Reflections Of The Weavers World:

Reflections of the Weaver's World Ann Lane Hedlund,1992 Diné Peter Iverson,2002-08-28 This comprehensive narrative traces the history of the Navajos from their origins to the beginning of the twenty first century Based on extensive archival research traditional accounts interviews historic and contemporary photographs and firsthand observation it provides a detailed up to date portrait of the Din past and present that will be essential for scholars students and interested general readers both Navajo and non Navajo As Iverson points out Navajo identity is rooted in the land bordered by the four sacred mountains At the same time the Navajos have always incorporated new elements new peoples and new ways of doing things The author explains how the Din remember past promises recall past sacrifices and continue to build upon past achievements to construct and sustain North America s largest native community Provided is a concise and provocative analysis of Navajo origins and their relations with the Spanish with other Indian communities and with the first Anglo Americans in the Southwest Following an insightful account of the traumatic Long Walk era and of key developments following the return from exile at Fort Sumner the author considers the major themes and events of the twentieth century including political leadership livestock reduction the Code Talkers schools health care government economic development the arts and athletics Monty Roessel Navajo an outstanding photographer is Executive Director of the Rough Rock Community School He has written and provided photographs for award winning books for young people Women Designers in the USA, 1900-2000 Pat Kirkham,2000-01-01 A celebration of the many contributions of women designers to 20th century American culture Encompassing work in fields ranging from textiles and ceramics to furniture and fashion it features the achievements of women of various ethnic and cultural groups including both famous designers Ray Eames Florence Knoll and Donna Karan and their less well known sisters Swept Under the Rug Kathy M'Closkey,2002 Debunks the romanticist stereotyping of Navajo weavers and Reservation traders and situates weavers within the economic history of the southwest Navajo Textiles Laurie D. Webster,Louise Stiver,D. Y. Begay,Lynda Teller Pete,2017-08-15 Navajo Textiles provides a nuanced account the Navajo weavings in the Crane Collection at the Denver Museum of Nature Science one of the largest collections of Navajo textiles in the world Bringing together the work of anthropologists and indigenous artists the book explores the Navajo rug trade in the mid nineteenth century and changes in the Navajo textile market while highlighting the museum s important though still relatively unknown collection of Navajo textiles In this unique collaboration among anthropologists museums and Navajo weavers the authors provide a narrative of the acquisition of the Crane Collection and a history of Navajo weaving Personal reflections and insights from foremost Navajo weavers D Y Begay and Lynda Teller Pete are also featured and more than one hundred stunning full color photographs of the textiles in the collection are accompanied by technical information about the materials and techniques used in their creation An introduction by Ann Lane Hedlund documents the growing collaboration between Navajo weavers and museums in Navajo textile research The legacy of Navajo weaving is complex and intertwined with the history of the Din themselves Navajo Textiles makes the history and practice of Navajo weaving accessible to an audience of scholars and laypeople both within and outside the Din community

A New Deal for Navajo Weaving Jennifer McLerran, 2022-05-10 A New Deal for Navajo Weaving provides a detailed history of early to mid twentieth century Din weaving projects by non Natives who sought to improve the quality and marketability of Navajo weaving but in so doing failed to understand the cultural significance of weaving and its role in the lives of Din women By the 1920s the durability and market value of Din weavings had declined dramatically Indian welfare advocates established projects aimed at improving the materials and techniques Private efforts served as models for federal programs instituted by New Deal administrators Historian Jennifer McLerran details how federal officials developed programs such as the Southwest Range and Sheep Breeding Laboratory at Fort Wingate in New Mexico and the Navajo Arts and Crafts Guild Other federal efforts included the publication of Native natural dye recipes the publication of portfolios of weaving designs to guide artisans and the education of consumers through the exhibition of weavings aiding them in their purchases and cultivating an upscale market McLerran details how government officials sought to use these programs to bring the Din into the national economy instead these federal tactics were ineffective because they marginalized Navajo women and ignored the important role weaving plays in the resilience and endurance of wider Din culture

Women and Gender in the American West Mary Ann Irwin, James Brooks, 2004-10-30

The Joan Jensen Darlis Miller Prize recognizes outstanding scholarship on gender and women's history in the West. The winning essays are collected here for the first time in one volume. Spider Woman's Children Lynda Teller Pete, Barbara Teller Ornelas, 2018-09-07 Navajo rugs set the gold standard for handwoven textiles in the U.S. Their history and value to collectors is unparalleled. But what about the people who create these treasures? You might be surprised. Spider Woman's Children is the inside story told by two women who are both deeply embedded in their own culture and considered among the very most skillful and artistic of Navajo weavers today. Barbara Teller Ornelas and Lynda Teller Pete are fifth generation weavers who grew up at the fabled Two Grey Hills trading post. Their family and clan connections give them rare insight into where the craft has been and where it is going. They take you into traditional hogans, remote trading posts, reservation housing neighborhoods, and urban apartments to meet weavers who follow the paths of their ancestors, who innovate with new designs and techniques, and who uphold time-honored standards of excellence. You'll meet men who learned to weave from their grandmothers, women who weave alongside their aging moms, a young woman who incorporates contemporary images into skillful, highly collectible tapestries. You'll walk with elderly women over their sheep pastures and cornfields in search of natural dyestuffs. You'll see how well-made, simple weaving tools from generations past take a place of pride in every home. And throughout, you'll see examples of the finest, most mindful weaving this rich tradition has to offer. Annual Report National Endowment for the Arts, Reports for 1980 include also the Annual report of the National Council on the Arts.

