Reducing Prejudice And Discrimination:

Reducing Prejudice and Discrimination Stuart Oskamp, 2013-05-13 Finding ways to reduce prejudice and discrimination is the central issue in attacking racism in our society Yet this book is almost unique among scientific volumes in its focus on that goal This important book combines critical analysis of theories about how to reduce prejudice and discrimination with cutting edge empirical research conducted in real world settings as well as in controlled laboratory situations This book s outstanding contributors focus on a common set of questions about ways to reduce intergroup conflict prejudice and stereotyping They summarize their own research as well as others interpret the conclusions and suggest implications concerning the practical methods that have been or could be used in programs aimed at reducing intergroup conflict The chapters present solidly based critical analyses and research findings in clear reader friendly prose This book evolved from the Sixteenth Annual Claremont Symposium on Applied Social Psychology Each Symposium in the series concentrates on a single area in which social psychological knowledge is being applied to the resolution of a current social problem Ideal for teachers social workers administrators managers and other social practitioners who are concerned about prejudice and discrimination this book will also serve as a valuable foundation of knowledge in courses that examine this topic

How to reduce discrimination and prejudice in society? Vlad Popa-Florea, 2016-01-15 Essay from the year 2012 in the subject Psychology Social Psychology grade 1 6 Jacobs University Bremen gGmbH course Stereotypes Prejudice and Discrimination language English abstract Nowadays the world is becoming more globalized interconnected and heterogeneous People can no longer interact just with their own type or race but on the contrary must embrace the diversity that surrounds them However as human beings live in groups and act all together as a group this life style also develops an alternative side of stereotypes prejudice and discrimination Stereotypes are related to the cognitive aspect of perception over people thus defined as beliefs and conceptions on the behavior of different groups This paper will evaluate and discuss methods through which an individual person can reduce prejudice and discrimination in society It will offer theoretical background and empirical evidence along with certain limitations that restrain the reduction methods

Reducing Prejudice in the Classroom, 1984 Racial Reconciliation and the Healing of a Nation Charles J. Ogletree, Jr., Austin Sarat, 2017-10-24 The work at hand for bridging the racial divide in the United States From Baltimore and Ferguson to Flint and Charleston the dream of a post racial era in America has run up against the continuing reality of racial antagonism Current debates about affirmative action multiculturalism and racial hate speech reveal persistent uncertainty and ambivalence about the place and meaning of race and especially the black white divide in American culture They also suggest that the work of racial reconciliation remains incomplete Racial Reconciliation and the Healing of a Nation seeks to assess where we are in that work examining sources of continuing racial antagonism among blacks and whites It also highlights strategies that promise to promote racial reconciliation in the future Rather than revisit arguments about the importance of integration assimilation and reparations the contributors explore previously unconsidered perspectives on reconciliation between blacks and whites Chapters connect identity politics the rhetoric of race and difference the work of institutions and actors in those institutions and structural inequities in the lives of blacks and whites to our thinking about tolerance and respect Going beyond an assessment of the capacity of law to facilitate racial reconciliation Racial Reconciliation and the Healing of a Nation challenges readers to examine social political cultural and psychological issues that fuel racial antagonism as well as the factors that might facilitate racial reconciliation

The Importance of Target and Audience in Reducing Prejudice and Discrimination Through Intergroup Contact and Extended Contact Amy Ellard-Gray, 2019 This dissertation compared the efficacy of intergroup contact theory with an alternative prejudice reduction intervention extended contact An experimental manipulation utilizing direct and extended contact conditions was created in an effort to reduce heterosexual Americans sexual prejudice and subtle discrimination against the LGBTQ group Over the course of two studies I tested conditions that could give extended contact an advantage over direct contact I hypothesized that extended contact with a straight self identified ally would make extended contact more effective than direct contact with a gay person Study 1 was a 2 participant gender x 2 target s sexual orientation gay straight x 2 target s explicit support for LGBTQ issues ally advocate non ally non advocate between subjects experimental design Participants viewed a video in which a male target shared facts about sexual orientation and the harmfulness of prejudice and discrimination Participants completed an online pre test and a post test following the manipulation Study 2 was essentially a replication of Study 1 but an attempt was made to strengthen the manipulation of target s explicit support for LGBTQ issues Results showed that among participants with low previous contact with the LGBTQ group contact with a gay identified target resulted in lower subtle discrimination than extended contact The hypothesis that an ally would make extended contact more effective than direct contact was not supported in either study However Study 1 showed a novel finding that advocacy for LGBTQ issues was associated with higher subtle discrimination among those with low to no contact with the LGBTQ group regardless of sexual orientation of the contact This finding has implications for the application of prejudice reduction interventions in the real world In addition a pre post comparison of prejudice showed that the manipulation itself reduced prejudice over and above target s self disclosed identity suggesting potential for a video format prejudice reduction intervention tool that can be distributed through online channels for a large scale reach

Human behaviour is marvellous in its complexity variability and unpredictability Understanding it however is not solely the role of psychologists everyone has a vested interest in it from individuals to organisations and industry Recently biologists and psychologists have had considerable success incorporating insights from evolutionary theory to help them understand some fundamental psychological issues in a discipline now known as evolutionary psychology However to date these useful insights have not been widely applied to tackle specific practical problems or issues in society This innovative new book kick starts this process It provides a foundation for an incipient focus on applications of evolutionary research It draws together a collection of renowned academics from a disparate set of fields whose common interest lies in using evolutionary thinking to inform their research Topics range from reviews of evolutionary perspectives on adult and family relationships insights into business economics and marketing health and interactions with technology and the media through to major global and societal issues such as promoting green behaviour cooperation and public health and tackling crime terrorism and prejudice No other book has focused as specifically and with such broad scope on the applications of modern evolutionary psychology

While the rapidly growing number of books on evolutionary psychology succeed in describing current theoretical thinking illustrated and supported by empirical studies this book uses this established basis as a backdrop and starting point for a more focused exploration of practical application This groundbreaking book will be valuable for students and researchers in evolutionary and applied psychology as well as biology and anthropology
