Lost At Sea Audio Cassette:

Maps of the Ancient Sea Kings Charles H. Hapgood, 1966 Hapgood utilizes ancient maps as concrete evidence of an advanced worldwide civilization existing many thousands of years before ancient Egypt Hapgood concluded that these ancient mapmakers were in some ways much more advanced in mapmaking than any people prior to the 18th century Hapgood believes that they mapped all the continents This would mean that the Americas were mapped thousands of years before Columbus Antarctica would have been mapped when its coasts were free of ice Hapgood supposes that there is evidence that these people must have lived when the Ice Age had not yet ended in the Northern Hemisphere and when Alaska was still connected with Siberia by the Pleistocene Ice Age land bridge Digital Audio Tape Recorders United States. Duester, 2025-05-15 Growing sales numbers for cassette tapes in the Global North since the early 2010s have led mass media outlets to repeatedly proclaim a tape revival Yet the grassroots projects of devotees in niche punk noise and hip hop DIY music scenes have continuously upheld the unique material benefits of cassettes while wider society considered them a relic of bygone times Contrasting the popular notion of current cassette use being a mere side effect of the blazing interest in the vinyl record this book argues that the lasting embrace of tapes is based on complex cultural economic and material factors that shape cassettes as hybrid artefacts of music in the new media age Drawing on interviews with 85 experts active in DIY music cultures as independent record shop operators musicians event promoters fans and collectors across Japan Australia and the United States Tomorrow on Cassette presents a seminal exploration of how the cassette tape's significance as a tool for material expression creativity and sociality perseveres in the 21st century Index to Educational Audio Tapes National Information Center for Educational Media, 1974 Sound of the Crowd: a Discography of the '80s (Fourth Edition)
