Arab American Aesthetics Therí Pickens, 2018-01-19

Arab American Aesthetics enlists a wide range of voices to explore if not tentatively define what could constitute Arab American aesthetics in literature material culture film and theatre This book seeks to unsettle current conversations within Arab American Studies that neglect aesthetics as a set of choices and constraints Rather than divorce aesthetics from politics the book sutures the two more closely together by challenging the causal relationship so often attributed to them The conversations include formal choices but also extend to the broad idea of what makes a work distinctly Arab American That is what about its beauty ugliness sublimity or humor is explicitly tied to it as part of a tradition of Arab American arts The book opens up the ways that we discuss Arab American literary and fine arts so that we understand how Arab American identity and experience begets Arab American artistic enterprise Split into three sections the first offers a set of theoretical propositions for understanding aesthetics that traverse Arab American cultural production The second section focuses on material culture as a way to think through the creation of objects as an aesthetic enterprise The final section looks at narratives in theatre and how the impact of such a medium has the potential to recreate in both senses of the word play and invention By shifting the conversation from identity politics to the relationship between politics and aesthetics this book provides an important contribution to Arab American studies It will also appeal to students and scholars of ethnic studies museum studies and cultural studies

Dancing the World Smaller Rebekah J. Kowal, 2020 Dancing the World Smaller examines international dance performances in New York City in the 1940s as sites in which dance artists and audiences contested what it meant to practice globalism in mid twentieth century America During and after the Second World War modern dance and ballet thrived in New York City a fertile cosmopolitan environment in which dance was celebrated as an emblem of American artistic and cultural dominance In the ensuing Cold War years American choreographers and companies were among those the U S government sent abroad to serve as ambassadors of American cultural values and to extend the nation s geo political reach Less known is that international dance performance or what was then called ethnic or ethnologic dance enjoyed strong support among audiences in the city and across the nation as well Produced in non traditional dance venues such as the American Museum of Natural History the Ethnologic Dance Center and Carnegie Hall these performances elevated dance as an intercultural bridge across human differences and dance artists as transcultural interlocutors Dancing the World Smaller draws on extensive archival resources as well as critical and historical studies of race and ethnicity in the U S to uncover a hidden history of globalism in American dance and to see artists such as La Meri Ruth St Denis Asadata Dafora Pearl Primus Jos Lim n Ram Gopal and Charles Weidman in new light Debates about how to practice globalism in dance proxied larger cultural struggles over how to reconcile the nation s new role as a global superpower In dance as in cultural politics Americans labored over how to realize diversity while honoring difference and manage dueling impulses toward globalism on the one hand and isolationism on the other Shows of Force Timothy W. Luke, 1992 It has long been considered a mark of na vet to ask of a work of art What does it say But as Timothy W Luke demonstrates in Shows of Force artwork is capable of saying plenty and much of the message resides in the way it is exhibited By critically examining the exhibition of art in contemporary American museums Luke identifies how art showings are elaborate works of theater that reveal underlying political social and economic agendas The first section Envisioning a Past Imagining the West looks at art exhibitions devoted to artworks about or from the American West Luke shows how these exhibitions displaying nineteenth and early twentieth century works by artists such as George Caleb Bingham Frederic Remington Frederic Edwin Church and Georgia O Keefe express contemporary political agendas in the way they portray the past and shape new visions of the West In Developing the Present Defining a World Luke considers artists from the post 1945 era including Ilya Kabakov Hans Haacke Sue Coe Roger Brown and Robert Longo Recent art exhibits his analysis reveals attempt to develop politically charged conceptions of the present which in turn struggle to define the changing contemporary world and art s various roles within it Luke brings to light the contradictions encoded in the exhibition of art and in doing so illuminates the political realities and cultural ideologies of the present Shows of Force offers a timely and surely controversial contribution to current discussions of the politics of exhibiting art
