relations that vary across countries and change through time The main advantages of a comparative study is that it highlights the differences and similarities of the countries being compared This book argues that social blocks involving a stable system of relations that have challenged and become embedded into institutional arrangements are the main force creating differences in the patterns of gender relations across the countries The Oxford Handbook of Feminist Theory Lisa Disch, Mary Hawkesworth, 2018-02-01 The Oxford Handbook of Feminist Theory provides a rich overview of the analytical frameworks and theoretical concepts that feminist theorists have developed to analyze the known world Featuring leading feminist theorists from diverse regions of the globe this collection delves into forty nine subject areas demonstrating the complexity of feminist challenges to established knowledge while also engaging areas of contestation within feminist theory Demonstrating the interdisciplinary nature of feminist theory the chapters offer innovative analyses of topics central to social and political science cultural studies and humanities discourses associated with medicine and science and issues in contemporary critical theory that have been transformed through feminist theorization The handbook identifies limitations of key epistemic assumptions that inform traditional scholarship and shows how theorizing from women s and men s lives has profound effects on the conceptualization of central categories whether the field of analysis is aesthetics biology cultural studies development economics film studies health history literature politics religion science studies sexualities violence or war Contemporary Gender Transformations in South Asia Reazul Haque, 2025-06-30 Reazul Haque presents an insightful exploration into how modern gender expressions in South Asia resist traditional archetypes and adapt to contemporary social shifts

Globalization and Feminist Activism Mary E. Hawkesworth, 2018-06-15 This thoroughly updated edition provides a comprehensive overview of two centuries of transnational feminist efforts to produce a more just global order Mary Hawkesworth explores how social economic and political inequalities between men and women of different races classes ethnicities and nationalities have been transformed over two centuries of globalization Drawing on historical and contemporary examples she demonstrates how women have forged international networks and alliances to address specific women s issues beyond the borders of the nation state crafting policies to mitigate pressing abuses and devising alternatives to liberal and neo liberal agendas The book considers innovative feminist tactics to produce global change carefully tracing the structural forces that constrain transnational feminist activism Hawkesworth illuminates the complexity of feminist strategies to influence international agencies and foundations national governments and transnational NGOs By providing critical new insights into the gendered nature of the global system and the gendered dynamics of international institutions and nation states this work will be invaluable for all those engaged in the interdisciplinary fields of globalization studies and feminist studies

Reframing Political Communication and Media Practices in the Middle East and North Africa

Dina Matar, 2025-06-26 A decade on from the Arab uprisings debates continue to reiterate exceptionalist discourses about the region and its peoples which tend to deny individual agency They also neglect long collective histories of mediated political cultures that have emerged within colonial and post colonial structures and outside peripheries of formal power and politics This book problematizes the relationship between politics and communication in the Middle East and North Africa region paying attention to the diversity of communicative forms and political practices outside formal institutions and structures while remaining conscious of the power dynamics within institutional practices Examining political communication in Palestine Lebanon Egypt Morocco Iraq Syria Turkey Tunisia and Iran the book's chapters challenge Western centric theories and methodologies that dominate the broad field of political communication by reframing the discussions to include the politics of the marginal or the peripheral the informal and the grassroots

Chinese Modernity and Socialist Feminist Theory Shaopeng Song, 2022-08-16 This book assembles translations of the work of leading critical socialist feminist Song Shaopeng presenting a concise narrative which theorizes China's political and social development through a gendered lens Providing insightful editor introductions the book explores poignant themes from the late imperial to the contemporary eras to examine the evolution of Chinese socialist feminism This includes analysis of the relationship between the party state and the women's movement the gains and losses of collectivism for women's liberation and the inadequacy of contemporary gender studies in China at addressing the ongoing influence of political economy on the lives of women in China Offering a succinct exploration of the historical and theoretical context of Song Shaopeng's writings this book will be a valuable resource for students and scholars of Chinese history and politics as well as those of Chinese feminism and intellectual history

States, Markets, Families Julia S. O'Connor, Ann Shola Orloff, Sheila Shaver, 1999-01-28 The 1990s have seen dramatic restructuring of state social provision in the US the UK Canada and Australia This has occurred largely because of the rise of market liberalism which challenges the role of the state This important book examines the impact of changes in social policy regimes on gender roles and relations Structured thematically and systematically comparative it analyses three key policy areas labor markets income maintenance and reproductive rights Largely driven by issues of equality it considers the role of the state as a site for gender and sexual politics at a time when primacy is given to the market developing an argument about social citizenship in the process Eminent scholars in the field Julia O'Connor Ann Orloff and Sheila Shaver make a landmark contribution to debates about social policy and gender relations in this era of economic restructuring and deregulation

