The Reflection Joe Bright, 2002      Reflection Willie Corbett, 1996-04-01      Reflection. A Novel Dorothy Alice Bonavia HUNT, 1937      The Void of Ethics Patrizia McBride, 2006 In a pluralistic society without absolute standards of judgment how can an individual live a moral life This is the question Robert Musil 1880 1942 an Austrian born engineer and mathematician turned writer asked in essays plays and fiction that grapple with the moral ambivalence of modern life Though unfinished his monumental novel of Vienna in the febrile days before World War I The Man without Qualities is identified by German scholars as the most important literary work of the twentieth century In a fresh examination of his essays notebooks and fiction Patrizia McBride reconstructs Musil's understanding of ethics as a realm of experience that eludes language and thought After situating Musil's work within its contemporary cultural philosophical horizon as well as the historical background of rising National Socialism McBride shows how the writer's notion of ethics as a void can be understood as a coherent and innovative response to the crises haunting Europe after World War I She explores how Musil rejected the outdated rationalistic morality of humanism while simultaneously critiquing the irrationalism of contemporary art movements including symbolism impressionism and expressionism Her work reveals Musil's remarkable relevance today particularly those aspects of his thought that made him unfashionable in his own time a commitment to fighting ethical fundamentalism and a literary imagination that validates the pluralistic character of modern life      Fact, Fiction, and Representation Louis Mackey, 1997 First ever full length study of four works by Gilbert Sorrentino the contemporary American novelist Gilbert Sorrentino is the most innovative and experimental writer now working in America In a long and still continuing series of novels he has broken down the barriers of fictional realism in ways which undercut the traditional boundaries between fact and fiction exposing the problematical character of representation However although his position in contemporary American fiction is assured he has not yet received the serious critical attention his work deserves This volume is the first full length treatment of his work in depth and detail it examines four novels published by Sorrentino in the 1980s Crystal Vision Odd Number Rose Theatre and Misterioso aiming to identify the critical and philosophical problems raised in his work and assessing his achievements in dealing with them      Archival Reflections Santiago Juan-Navarro, 2000 Due to its scope and perspective this work has a relevance that extends far beyond the conventional bounds of literary studies Concerned as it is with issues of historical understanding culture and politics it has implications for the literary histories of Spanish America and the United States as well as for the fields of inter American and cultural studies literary theory and historiography BOOK JACKET      Reflection in Sequence Sandra J. Schumm, 1999-07 The codes of conduct imposed on females by Spain's dictator Francisco Franco after the Spanish Civil War 1936 39 created a stifling environment for women until his death in 1975 Beginning with Carmen Laforet's 1944 Nadal Prize winning novel Nada novels by women many of which explore female identity began to proliferate in Spain The works examined in this study Nada Primera memoria 1960 by

Ana Maria Matute La placa del Diamant 1962 by Merce Rodoreda Julia 1969 by Ana Maria Moix El cuarto de atras 1978 by Carmen Martin Gaité El amor es un juego solitario 1979 by Esther Tusquets and Questio d amor propi 1987 by Carme Riera feature female protagonists struggling for self realization and by extension for change in a restrictive Spanish society Schumm's analysis of the seven novels demonstrates how examination of metaphoric tropes and mirror images provides insight into the protagonists development

The Novel Stage Marcie Frank, 2020-02-14 The Novel Stage Narrative Form from the Restoration to Jane Austen traces the novel's relation to the theater over the course of the long eighteenth century arguing that the familiar account of the novel as new and distinct from other literary genres risks distorting a true reckoning of the form by failing to engage with the borrowings and departures from other more familiar genres particularly drama The Novel Stage traces the migration of tragicomedy the comedy of manners and melodrama from the stage to the novel These genres were shared across print and performance media that were not construed as opposites in a world in which individual silent reading took place beside playgoing play reading amateur theatricals and sociable reading aloud The book thus expands an overly narrow conception of the novel as the genre of realism or domesticity whose highest achievement is its representation of characters mental lives by describing the influence of the stage and its genres Beginning in the later 1600s with Aphra Behn The Novel Stage concludes with a chapter on some novelists of the Romantic period and a coda about Victorian novels The Novel Stage's account of the novel provides an enriched because more specific sense of its formal accomplishments that drew on this ensemble of cultural forms and turns that lens back onto drama Provided by publisher