Navajo Weaving in the Late Twentieth Century Ann Lane Hedlund, 2004-10 According to the Navajos, the holy people Spider Man and Spider Woman first brought the tools for weaving to the People. Over the centuries, Navajo artists have used those tools to weave a web of beauty, a rich tradition that continues to the present day. In testimony to this living art form, this book presents 74 dazzling color plates of Navajo rugs and wall hangings woven between 1971 and 1996. Drawn from a private southwestern collection, they represent the work of sixty of the finest native weavers in the American Southwest. The creations depicted here reflect a number of styles: revival, sandpainting, pictorial, miniature, sampler, and a number of major regional variations from Ganado to Teec Nos Pos. Textile authority Ann Hedlund provides an introductory narrative about the development of Navajo textile collecting, including the shift of attention from artifacts to art, and a brief review of the history of Navajo weaving. She then comments on the shaping of the particular collection represented in the book, offering a rich source of knowledge and insight for other collectors. Explaining themes in Navajo weaving over the quarter century represented by the Santa Fe Collection, Hedlund focuses on the development of modern rug designs and the influence on weavers of family, community, artistic identity, and the marketplace. She also introduces each section of plates with a description of the representative style, its significance, and the weavers who perpetuate and deviate from it. In addition to the textile plates, Hedlund's color photographs show the families' landscapes, livestock, hogans, and looms that surround today's Navajo weavers. Navajo Weaving in the Late Twentieth Century explores many of the important connections that exist today.

among weavers through their families and neighbors and the significant role that collectors play in perpetuating this dynamic art form For all who appreciate American Indian art and culture this book provides invaluable guidance to the fine points of collecting and a rich visual feast Disruptive Voices and the Singularity of Histories Regna Darnell, Frederic W. Gleach, 2019-11-01 Histories of Anthropology Annual presents diverse perspectives on the discipline's history within a global context with a goal of increasing awareness and use of historical approaches in teaching learning and conducting anthropology The series includes critical comparative analytical and narrative studies involving all aspects and subfields of anthropology Volume 13 Disruptive Voices and the Singularity of Histories explores the interplay of identities and scholarship through the history of anthropology with a special section examining fieldwork predecessors and indigenous communities in Native North America Individual contributions explore the complexity of women's history indigenous history national traditions and oral histories to juxtapose what we understand of the past with its present continuities These contributions include Sharon Lindenburger's examination of Franz Boas and his navigation with Jewish identity Kathy M Closkey's documentation of Navajo weavers and their struggles with cultural identities and economic resources and demands and Mindy Morgan's use of the text of Ruth Underhill's Oodham study to capture the voices of three generations of women ethnographers Because this work bridges anthropology and history a richer and more varied view of the past emerges through the meticulous narratives of anthropologists and their unique fieldwork ultimately providing competing points of access to social dynamics This volume examines events at both macro and micro levels documenting the impact large scale historical events have had on particular individuals and challenging the uniqueness of a single interpretation of the same facts Native America in the Twentieth Century Mary B. Davis, 2014-05-01 First Published in 1996 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Women in Mexican Folk Art Eli Bartra, 2013-12-15 The aim of this book is to engender Mexican folk art and locate women at its centre by studying the processes of creation distribution and consumption as well as examining iconographic aspects and elements of class and ethnicity from the perspective of gender The author will demonstrate that the topic provides unique insights into Mexican culture and has enormous relevance within and without the country given the fact that much folk art is made for the United States and Europe either in terms of the tourists who buy it on coming to Mexico or that which is exported American Indian Art Magazine , 2002 American Folk Art Kristin G. Congdon, Kara Kelley Hallmark, 2012-03-19 Folk art is as varied as it is indicative of person and place informed by innovation and grounded in cultural context The variety and versatility of 300 American folk artists is captured in this collection of informative and thoroughly engaging essays American Folk Art A Regional Reference offers a collection of fascinating essays on the life and work of 300 individual artists Some of the men and women profiled in these two volumes are well known while others are important practitioners who have yet to receive the notice they merit Because many of the artists in both categories have a clear identity with their land and culture the work is organized by geographical region and includes an essay on each region to help make connections visible There is also an introductory essay on U S folk art as a whole Those writing about folk art to date tend to view each artist as either traditional or innovative One of the major contributions of this work is that it demonstrates that folk artists more often exhibit both traits they are grounded in their cultural context and creative in the way they make work their own Such insights expand the study of folk art even as they readjust readers understanding of who folk artists are
