Lost Landscapes Agata Tuszynska, 1998 But her real journey took her deep into the memories of Singer's colleagues and co-workers of Holocaust survivors and those who were merely witnesses Lost Landscapes Agata Tuszynska, 1998-04-01 When Tuszynska began reading the novels short stories of Isaac Bashevis Singer she found in them not just literary characters plots but fascinating details of the missing world of Polish Jews a world erased by the Holocaust Communist rule Singer was an avid chronicler of that once rich vibrant culture She decided to re create it from the memories of its dispersed aged inhabitants Her journey took her deep into the memories of Singer's colleagues co-workers of Holocaust survivors those who were merely witnesses Speaking with Jews Poles alike she patiently removes layers of pain trauma examining personal tragic often purposely forgotten experiences Isaac Bashevis Singer: His Work and his World Hugh Denman, 2021-12-28 A quarter of a century after Isaac Bashevis Singer was awarded the Nobel Prize for Literature it is time to take stock of his achievement Penetrating studies of his fictional and autobiographical works by leading scholars in the field reveal that for all the acclaim he has received on the basis of the English versions of his works no adequate evaluation of Bashevis's significance can be made without careful examination of the original Yiddish texts Critical readings assess inter alia his themes and motifs the impact of Kabbalah on his work reflections of society in his original Polish homeland as well as his place within the context of contemporary Jewish American letters and the canon of modern Yiddish and Hebrew writing

The Routledge Encyclopedia of Jewish Writers of the Twentieth Century Sorrel Kerbel, 2004-11-23 Now available in paperback for the first time Jewish Writers of the Twentieth Century is both a comprehensive reference resource and a springboard for further study This volume examines canonical Jewish writers less well known authors of Yiddish and Hebrew and emerging Israeli writers includes entries on figures as diverse as Marcel Proust Franz Kafka Tristan Tzara Eugene Ionesco Harold Pinter Tom Stoppard Arthur Miller Saul Bellow Nadine Gordimer and Woody Allen contains introductory essays on Jewish American writing Holocaust literature and memoirs Yiddish writing and Anglo Jewish literature provides a chronology of twentieth century Jewish writers Compiled by expert contributors this book contains over 330 entries on individual authors each consisting of a biography a list of selected publications a scholarly essay on their work and suggestions for further reading Isaac B. Singer Florence Noiville, 2006-10-17 Isaac Bashevis Singer 1904-1991 is widely recognized as the most popular Yiddish writer of the twentieth century His translated body of work for which he received the Nobel Prize in Literature in 1978 is beloved around the world But although Singer was a very public and outgoing figure much about his personal life remains unknown In Isaac Bashevis Singer Florence Noiville offers a glimpse into the world of this much beloved but persistently elusive figure An astonishingly prolific writer Singer was able to recreate the lost world of Jewish Eastern Europe and also to describe the immigrant experience in America Drawing heavily upon folklore Singer's work is noted for its mystical strain But he was also heavily concerned with the problems of his own day and through his novels and stories runs a strong undercurrent of social consciousness Unafraid to celebrate peasant life Singer was often accused of being vulgar yet he was also recognized for a deeply moral sensibility And much like his work Singer s personal life was marked by contradiction the son of a Rabbi he struggled with warring currents of devotion and doubt Solicitous of affection he was also known for his philandering Devoted to the notion of family he abandoned his own son before the Second World War Drawing on letters personal recollections and interviews with Singer s friends family and publishing contemporaries Florence Noiville speaks to these paradoxes More appreciation than comprehensive biography her narrative is rich in detail about the people places and ideas that shaped Singer s world A remarkably vivid portrait of the man and his work emerges a compassionate vivid and insightful vision of one of the twentieth century s greatest storytellers

Communities of Memory William James Booth,2018-07-05 Memory has fueled merciless violent strife and it has been at the core of reconciliation and reconstruction It has been used to justify great crimes and yet it is central to the pursuit of justice In these and more everyday ways we live surrounded by memory individual and social in our habits our names the places where we live street names libraries archives and our citizenship institutions and laws Still we wonder what to make of memory and its gifts though sometimes we are hardly even certain that they are gifts Of the many chambers in this vast palace I mean to ask particularly after the place of memory in politics in the identity of political communities and in their practices of doing justice from the Preface W James Booth seeks to understand the place of memory in the identity ethics and practices of justice of political communities Identity is he believes a particular kind of continuity across time one central to the possibility of agency and responsibility and memory plays a central role in grounding that continuity Memory identity takes two forms a habitlike form the deep presence of the past that is part of a life led in common and a more fragile vulnerable form in which memory struggles to preserve identity through time notably in bearing witness a form of memory work deeply bound up with the identity of political communities Booth argues that memory holds a defining place in determining how justice is administered Memory is tied to the very possibility of an ethical community one responsible for its own past able to make commitments for the future and driven to seek justice Underneath and motivating the politics of memory understood as contests over the writing of history over memorials museums and canons he writes there lies an intertwining of memory identity and justice Communities of Memory both argues for and maps out that intertwining

Shaping Losses Julia Epstein, Lori Hope Lefkowitz, 2001 Shaping Losses explores how traumatic loss affects identity and how those who are shaped by loss give shape in turn to the empty

place where something relationships family culture was and is no longer Taking the example of the decimation of European Jewry during the Nazi era Shaping Losses confronts the problem of transforming trauma into cultural memory This eloquent volume examines how memoirs films photographs art and literature as well as family conversations and personal remembrances embody the impulse to preserve what is destroyed The contributors all distinguished women scholars most of them survivors or daughters of survivors examine classic memorializations such as Claude Lanzmann's film Shoah and Roman Vishniac's photographs of prewar Jews as well as several less well known works They also address ways in which children of survivors of the Holocaust and of other catastrophic traumas struggle with inherited or vicarious memory striving to come to terms with losses that centrally define them although they experience them only indirectly Shaping Losses considers the limitations of Holocaust representations and testimonies that capture shards of the experience but are necessarily selective and reductive Contributors discuss artistic efforts to preserve the rawness of memory to resist redemptive closure in Holocaust narratives and public memorials and to prevent the Holocaust from being sealed in the cold storage of history The authors probe the nature of memory and of trauma studying the use of language within and outside a traumatic context such as Auschwitz and pinpointing the qualities that make traumatic memory ineffable untransmittable and perhaps unreliable Within the haunted terrain of traumatized memory that all Holocaust testimonies inhabit the impulse to give form to emptiness to shape loss emerges as a necessary betrayal a vital effort to bridge the gap between history and memory