Feminisms in the Nordic Region Suvi Keskinen, Pauline Stoltz, Diana Mulinari, 2020-11-30 This book explores how feminist movements in the Nordic region challenge the increasing gender race and class inequalities following the global economic crisis neoliberal capitalism and austerity politics and how they position themselves in the face of the rise of nationalism and right wing populism The book contextualizes these recent events in the long histories of racial and colonial power relations embedded in Nordic societies and their gender equality and welfare state regimes It examines the role of whiteness and racism and seeks to decolonize feminist knowledge and genealogies of feminist movements in the region The contributions provide in depth knowledge on the different orientations dilemmas and tactics that feminisms develop in these challenging times and show the centrality of antiracist and decolonizing critiques of feminisms They further highlight the strategies of feminist and related antiracist and indigenous movements in regards to ideas about hope solidarity intersectionality and social justice Chapters 6 7 9 and 10 are available open access under a Creative Commons Attribution 4 0 International License via link springer.com

Women, Money, and Political Participation in the Middle East Bozena C. Welborne, 2022-08-10 This book examines women money and political participation in the Middle East and North Africa focusing on women s capacity to engage local political systems In particular it considers whether and how this engagement is facilitated through specific types of financial flows from abroad Arab countries are well known rentier states and so a prime destination for foreign aid worker remittances and oil related investment Alongside other factors these external monies have elicited dramatic shifts in gender related social norms and expectations both from the state and the domestic population affording certain women the opportunity to enter the political arena while leaving others behind The research presented here expands the discussion of women in rentier political economy and highlights their roles as participants and agents within regional templates for economic development

Globalization and Education Nicholas C. Burbules, Carlos Alberto Torres, 2013-12-16 First Published in 2000 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Education and Social Change in China: Inequality in a Market Economy Gerard A. Postiglione, 2015-01-28 Market reform financial decentralization and economic globalization have greatly accentuated China's social and regional inequalities Education is expected to address these inequalities in a context of rapid social change including the rise of an urban middle class changed status of women resurgence of ethnic identities growing rural to urban migration and lingering poverty in remote areas But some argue that state policies have not sufficiently addressed inequitable practices and that schools actually perpetuate and reproduce inequities giving rise to a new system of social stratification driven more by market forces than socialist principles Featuring all original previously unpublished material this volume examines this argument through analysis of selected aspects of educational stratification in China during the reform era Chapters focus on the new urban middle class poor rural residents the migrant population in urban areas rural girls and ethnic minorities The contributors are established scholars in the field and they build a conceptual framework for assessing the degree to which China's educational reforms are inclusive equitable and integrative across social categories and groups Handbook of Feminisms in Japan Andrea Germer, Ulrike Wöhr, 2025-10-01 The Handbook of Feminisms in Japan seeks to give a broad and even without prior knowledge of Japan easily accessible introduction to a range of feminisms in this non Western context With a useful comparative framework it aims to advance transnational and international perspectives on feminisms around the world It identifies discourses theoretical positions and areas of feminist activity or intervention that readily correspond with those of feminisms in other countries presenting chapters on topics such as radical feminism maternalism anarchism literature religion and pornography but it also includes entries on specific historical and socio cultural configurations such as Japan's women's liberation movement Uman Ribu Building on a growing body of erudite scholarship in Japanese English and other languages each chapter succinctly traces historical developments of particular discourses or movements and situates them in the local political and societal context while also making reference to the wider Asian and global contexts The authors identify the central actors and discuss the theoretical implications and political dimensions of particular feminisms or aspects of feminism in Japan The discussion in each chapter is based on relevant primary and secondary sources thus introducing the reader to material for further reading and research Feminist Policymaking in Turbulent Times Hannah Partis-Jennings, Clara Eroukhmanoff, 2024-05-31 Feminist Policymaking in Turbulent Times offers a unique and timely reflection of the critical debates around the institutionalisation of feminist and gender focused ideas and norms into policy Many states and non governmental organisations are increasingly invested in feminist policymaking at the domestic and international levels Yet this liberal feminist agenda is also vastly disputed by critical intersectional and decolonial voices on the one hand and by anti gender movements around the world on the other hand Indeed while opposition to gender ideology is mounting from reactionary religious and secular forces feminist policymaking is also being challenged in important ways from within Thus this book situates feminist policymaking in a challenging and turbulent global context This book explores feminist policymaking in multiple areas of policy examining various gender focused programmes that states and international organisations have undertaken in the last decade offering critical interventions and rethinking the relationship between feminism and policy This book not only reflects on the advances of feminist policymaking globally but also critically assesses the intersectional challenges embedded within it and lying ahead It moves the field forward by creating opportunities based on lived experiences for re imagining the transformative potential of the nexus between feminism and policymaking Interdisciplinary in scope and bringing to the fore the voices of both academics and practitioners this book is the product of an international collaboration forging links and dialogue that are increasingly necessary to question some of the exclusionary militaristic and hierarchical assumptions of policymaking which is labelled as feminist Feminist Policymaking in Turbulent Times will be of interest to all scholars students and practitioners interested in the role of gender in policymaking and concerned with contestations around gender focused projects

