Magic Realism Rediscovered, 1918-1981 Seymour Menton, 1983 MAGIC REALISM REDISCOVERED, ~1918-1981 (NINETEEN HUNDRED AND EIGHTEEN TO NINETEEN HUNDRED AND EIGHTY-ONE). Seymour Menton, 1983 Magical Realism Lois Parkinson Zamora, Wendy B. Faris, 1995 On magical realism in literature Challenging Realities: Magic Realism in Contemporary American Women's Fiction M. Ruth Noriega Sánchez, 2011-11-28 Les arrels del realisme màgic en els escrits de Borges i altres autors d'Amèrica Llatina han estat plenament reconeguts i ben documentades produint una sèrie d'estudis crítics molts dels quals figuren en la bibliografia d'aquest treball Dins d'aquest marc aquest llibre presenta als lectors una varietat d'escriptors de grups ètnics coneguts i menys coneguts i les col·loca en un context literari en el que es tracten tant a nivell individual com a escriptors així com a nivell col·lectiu com a part d'un moviment artístic més ampli Aquest llibre és el resultat del treball realitzat a les universitats de Sheffield i la de València i representa una valuosa investigació i una important contribució als estudis literaris Magic Realism Maria-Elena Angulo, 2018-10-24 Since the 1930s Latin American writers have used magic realism to transcend the limits of the fantastic and illuminate social problems within the culture The author considers five modern Latin American novels Starting with two canonical texts of magic realism Alejo Carpentier's El reino de este mundo 1949 and García Márquez's Cien años de soledad 1967 the author argues that Los Sangurimas 1934 by the Ecuadorian José de la Cuadra is a seminal work due to de la Cuadra's new approach to reality and his use of marvelous and hyperbolic elements The author shows the continuation of this example in Ecuador in Demetrio Aguilera Malta's Siete lunas y siete serpientes 1970 and Alicia Ynez Cossío's Bruna soroche y los tios 1972 which elucidate social problems of race class and gender through use of magic realism In selecting for her study well known writers such as Carpentier García Márquez and others less well known such as de la Cuadra Aguilera Malta and Ynez Cossío the author demonstrates that both canonical and noncanonical writers for many years have been working on this new way of writing to interpret in fiction the highly complex Latin American reality Lies that Tell the Truth Anne C. Hegerfeldt, 2005 Magic realism has long been treated as a phenomenon restricted to postcolonial literature Drawing on works from Britain Lies that Tell the Truth compellingly shows how magic realist fiction can be produced also at what is usually considered to be the cultural centre without forfeiting the mode's postcolonial attitude and aims A close analysis of works by Angela Carter Salman Rushdie Jeanette Winterson Robert Nye and others reveals how the techniques of magic realism generate a complex critique of the West's rational empirical worldview from within a Western context itself Understanding magic realism as a fictional analogue of anthropology and sociology Lies that Tell the Truth reads the mode as a frequently humorous but at the same time critical investigation into people's attempts to make sense of their world By laying bare the manifold strategies employed to make meaning magic realist fiction indicates that knowledge and reality cannot be reduced to hard facts but that people's dreams and fears ideas stories and beliefs must equally be taken into account Climate and Crises Ben

Holgate,2019-01-31 Climate and Crises Magical Realism as Environmental Discourse makes a dual intervention in both world literature and ecocriticism by examining magical realism as an international style of writing that has long standing links with environmental literature The book argues that in the era of climate change when humans are facing the prospect of species extinction new ideas and new forms of expression are required to address what the novelist Amitav Gosh calls a crisis of imagination Magical realism enables writers to portray alternative intellectual paradigms ontologies and epistemologies that typically contest the scientific rationalism derived from the European Enlightenment and the exploitation of natural resources associated with both capitalism and imperialism Climate and Crises explores the overlaps between magical realism and environmental literature including their respective transgressive natures that dismantle binaries such as human and non human a shared biocentric perspective that focuses on the inter connectedness of all things in the universe and frequently a critique of postcolonial legacies in formerly colonised territories The book also challenges conventional conceptions of magical realism arguing they are often influenced by a geographic bias in the construction of the orthodox global canon and instead examines contemporary fiction from Asia including China and Australasia two regions that have been largely neglected by scholarship of the narrative mode As a result the monograph modifies and expands our ideas of what magical realist fiction is

Postethnic Narrative Criticism Frederick Luis Aldama,2009-09-15 Magical realism has become almost synonymous with Latin American fiction but this way of representing the layered and often contradictory reality of the topsy turvy late capitalist globalizing world finds equally vivid expression in U S multiethnic and British postcolonial literature and film Writers and filmmakers such as Oscar Zeta Acosta Ana Castillo Julie Dash Hanif

