The volume as a whole offers a cohesive history of women's writing which has sometimes been obscured by the canonisation of a small feminine elite. Each chapter focuses on a given period and a range of writers taking account of prevailing sexual ideologies and women's activities in or their relation to the social, political, economic and cultural surroundings. Complemented by an extensive bibliography of primary and secondary works and a biographical guide to more than one hundred and fifty women writers, it represents an invaluable resource for those wishing to discover or extend their knowledge of French literature written by women.

The Dynamics of Gender in Early Modern France Domna C.

Stanton, 2016-03-23 In its six case studies The Dynamics of Gender in Early Modern France works out a model for early modern gender which is articulated in the introduction. The book comprises essays on the construction of women in three texts by male and three by female writers, including Racine, F. de la Barre, in the first part; La Guette, La Fayette, and S. Vign in the second. These studies thus also take up different genres: satire, tragedy, and treatise, memoir, novella, and letter writing. Since gender is a relational construct, each chapter considers as well specific textual and contextual representations of men. In every instance Stanton looks for signs of conformity to and deviations from normative gender scripts. The Dynamics of Gender adds a new dimension to early modern French literary and cultural studies; it incorporates a dynamic, shifting theory of gender and it engages both contemporary critical theory and literary historical readings of primary texts and established concepts in the field. This book emphasizes the central importance of historical context and close reading from a feminist perspective, which it also interrogates as a practice. The Afterword examines some of the meanings of reading as a feminist.

web find the equation of the line in all three forms listed above two of the forms require slope so let's find that first slope $m = \frac{\Delta y}{\Delta x} = \frac{5 - 4}{5 - 2} = \frac{1}{3}$ now we can plug in m and one of the points say $(5, 5)$ to get point slope form $y - y_1 = m(x - x_1)$ web what is the equation for a vertical line the slope is undefined and where does it cross the y axis in fact this is a special case and we use a different equation not y but instead we use x like this $x = 1.5$ every point on the line has x coordinate 1.5 that is why its equation is $x = 1.5$
