Political Leadership and Charisma Michael Brecher, 2016-09-23 This book is unique in illuminating and comparing the charismatic role of two political leaders Jawaharlal Nehru and David Ben Gurion along with assessments of many other 20th century political leaders Its aim is to enrich our knowledge of an important dimension of global politics charismatic leadership The central role of political leaders in shaping the behavior of states has been universally recognized since the political systems of antiquity in East Asia the Middle East and Europe With the massive increase of independent states since the end of World War II from 55 initial members of the United Nations to more than 200 today and especially the emergence of awesome weapons of mass destruction the centrality of political leaders in the survival of the planet has grown exponentially Both India and Israel have experienced the crucial role of charismatic leaders Nehru and Ben Gurion who dominated their states and societies for a near identical formative period in their political independence 1947 64 and 1948 63 respectively as charismatic leaders Their impact Brecher shows extended far beyond their states to both their geographic regions and global politics

The Transfer of Power in India V. P. Menon, 1997 The author recounts in detail the events that occurred from September 1939 to August 1947 during the final stages of India's bid for freedom and how power was actually transferred

Adventures in Criminology Sir Leon Radzinowicz, 2002-03-11 Sir Leon Radzinowicz is one of the key figures in the development of criminology in the twentieth century This account of the development of criminology intertwines his personal narrative as a criminologist with the progression of criminology itself His experience gained from a career which has spanned 70 years since the 1920s offers a profound overview of how the understanding of crime and criminals of criminal justice systems and penology has changed and of the tensions and dilemmas these pose for democratic societies

Family Law in the Twentieth Century Stephen Michael Cretney, 2003 The law governing family relationships has changed dramatically in the course of the 20th century and this book drawing extensively on both published and archival material and on legal as well as other sources gives an account of the processes and problems of reform

The International Ambitions of Mao and Nehru Andrew Kennedy, 2011-12-29 Why do leaders sometimes challenge rather than accept the international structures that surround their states In The International Ambitions of Mao and Nehru Andrew Kennedy answers this question through in depth studies of Chinese foreign policy under Mao Zedong and Indian foreign policy under Jawaharlal Nehru Drawing on international relations theory and psychological research Kennedy offers a new theoretical explanation for bold leadership in foreign policy one that stresses the beliefs that leaders develop about the national efficacy of their states He shows how this approach illuminates several of Mao and Nehru s most important military and diplomatic decisions drawing on archival evidence and primary source materials from China India the United States and the United Kingdom A rare blend of theoretical innovation and historical scholarship The International Ambitions of Mao and Nehru is a fascinating portrait of how foreign policy decisions are made

Mark,2004-08-05 After 1949 the British Empire in Hong Kong was more vulnerable than the lack of Chinese demand for return and the success of Hong Kong s economic transformations might have suggested Its vulnerability stemmed as much from Britain s imperial decline and America s Cold War requirements as from a Chinese threat It culminated in the little known 1957 Question a year when the British position in Hong Kong appeared more uncertain than any time since 1949 This is the first scholarly study that places Hong Kong at the heart of the Anglo American relationship in the wider context of the Cold War in Asia Unlike existing works which tend to treat British and US policies in isolation this book explores their dynamic interactions how the two allies perceived responded to and attempted to influence each other s policies and actions It also provides a major reinterpretation of Hong Kong s involvement in the containment of China Dr Mark argues that concerned about possible Chinese retaliation the British insisted and the Americans accepted that Hong Kong s role should be as discreet and non confrontational in nature as possible Above all top decision makers in Washington evaluated Hong Kong s significance not in its own right but in the context of the Anglo American relationship Hong Kong was seen primarily as a bargaining chip to obtain British support for US policy elsewhere in Asia By using a variety of British and US archival material as well as Chinese sources Dr Mark examines how the British and US government discussed debated and disagreed over Hong Kong s role in the Cold War and reveals the dynamics of the Anglo American alliance and the dilemmas of small allies in a global conflict

History at War Noble Frankland,2012-07-18 History at War is a unique book It throws light on important unexplored aspects of the pursuit of historical truth It tells how alone among historians Noble Frankland fought in the bomber offensive during the Second World War and then together with Sir Charles Webster wrote its official history how he transformed the Imperial War Museum from a dying institution into one of the world s leading historical centres for the study of the conflicts of the twentieth century how he played a major part in television documentary productions including in particular The World at War and how he wrote a series of original rigorously researched historical works In History at War he describes the battles he had to fight against the mandarins and media merchants who sought to impose a spin on history to suit their own ends and were ruthless and unscrupulous in their methods Its meticulous documentation gives a guarantee of authenticity to his staggering account of how those in high places tried to distort history which might otherwise seem scarcely credible The revelations about Bomber Harris relations with his superior Lord Portal during the war and their joint opposition to the two authors account of the strategic air offensive still a highly topical issue will set alight a new debate among military and other historians Unlike most books on the theory and practice of history it does not confine itself to what can be written on the page It also covers Dr Frankland s experience of demonstrating history in museum galleries on the television screen on sites such as Duxford Airfield near Cambridge and on board HMS Belfast in the Pool of London The problem for historians of publishing a full and unbiased account and analysis of controversial events and episodes in politics and international affairs is as acute in the 1990s as it ever has been All readers with a concern for the truth will learn much about such issues from this unflinching and penetrating book Robert Crawford Director General Imperial War Museum it is brilliant rivetingly trenchant and should be required reading for all aspirant historians Professor R B Wernham former Professor of Modern History Oxford It really is a splendid and fascinating story and a sharp warning to historians to beware of mandarins and great commanders In Francis Bacon s categorization Some books are to be tasted some to be swallowed and a few to be chewed and digested It certainly rates among the few Professor Geoffrey Best in TLS The subtitle is exactly right for a book by Noble Frankland a tough character who views the successive phases of his post war life as battles to bring truths and lessons plainly before the public and who can happily conclude that he has been generally successful In at least two fields the history of the most painfully controversial of Allied campaigns in the Second World War and the rescue and make over of the least well known of London s great museums his achievements have been of great national value and importance this astringently truth telling professional autobiography required reading for historians of the British Establishment from Attlee to Macmillan Piers Mackesey Fellow of British Academy and former Fellow of Pembroke College Oxford I admired History at War on many levels characterizations of Webster Bradley Willis etc the balance between Museum Trustees and the chief executive functioning of Civil Service Bomber Command the picture of Noble Frankland s developing career and the qualities it called for etc I often laughed aloud at the wit and the penetrating observations of functioning individuals Also much enjoyed final reflections on history by a practitioner Haven t enjoyed a book so much for ages
