Retrospect And Prospect In Celtic Studies:

Retrospect and Prospect in Celtic Studies Máire Herbert, Kevin Murray, 2003 The proceedings of the conference held at UCC in July 1999 is divided into two sections and published to coincide with the next biannual conference to be held in Wales this summer Cambrian Medieval Celtic Studies ,2008 Understanding Celtic Religion ,2015-11-20 Focused in scope and emphasizes methodological aspects of Celtic scholarship This collection of original essays illuminates the importance of theoretical considerations in the study of early medieval sources Early Medieval Ireland 400-1200 Daibhi O Croinin, 2016-10-04 This impressive survey covers the early history of Ireland from the coming of Christianity to the Norman settlement Within a broad political framework it explores the nature of Irish society the spiritual and secular roles of the Church and the extraordinary flowering of Irish culture in the period Other major themes are Ireland's relations with Britain and continental Europe the beginnings of Irish feudalism and the impact of the Viking and Norman invaders The expanded second edition has been fully updated to take into account the most recent research in the history of Ireland in the early middle ages including Ireland's relations with the Later Roman Empire advances and discoveries in archaeology and Church Reform in the 11th and 12th centuries A new opening chapter on early Irish primary sources introduces students to the key written sources that inform our picture of early medieval Ireland including annals genealogies and laws The social political religious legal and institutional background provides the context against which Daibhi O Croinin describes Ireland's transformation from a tribal society to a feudal state It is essential reading for student and specialist alike Making Laws for a Christian Society Roy Flechner, 2021-03-30 This is the first comprehensive study of the contribution that texts from Britain and Ireland made to the development of canon law in early medieval Europe The book concentrates on a group of insular texts of church law chief among them the Irish Hibernensis tracing their evolution through mutual influence their debt to late antique traditions from around the Mediterranean their reception and occasional rejection by clerics in continental Europe their fusion with continental texts and their eventual impact on the formation of a European canonical tradition Canonical collections penitentials and miscellanies of church law and royal legislation are all shown to have been living texts which were continually reshaped through a process of trial and error that eventually gave rise to a more stable and more coherent body of church laws Through a meticulous text critical study Roy Flechner argues that the growth of church law in Europe owes as much to a serendipitous conversation between texts as it does to any deliberate plan overseen by bishops and popes Uneasy Subjects Silke Stroh, 2011-01-01 Scottish and Celtic fringe postcolonialism has caused much controversy and unease in literary studies Can the non English territories and peoples of the British Isles faced with centuries of English hegemony be meaningfully compared to former overseas colonies This book is the first comprehensive study of this topic which offers an in depth study of Gaelic literature It investigates the complex interplay between Celticity Gaeldom Scottish and British national identity and international colonial and postcolonial discourse It situates post colonial elements in Gaelic poetry within a wider context showing how they intersect with socio historical and political issues anglophone literature and the media Highlighting the centrality of Celticity as an archetypal construct in colonial discourses ancient and modern this volume traces post colonial themes and strategies in Gaelic poetry from the Middle Ages to the present Central themes include the uneasy position of Gaels as subjects of the Scottish or British state and as both intra British colonised and overseas colonisers Aiming to promote interdisciplinary dialogue it is of interest for scholars and students of Scottish Studies Gaelic and English literature and international Postcolonial Studies Zeitschrift für keltische Philologie und Volksforschung ,2006 Reflections: 50 Years of Medieval Archaeology, 1957-2007: No. 30 Roberta Gilchrist,Andrew Reynolds,2018-12-13 This volume celebrates the 50th anniversary of the Society for Medieval Archaeology established in 1957 presenting reflections on the history development and future prospects of the discipline The papers are drawn from a series of conferences and workshops that took place in 2007 08 in addition to a number of contributions that were commissioned especially for the volume They range from personal commentaries on the history of the Society and the growth of the subject see papers by David Wilson and Rosemary Cramp to historiographical regional and thematic overviews of major trends in the evolution and current practice of medieval archaeology All the publications are fully refereed with the aim of publishing at the highest academic level reports on sites of national and international importance and of encouraging the widest debate The series objectives are to cover the broadest chronological and geographical range and to assemble a series of volumes which reflect the changing intellectual and technical scope of the discipline Women and Irish diaspora identities D. A. J. MacPherson,Mary Hickman,2016-05-16 Bringing together leading authorities on Irish women and migration this book offers a significant reassessment of the place of women in the Irish diaspora It compares Irish women across the globe over the last two centuries setting this research in the context of recent theoretical developments in the study of diaspora This collection demonstrates the important role played by women in the construction of Irish diasporic identities assessing Irish women s experience in Britain Canada New Zealand and the United States This book develops a conversation between other locations of the Irish diaspora and the dominant story about the USA and in the process emphasises the complexity and heterogeneity of Irish diasporan locations and experiences This interdisciplinary collection featuring chapters by Breda Gray Louise Ryan and Bronwen Walter will appeal to scholars and students of the Irish diaspora and women s migration F. F. Bruce Tim Grass,2012-01-09 This is the first ever full length biography of Frederick Fyvie Bruce 1910 1990 one of the most influential British biblical scholars of the twentieth century Over his lifetime F F Bruce authored some fifty books and nearly two thousand articles and reviews His career offers valuable insights into key issues that affected evangelicals from the 1950s onwards including the relationship between academic theology and church life and the perception of evangelical scholarship within the academy at large Irish Economic and Social History ,2004 Ireland and migration in the twenty-first century Mary Gilmartin,2015-07-29