Kureishi and Salman Rushdie have made brilliant use of magical realism to articulate the trauma of dislocation and the legacies of colonialism that people of color experience in the postcolonial multiethnic world. This book seeks to redeem and refine the theory of magical realism in U.S. multiethnic and British postcolonial literature and film. Frederick Aldama engages in theoretically sophisticated readings of Ana Castillo's So Far from God, Oscar Zeta Acosta's Autobiography of a Brown Buffalo, Salman Rushdie's Midnight's Children, Shame, The Satanic Verses, and The Moor's Last Sigh, Julie Dash's Daughters of the Dust, and Stephen Frears' and Hanif Kureishi's Sammy and Rosie Get Laid. Coining the term magicorealism to characterize these works, Aldama not only creates a postethnic critical methodology for enlarging the contact zone between the genres of novel, film, and autobiography but also shatters the interpretive lens that traditionally confuses the transcription of the real world where truth and falsity apply with narrative modes governed by other criteria.

Contemporary Perspectives in English Language Studies: Linguistics and Literature (Penerbit USM) Sarjit Kaur, Shakila Abdul Manan, 2014-11

Discussing contemporary perspectives and new developments in the field of English language studies has gained ascendancy in view of the fact that such concerns about learning and teaching English make important contributions to society. Such discussions are of critical importance in today's globalised societies and more needs to be done towards collaboratively presenting the growing wealth of quality research in linguistics and literature. Linguists and scholars continue to champion the need to interrogate the discourse of literary and language texts using a number of critical frameworks that help sensitise readers to the ideological nature of literary discourse and the ways in which certain dominant ideas of nation, race, ethnicity, and gender are ratified or challenged. Readers need to be constantly challenged to think, interpret, and evaluate differing views and perspectives. The collection of chapters in this book explores contemporary issues and perspectives in linguistics and literature among educators and researchers whose primary focus is to examine the manner in which English is used for various educational purposes, from traditional curriculum demands to answering broader questions about human knowledge, global citizenship, and social engagement.

Ordinary Enchantments Wendy B. Faris, 2004. Ordinary Enchantments investigates magical realism as the most important trend in contemporary international fiction, defines its characteristics and narrative techniques, and proposes a new theory to explain its significance. In the most comprehensive critical treatment of this literary mode to date, Wendy B. Faris discusses a rich array of examples from magical realist novels around the world, including the work not only of Latin American writers like Gabriel Garcia Marquez but also of authors like Salman Rushdie, Gunter Grass, Toni Morrison, and Ben Okri. Faris argues that by combining realistic representation with fantastic elements so that the marvelous seems to grow organically out of the ordinary, magical realism destabilizes the dominant form of realism based on empirical definitions of reality, gives it visionary power, and thus constitutes what might be called a remystification of narrative in the West. Noting the radical narrative heterogeneity of magical realism, the author compares its cultural role to that of traditional shamanic performance, which joins the worlds of daily life and that of the spirits. Because of that capacity to bridge different worlds magical realism has served as an effective decolonizing agent providing the ground for marginal voices submerged traditions and emergent literatures to develop and create masterpieces At the same time this process is not limited to postcolonial situations but constitutes a global trend that replenishes realism from within In addition to describing what many consider to be the progressive cultural work of magical realism Faris also confronts the recent accusation that magical realism and its study as a global phenomenon can be seen as a form of commodification and an imposition of cultural homogeneity And finally drawing on the narrative innovations and cultural scenarios that magical realism enacts she extends those principles toward issues of gender and the possibility of a female element within magical realism

Magic Realism, World Cinema, and the Avant-Garde Felicity Gee, 2021-04-19 This book follows the hybrid and contradictory history of magic realism through the writings of three key figures art historian Franz Roh novelist Alejo Carpentier and cultural critic Fredric Jameson drawing links between their political aesthetic and philosophical ideas on art's relationship to reality Magic realism is vast in scope spanning almost a century and is often confused with neighbouring styles of literature or art most notably surrealism The fascinating conditions of modernist Europe are complex and contradictory a spirit that magic realism has taken on as it travels far and wide The filmmakers and writers in this book acknowledge the importance of feeling atmosphere and mood to subtly provoke and resist global capitalism There is the history of magic realist cinema The book explores this history through the modernist avant garde in search of a new theory of cinematic magic realism It uncovers a resistant geopolitical form of world cinema moving from Europe through Latin America and the former Soviet Union to Thailand that emerges from these ideas This book is invaluable to any reader interested in world modernism's in relation to contemporary cinema and geopolitics Its sustained analysis of film as a sensory intermedial medium is of interest to scholars working across the visual arts literature critical theory and film philosophy