Reading Adorno Amirhosein Khandizaji, 2019-06-27 This book draws on core concepts coined by Adorno such as identity thinking the culture industry and his critique of the autonomous and rational subject to address the ills that plague neoliberal capitalist societies today These ills range from the risk of a return to totalitarian tendencies to the global rise of the far right and anti feminist conceptions of motherhood Subsequent chapters outline the ways in which Adorno's thought can also be seen to redress the challenges of modern societies such as the critical function of artworks and the subversive potential of slow food and popular music The important underlying concern of the book is to highlight the continuing relevance of Adorno both in dealing with the failures of neo liberal capitalist societies and in his applicability to a wide range of disciplines Portals of Promise Debbie Pushor, the Parent Engagement Collaborative the Parent Engagement Collaborative, 2013-10-30 Working with parents is a significant aspect of educators roles yet it is rare to find curriculum in teacher education programs designed to prepare individuals to consider in philosophical theoretical and pedagogical ways who they will be in relationship with parents and why Schools therefore remain hierarchical structures in which parents are marginalized in relation to decisions affecting teaching and learning This book begins with Pushor's conceptualization of a curriculum of parents a curriculum which explores beliefs and assumptions about parents a vision for education in which educators work alongside parents and family members in the learning and care of children and a desire for reform She describes a curriculum of parents in the form of three graduate teacher education courses which she lived out in relationship with students Graduate students then capture their experiences immersed in this curriculum what they each took up how it shaped their knowledge attitudes and practices and how they lived it out as they returned to their classrooms schools and early learning centres This book is a storied account of their intense immersion in a curriculum of parents and the resulting impact living that curriculum has had on who they are in relation to parents and families It is an honest and vulnerable account of their shared and individual journeys They puzzle over the complexities and the successes of their work and the resulting impact This is not a book of best practice but an invitation to other educators to consider as they did what they do and how it could be different Self-reflection in Literature, 2019-12-16 Self reflection is fundamental for human thinking on many levels Philosophy has described the mind's capacity to observe itself as a core element of human existence Political and social sciences have shown how modern democracies depend on society's ability to critically reflect on their own values and practices And literature of all ages has proven self reflexivity to be a crucial trait of cultural production This volume provides the first diachronic panorama of genres forms and functions of literary self reflection and their connections with social political and philosophical discourses from the 17th century to the present Far beyond the usual focus on postmodernist opacity these contributions present a rich tradition of critical transparency Literary texts that show us what is behind and beyond them The Write to Read Lesley Roessing, 2009-07-30 Use reader response strategies to achieve Common Core goals in reading and in writing Response journals brief personal writing in response to reading can significantly improve reading comprehension What's more when scaffolded over the year reader response strategies promote engagement build understanding of complex literary and informational text and even help students provide supporting evidence in their writing all goals of the Common Core For educators eager to use reader response strategies veteran teacher Lesley Roessing presents a unique step by step approach

Speculative Orientalism: Asian Religions in New Wave Science Fiction Sang-Keun Yoo, 2025-08-21 Examining the works of prominent New Wave science fiction authors from the 1950-1960s, Sang Keun Yoo highlights the underexplored connection between American science fiction and Asian religions such as Taoism, Buddhism, and Hinduism. The book considers how the major world wars of the 20th century—Second World War, the Cold War, and the Vietnam War—repositioned Asian culture in relation to the science fiction genre in the period. Underpinning this study, Sang Keun Yoo argues that Speculative Orientalism emerged in American science fiction during the 1950s and 60s. This concept adopted various aspects of Asian religions to envision alternative worlds unburdened by the constraints of colonialism, totalitarianism, racism, and sexism present in contemporary American society. Bringing fresh perspectives to the works of William S. Burroughs, Philip K. Dick, Ursula K. Le Guin, and Samuel R. Delany, this book offers an insightful examination of the role of Asian religions in American science fiction and their impact on the genre's history.