Considers migration to from and within Ireland in the twenty first century covering the Celtic Tiger era of mass immigration to Ireland as well as the dramatic growth in levels of emigration that has occurred since the Irish economic collapse Of Memory and the Misplaced Sarah O'Brien,2024-01-02 What can the life writing of post famine Irish immigrants tell us about Irish diasporic memory Of Memory and the Misplaced considers the endurance and nature of Irish American memory across the twentieth century Guided by 30 memoirs written between 1900 and 1970 Sarah O'Brien shows the prevalence of intimate and taboo themes in ordinary immigrants writing such as domestic violence same sex love and famine induced trauma Importantly Of Memory and the Misplaced critiques the role of the Irish landscape as a site of memory and shows how the interiority of the domestic world has provided Irish women with the language needed to reclaim their own lives Combining literary and historical theory Of Memory and the Misplaced highlights voices that have traditionally been silenced and offers a rare and unexplored collection of primary source autobiographical texts to better understand the experiences of Irish immigrants in the United States The Iron Age in Northern Britain Dennis W. Harding,2004-08-26 The Iron Age in Northern Britain examines the impact of the Roman expansion northwards and the native response to the Roman occupation on both sides of the frontiers It traces the emergence of historically recorded communities in the post Roman period and looks at the clash of cultures between Celts and Romans Picts and Scots Northern Britain has too often been seen as peripheral to a core located in south eastern England Unlike the Iron Age in southern Britain the story of which can be conveniently terminated with the Roman conquest the Iron Age in northern Britain has no such horizon to mark its end The Roman presence in southern and eastern Scotland was militarily intermittent and left untouched large tracts of Atlantic Scotland for which there is a rich legacy of Iron Age settlement continuing from the mid first millennium BC to the period of Norse settlement in the late first millennium AD Here D W Harding shows that northern Britain was not peripheral in the Iron Age it simply belonged to an Atlantic European mainstream different from southern England and its immediate continental neighbours Print Culture and Intellectual Life in Ireland, 1660-1941 Michael Adams,2006 Charting the impact of print and publishing in shaping the ideas that formed modern Ireland this title examines how the production circulation and reception of books reflected Irish intellectual life Nation-Building as Necessary Effort in Fragile States René Grotenhuis,2025-10-01 Policies intended to bring stability to fragile states tend to focus almost exclusively on building institutions and systems to get governance right Simply building the state is often seen as sufficient for making it stable and legitimate But policies like these Ren Grotenhuis shows in this book ignore the question of what makes people belong to a nation state arguing that issues of identity culture and religion are crucial to creating the sense of belonging and social cohesion that a stable nation state requires Teacher Preparation in Ireland Thomas O'Donoghue,Judith Harford,Teresa O'Doherty,2017-06-29 This study of teacher preparation policy and practice in Ireland from Independence in 1921 to the present highlights within an international context the extent to which the focus of preparation moved from nation building until 1967 when free second level education was introduced to one concerned with improving the country's human capital

Men and the Classroom Sheelagh Drudy, Maeve Martin, John O'Flynn, Mairide Woods, 2005-08-26 The teaching of young children has long been dominated by women The authors of this groundbreaking book have undertaken the largest most in depth study ever carried out on this topic in order to assess both teachers and students views

Rural Society in the Age of Reason Chris J. Dalglish, 2006-04-11 My interest in the archaeology of the Scottish Highlands began long before I had any formal training in the subject Growing up on the eastern fringes of the southern Highlands close to Loch Lomond it was not hard to stumble across ruined buildings old field boundaries and other traces of everyday life in the past This is especially true if you spend much time as I have done climbing the nearby mountains and walking and driving through the various glens that give access into the Highlands At the time I had no real understanding of these remains simply accepting them as being built and old After studying archaeology for a few years at the University of Glasgow itself only a short commute from the area where I grew up I became acutely aware that I still had no real understanding of these familiar yet enigmatic buildings and fields This and a growing interest in Scotland's historical archaeology drove me to take several courses on the subject of rural settlement studies These courses allowed me to place what I now knew to be houses barns mills shieling transhumance settlements rig and furrow cultivation and other related remains in history Overwhelmingly they seemed to date from the period of the last 300 years I also began to understand how they all worked together as component parts of daily rural life in the past