Reading Rushdie, 2021-11-01 Salman Rushdie is perhaps the most important writer of the present time His significant and controversial literary interventions in debates on post colonial culture and contemporary South Asian Islam are matched by the contribution he has made to postmodern literature in the West culminating in the award to him in 1993 of the twenty fifth anniversary Booker of Bookers prize This collection of articles focuses on Rushdie's five novels The context is set by the introduction The Politics of Salman Rushdie's Fiction which discusses the political stance of Rushdie's fiction the various influences on his work and the textual strategies and techniques he employs for political expression and cultural critique The postmodern post colonial interface the carnivalesque and satire are major themes treated here and in the articles that follow which also provide diverse other perspectives on Rushdie's thought and method A number of essays have been commissioned specially for this volume An appendix listing selected writings by Rushdie and articles on the Satanic Verses Affair is followed by a comprehensive bibliography annotating critical studies of Rushdie's work

Baby-boom Daydreams Douglas Bourgeois, Dan Cameron, Estill Curtis Pennington, David S. Rubin, 2003 This monograph features the work of Douglas

Bourgeois a figurative artist whose meticulously detailed paintings and sculptural assemblages present icons of popular culture as well as ordinary people from Louisiana's diverse populations. Bourgeois work often portrays religious imagery and environmental concerns and the political issues expressed in the rock and roll and movies he loves. He fuses private fantasy with a kind of social document exploring everything from racial tensions to violence both domestic and public. The artist like the figures he depicts searches for magic or spiritual qualities in everyday life. Ultimately he and his art seek redemption.

The Lives and Deaths of Jubrail Dabdoub Jacob Norris, 2023-01-24 This is the fantastical yet real story of the merchants of Bethlehem the young men who traveled to every corner of the globe in the nineteenth century. These men set off on the backs of donkeys with suitcases full of crosses and rosaries to return via steamship with suitcases stuffed with French francs Philippine pesos or Salvadoran colones. They returned with news of mysterious lands and strange inventions clocks trains and other devices that both befuddled and bewitched the Bethlehemites. With newfound wealth these merchants built shimmering pink mansions that transformed Bethlehem from a rural village into Palestine's wealthiest and most cosmopolitan town. At the center of these extraordinary occurrences lived Jubrail Dabdoub. The Lives and Deaths of Jubrail Dabdoub tells the story of Jubrail's encounters offering a version of Palestinian history rarely acknowledged. From his childhood in rural Bethlehem to later voyages across Europe East Asia and the Americas Jubrail's story culminates in a recorded miracle in 1909 he was brought back from the dead. To tell such a tale is to delve into the realms of the fantastic and improbable. Through the story of Jubrail's life Jacob Norris explores the porous lines between history and fiction the normal and the paranormal the everyday and the extraordinary. Drawing on aspects of magical realism combined with elements of Palestinian folklore Norris recovers the atmosphere of late nineteenth century Bethlehem a mood of excitement disorientation and wonder as the town was thrust into a new era. As the book offers an original approach to historical writing it captures a fantastic story of global encounter and exchange.

Lost Homelands Audrey Goodman, 2022-02-08 Before the 1930s landscapes of the American Southwest represented the migrant's dream of a stable and bountiful homeland. Around the time of the Great Depression however the Southwest suddenly became integrated into a much larger economic and cultural system. Audrey Goodman examines how since that time these southwestern landscapes have come to reveal the resulting fragmentation of identity and community. Through analyzing a variety of texts and images Goodman illuminates the ways that modern forces such as militarization environmental degradation internal migration and an increased border patrol presence have shattered the perception of a secure homeland in the Southwest. The deceptive natural beauty of the Southwest deserts shields a dark history of trauma and decimation that has remained as a shadow on the region's psyche. The first to really synthesize such wide ranging material about the effects of the atomic age in the Southwest Goodman realizes the value of combined visual and verbal art and uses it to put forth her own original ideas about reconstructing a new sense of homeland. Lost Homelands reminds us of the adversity and dislocation suffered by people of the Southwest by looking at the ways that artists photographers filmmakers and writers have grappled with these problems for decades In assessing the ruination of the region however Goodman argues that those same artists and writers have begun to reassemble a new sense of homeland from these fragments

Catching Butterflies Maria Takolander, 2007

Magical realism was one of the most significant literary developments in the last century It has become synonymous with the seductive fictions of writers such as Gabriel García Márquez Salman Rushdie Toni Morrison Ben Okri Jeanette Winterson and Peter Carey However the genre has also become known for its theoretical indeterminacy In fact exoticist speculation inspired by the links between magical realist literature and the world's cultural or political margins has thrown the category into critical disrepute This book rescues magical realism from misreadings and misdemeanours tracing the historical development of the literary genre and analysing an original spectrum of magical realist texts from Latin America Africa India Canada the US the UK and Australia It asks such questions as How did magical realism come to take over the world What is the nature of its allure Also how does the marginal status of its authors inform the genre Does magical realism have a political agenda This book uses postcolonial theory to investigate notions of cultural identity and post structural theory to examine the narrative strategies of magical realism presenting a comprehensive historical and theoretical overview of the genre and a politically urgent argument about its subversive potentialities
