The History of Taekwondo

The history of Taekwondo is a story of the development of a martial art from its roots in the ancient Korean martial arts of Taekkyeon and Suburi. It is a story of the people who created this unique martial art, and of the people who have practiced it throughout the world.

A Taekwondo master named Bodhidharma is credited with introducing the art to Korea. He is said to have arrived in Korea in 315 AD. The art, which is the Korean version of the Chinese art of Tai Chi, was known as Taekkyeon.

While modern Taekwondo has its roots in the style of General Choi, its history goes back to the ancient Korean martial arts of Taekkyeon and Suburi. It is a story of the people who created this unique martial art, and of the people who have practiced it throughout the world.

During the early days, before the Korean peninsula was divided into kingdoms - Goguryeo, Baekje, and Silla - the art was practiced in the mountains. It was a martial art that was passed down from generation to generation.

Clinical Assessment of Child and Adolescent Intelligence Randy W. Kamphaus,2019-06-11 This volume, now in its second edition, has been completely updated to provide the most comprehensive and accessible handbook of practices and tools for the clinical assessment of child and adolescent intelligence. Designed specifically as a teaching tool, it provides students with an accessible guide to interpretation and applies the same interpretive systems across many tests. It emphasizes the proper interpretation of intelligence tests within the context of a child's life circumstances and includes several devices to enhance the logical processes of assessment, beginning with test selection and concluding with the reporting of results. In addition, Clinical Assessment of Child and Adolescent Intelligence stresses the importance of the interpretive process over the value of specific tests, fosters a deeper understanding of the intelligence construct, emphasizes learning by example using valuable case studies and vignettes designed to provide students with concrete models to emulate. This edition covers all facets of intelligence testing, including detailed explanations of test interpretation theory, research and the full range of testing options for preschoolers through adult clients. New chapters have been introduced on neuropsychological approaches to adolescent and adult intelligence, including coverage of WAIS III and KAIT, and achievement and intelligence screeners have been added. And although designed primarily as a text for beginning graduate students, the book is also useful as a refresher for clinicians who are looking for updated assessment information.
