Transforming Spirit Bodies is an edited volume that focuses on the bodies and embodiments of spirits their im materialities and their bodily transformations The anthropological sociological and archaeological contributions draw attention to the embodied experiences of asymmetrical dependencies among humans and spirits and how experiences of inter dependence are negotiated in their interactions Suggesting that more than human entities significantly contribute to agency in social interactions and power negotiations the volume further highlights the ambivalent yet undeniable relationship between spirits and materiality During the processes of materialization and dematerialization in which spirit bodies transform and are transformed more than human entities may share substances and agency with humans Not only having material but also social dimensions these dynamics are influenced by relations of power and dependency Following posthumanist approaches this volume therefore challenges the anthropocentric views that continue to dominate scholarly analysis of power relations dependency and coercion
