Magills Survey Of Cinema Silent Films:

Magill's Survey of Cinema--silent Films Frank Northern Magill, 1982 A survey of more than 375 silent movies from 1902 to 1936 giving an account of the story line along with an examination of and special indexing for the directing cinematography editing screenwriting performing and the history of all early studios Magill's Survey of Cinema: Silent Films F. N. Magill, 1982 Magill's Survey of Cinema: Silent Films F. N. Magill, 1982 Music and the Silent Film Martin Miller Marks, 1997-02-13 In this book a leading authority on film music examines scores of the silent film era The first of three projected volumes investigating music written for films this thoughtful and pathbreaking study demonstrates the richness of silent film music as it details the way in which scores were often planned from the start as an integral part of the whole cinematic experience Following an introductory chapter that outlines several key theoretical questions and surveys eight decades of writing on film music Martin Miller Marks focuses on those scores created between 1895 and 1924 He begins by considering two early examples one German written by persons unknown for Skladanowsky's Bioskop exhibitions in 1895 and 1896 and one French scored by Camille Saint Saëns for the 1908 film L'Assassinat du Duc de Guise Subsequent chapters fully discuss Walter Cleveland Simon's music for the American film An Arabian Tragedy 1912 as well as the Joseph Breil accompaniment to D W Griffith's Birth of a Nation 1915 As described in this book Breil's memorable score though a compilation derived from many sources was played by an orchestra as Griffith's sweeping images filled the screen thus contributing significantly to the great film's success while also achieving remarkable power in its own right Marks then concludes with a look at Erik Satie's witty and innovative music for the French film Entr'acte 1924 which was the first film score of consequence by an avant garde composer Giving unprecedented attention to a vibrant important and oft neglected facet of twentieth century music Music and the Silent Film will interest scholars of film theory film history modern music and modern aesthetics Guide to the Silent Years of American Cinema Christophe P. Jacobs, Donald McCaffrey, 1999-09-30 The latest offering from the Reference Guides to the World's Cinema series this critical survey of key films actors directors and screenwriters during the silent era of the American cinema offers a broad ranging portrait of the motion picture production of silent film Detailed but concise alphabetical entries include over 100 film titles and 150 personnel An introductory chapter explores the early growth of the new silent medium while the final chapter of this encyclopedic study examines the sophistication of the silent cinema These two chapters outline film history from its beginnings until the perfection of synchronized sound and reflect upon the themes and techniques established with the silent cinema that continued into the sound era through modern times The annotated entries alphabetically arranged by film title or personnel include brief bibliographies and filmographies An appendix lists secondary but important movies and their creators Film and popular culture scholars will appreciate the vast amount of information that has been culled from various sources and that builds upon the increased studies and research of the past ten years European Silent Films on Video William B.

Parrill,2015-06-08 This book is a critical encyclopedia of silent European films currently available on DVD laser disc and VHS It provides concise and accurate summaries of the films evaluates the quality of the prints discusses the changing reputations of both films and filmmakers and considers how the techniques developed during the silent period continue to influence filmmaking today The book cites contemporary and recent criticism of the films and includes an extensive bibliography as well as a list of films by director Numerous photos are also included Magill's Cinema Annual 1983 Ryan A Smith, Frank N. The Reel Middle Ages Kevin J. Harty, 2015-08-13 Those tales of old King Arthur Robin Hood The Crusades Marco Polo Joan of Arc have been told and retold and the tradition of their telling has been gloriously upheld by filmmaking from its very inception From the earliest of Georges Melies's films in 1897 to a 1996 animated Hunchback of Notre Dame film has offered not just fantasy but exploration of these roles so vital to the modern psyche St Joan has undergone the transition from peasant girl to self-assured saint and Camelot has transcended the soundstage to evoke the Kennedys in the White House Here is the first comprehensive survey of more than 900 cinematic depictions of the European Middle Ages date of production country of origin director production company cast and a synopsis and commentary A bibliography index and over 100 stills complete this remarkable work