Worlds in Consciousness; Mythopoetic Thought in the Novels of Virginia Woolf Jean O. Love, 1970 Novels, Readers, and Reviewers Nina Baym, 2018-03-15 No detailed description available for Novels, Readers, and Reviewers.

Using Informational Text to Teach To Kill A Mockingbird Susan Chenelle, Audrey Fisch, 2014-04-15 The new Common Core State Standards mean major changes for language arts teachers, particularly the emphasis on informational text. How do we shift attention toward informational texts without taking away from the teaching of literature? The key is informational texts deeply connected to the literary texts you are teaching. Preparing informational texts for classroom use, however, requires time and effort. Using Informational Text to Teach Literature is designed to help. In this volume, we offer informational texts connected to Harper Lee's To Kill a Mockingbird. Readings range in genre: inaugural address, historical analysis, autobiography, etiquette, book, newspaper, editorial, and Supreme Court decision, and topic: the Depression, entails, etiquette, the right to a lawyer, stereotypes, lynching, miscegenation, and heroism. Each informational text is part of a student-friendly unit with reading strategies and activities. Teachers need to incorporate nonfiction in ways that enhance their teaching of literature. The Using Informational Text to Teach Literature series is an invaluable supportive tool.

Alasdair MacIntyre's Engagement with Marxism, 2008-03-31 Although Alasdair

MacIntyre is best known today as the author of After Virtue 1981 he was in the 1950s and 1960s one of the most erudite members of Britain's Marxist Left being a militant within first the Communist Party then the New Left and finally the heterodox Trotskyist International Socialism group This selection of his essays on Marxism from that period aims to show that his youthful thought profoundly informed his mature ethics and that in the wake of the collapse of the state capitalist regimes in Russia and Eastern Europe the powerful and optimistic revolutionary Marxist ethics of liberation he articulated in that period is arguably as salient to anti capitalist activists today as it was half a century ago

Teaching and Learning in the (dis)Comfort Zone D. Jensen, D. Eldridge, Y. Hu, J. Tuten, 2009-12-21 The novice teacher and literacy coach need to form a team to share their expertise and continually evolve to have opportunity for guided reflection and self assessment of practice This book shares these professional experiences which delineates and describes the discomfort of teaching and learning at the edge of the teachers comfort zone

Premises Werner Hamacher, 1999 Poetry does not impose it exposes itself wrote Paul Celan Werner Hamacher's investigations into crucial texts of philosophical and literary modernity show that Celan's apothegm is also valid for the structure of understanding and for language in general In Premises Hamacher demonstrates that the promise of a subject position is not only unavoidable and thus operates as a structural imperative but is also unattainable and therefore by necessity open to possibilities other than that defined as position to redefinitions and unexpected transformations of the merely rhetorical act Proceeding along the lines of both philosophical argument and critical reading Hamacher presents the fullest account of the vast disruption in the theories and ethics of positional and propositional acts a disruption first exposed by Kant's analysis of the minimal requirements for linguistic and practical action Focusing on the double trait of every premise that it is promised but never attained Hamacher analyzes nine decisive themes topics and texts of modernity the hermeneutic circle in Schleiermacher and Heidegger the structure of ethical commands in Kant Nietzsche's genealogy of moral terms and his exploration of the aporias of singularity the irony of reading in de Man the parabasis of positing acts in Fichte and Schlegel Kleist's disruption of narrative representation the gesture of naming in Benjamin and Kafka and the incisive caesura that Paul Celan inserts into temporal and linguistic reversals There is no book that so fully brings the issues of both critical philosophy and critical literature into reach

Reviews Werner Hamacher's Premises is the heir and successor to the most important theoretical and critical work done in American departments of comparative literature from the 1960s through the 1980s Yet Premises is no more a work of literary scholarship than one of philosophical submission to philosophy With the gesture that is genuinely called post structural which is the suspicion and suspension of every code the book's act of freedom is freedom to read and write language tout court Timothy Bahti University of Michigan Hamacher's project can be described as the retracing of the epistemological ground upon which the modern conception of the literary was erected It is quite clear to me that there is nothing presently available to rival this book Wlad Godzich University of Geneva
