necessary to develop role competency Leadership for Human Development: the International Leadership Series (Book Four) Oscar Arias, 2003-07 Distinguished leaders such as Oscar Arias and Harriet Fulbright as well as distinguished leadership scholars including Bernard Bass and Bruce Llyod address the issues and challenges of leadership and its relation to human development Combat Leader's Field Guide Jeff Kirkham, 2015-03-01 A guide to the basic skills all soldiers sailors and Marines must know to prevail in small unit dismounted combat operations including planning battle drills for offense and defense operations patrols construction and emplacement of fighting positions use of weapons and call for fire land navigation and map reading communications close quarter battle and tactical combat casualty care The Igbo-Igala Borderland Austin J. Shelton, 1971-06-30 This ethno historical survey of the northern Nsukka borderland examines particularly one method of African colonial control When in the late eighteenth century the Igala conquered the indigenous Igbo they gained and held social control through monopoly of certain religious positions However despite conscious effort to maintain Igala religious lineages these gradually became Igbonized In delineating this religious social control Professor Shelton describes extensively border conditions and the nature of Igbo life in the Nsukka area He dwells particularly on the Igbo religious framework which includes well disposed beneficent spirits and more capricious and potentially more hostile outside spirits called alusi The invading Igala installed their own men as priests or attama to the dangerous alusi thereby becoming the sole mediators between these spirits and the Igbo Since the attama also controlled most divination which is employed to explain any unclear or mysterious phenomenon there was no essential social activity the Igala attama could not influence Professor Shelton shows how the Igbo attempted to circumvent the alusi worship by emphasizing various aspects of familial worship of the ancestors the High God Earth but how this attempt failed because these essentially friendly beings did not require propitiation while it was demanded by the alusi On the other hand although the Igala attempted to keep the attama lineages Igala these families gradually formed so many connections with Igbo families that they eventually Igbonized even though they retained a nominal Igala identification Professor Shelton's description of religious activity in the borderland is clear and original He makes extensive use of material gathered in the field particularly oral transmissions and pays marked attention to linguistic clues for information In extended descriptions of religious ceremonies Professor Shelton provides evidence that the social control maneuvers of both the Igala and the Igbo are revealed in the content of their prayers An appendix gives important material concerning the origin of these borderland people and a glossary of Igbo terms provides diacritical marks to aid pronunciation of these words which have little standard orthography The work is also supplemented with maps charts and photographs Official Report of the Proceedings and Debates ... Church of the United Brethren in Christ (1800-1889).