Damsels and Divas Agata Frymus, 2020-04-17 Damsels and Divas examines the careers of three European stars of silent Hollywood Pola Negri Vilma Bánky and Jetta Goudal Through the interrogation of their star personae as depicted by their on-screen presence film magazines fan letters popular press and promotional material it analyses the meanings of Europeanness and whiteness in the United States

Working-Class Hollywood Steven J. Ross, 2020-06-30 This path-breaking book reveals how Hollywood became Hollywood and what that meant for the politics of America and American film Working-Class Hollywood tells the story of filmmaking in the first three decades of the twentieth century a time when going to the movies could transform lives and when the cinema was a battleground for control of American consciousness Steven Ross documents the rise of a working-class film movement that challenged the dominant political ideas of the day Between 1907 and 1930 worker filmmakers repeatedly clashed with censors movie industry leaders and federal agencies over the kinds of images and subjects audiences would be allowed to see The outcome of these battles was critical to our own times for the victors got to shape the meaning of class in twentieth-century America Surveying several hundred movies made by or about working men and women Ross shows how filmmakers were far more concerned with class conflict during the silent era than at any subsequent time Directors like Charlie Chaplin D.W. Griffith and William de Mille made movies that defended working people and chastised their enemies Worker filmmakers went a step further and produced movies from A Martyr to His Cause 1911 to The Gastonia Textile Strike 1929 that depicted a unified working class using strikes unions and socialism to transform a nation J. Edgar Hoover considered these class-conscious productions so dangerous that he assigned secret agents to spy on worker filmmakers Liberal and radical films declined in the 1920s as an emerging Hollywood studio system pressured by censors and Wall Street investors pushed American film in increasingly conservative directions Appealing to people's dreams of luxury and upward mobility studios produced lavish fantasy films that shifted popular attention away from the problems of the workplace and toward the pleasures of the new consumer society While worker filmmakers were trying to heighten class consciousness Hollywood producers were suggesting that class no longer mattered Working-Class Hollywood shows how silent films helped shape the modern belief that we are a classless nation The First Female Stars David W. Menefee, 2004-03-30 The First Female Stars Women of the Silent Era rediscovers the fascinating lives and pioneering achievements of 15 women who dared to venture into early motion pictures an industry dominated by men and who not only succeeded but became the focal points of the industry Each star earned a position at the height of her profession and though many are largely forgotten today made a lasting and significant contribution to early cinema In this entertaining and informative volume author David Menefee reveals these women and their signature roles drawing on many original sources to show us how such actresses as Theda Bara Sarah Bernhardt Dorothy Gish and Norma Talmadge were received in their time and the many ways in which their influence remains important today Each profile contains a biographical treatment an analysis of key films from her career a discussion of the actress's influence on the medium and selected filmography Each also includes two photographs most often one of the actress herself and a still from a film The Roman Mistress , 2002-03-14 From Latin love poetry's dominating and enslaving beloveds to modern popular culture's infamous Cleopatras and Messalinas representations of the Roman mistress or the mistress of Romans have brought into question both ancient and modern genders and political systems The Roman Mistress explores representations of transgressive women in Latin love poetry and British television drama in Roman historiography and nineteenth century Italian anthropology on classical coinage and college websites as poetic metaphor and in the Hollywood star system In a highly accessible style the book makes an important and original contribution simultaneously to feminist scholarship on antiquity the classical tradition and cultural studies The Facts on File Guide to Research Jeff Lenburg, 2014-05-14 The Facts On File Guide to Research is a comprehensive guide to doing thorough and accurate research It includes a detailed listing of available resources and explains general research methods and proper citation of sources An invaluable reference this book helps researchers make use of the many new resources available today Divided into four sections this easy to use guide helps students and general readers prepare for research papers and class studies Step by step guides detailed explanations and valuable appendixes covering style guides such as APA MLA and The Chicago Manual of Style combine to create an incredibly authoritative accessible reference