Brexit Geographies Mark Boyle, Ronan Paddison, Peter Shirlow, 2020-06-29 This comprehensive volume explores the political social economic and geographical implications of Brexit within the context of an already divided UK state It demonstrates how support for Brexit not only sharpened differences within England and between the separate nations comprising the UK state but also reflected how austerity politics against which the referendum was conducted impacted differently with north and south urban and rural becoming embroiled in the Leave vote This book explores how as the process of negotiating the secession of the UK from the EU was to demonstrate the seemingly intractable problem of the Irish border and the need to maintain a soft border provided a continuing obstacle to a smooth transition The authors in this book also explore various other profound questions that have been raised by Brexit questions of citizenship of belonging of the probable impacts of Brexit for key economic sectors including agriculture and its meaning for gender politics The book also brings to the forefront how the UK was geographically imagined a new lexicon of left behind places citizens of somewhere and citizens of nowhere conjuring up new imaginations of the spaces and places making up the UK This book draws out the wider implications of Brexit for a refashioned geography It was originally published as a special issue of the journal Space and Polity

The Social Life of a Herstory Textbook Massilia Ourabah, 2020-05-22 This book studies the possibility for feminist educational change by examining a case study on the social life of a French gender and women history textbook Massilia Ourabah opens a unique and timely dialogue between two antagonistic sociological trends institutionalism and actor network theory ANT and more specifically the inhabited institution approach and the sociology of translation The structure of the book is dual it offers one version of the case study grounded in the institutionalist approach and another version grounded in the translational approach The goal is to show that through the introduction of institutional elements and the rejection of some of ANT's strongest assumptions the critical value of ANT can be restored and prove a useful framework for studying sociomaterial networks in education The book also engages with feminist pedagogy and discusses the implications of the case study for the prospect of a more gender balanced educational curriculum Multimodal Chinese Discourse Dezheng (William) Feng, 2023-04-12 This book helps readers to understand communication and society in contemporary China through systematic analysis of multimodal discourse at the national institutional and individual levels China has undergone profound changes during the past decade or so Politically the Chinese government has been more proactive in domestic governance and foreign policies as manifested in the Chinese Dream campaign and the national image publicity films respectively Hand in hand with the socio political change is the rapid development of new media which has been changing how corporates do business how institutions brand their images as well as how individuals construct their identities and social relations These developments have brought about significant changes to the discursive practices at the national institutional and individual level characterized by the extensive use of multimodal resources and distinct promotional purposes Feng systematically investigates and discusses the new discursive features in relation to relevant socio cultural contexts The analysis and discussion provide researchers with a social semiotic perspective on various aspects of communicative and social changes in contemporary China The book also contributes to the growing field of multimodality by developing a set of cross disciplinary analytical frameworks to deal with complex discourse forms in print media moving images and new media The research findings provide a unique Chinese perspective on a broad spectrum of issues such as discursive governance nation branding university marketization and identity performance The book is relevant not only to discourse analysis and multimodality but also to other disciplines which will benefit from a systematic understanding of Chinese discourse such as cultural studies communication studies and area China studies The Crisis of Social Reproduction Silvia Federici, Mariarosa Dalla Costa, Louise Toupin, 2025-01-21 In a series of interviews with Louise Toupin groundbreaking feminist thinkers Silvia Federici and Mariarosa Dalla Costa return to the movement they co founded in 1972 the International Feminist Collective The feminist collective originated the radical and controversial demand for wages for housework From these powerful roots they continue to explain how their political thinking developed over time formulating an intersectional critique of neoliberal capitalism with a crisis of social reproduction at its heart
