My Arabian Days and Nights Eleanor Jane Taylor Calverley, 1958 Kuwait its land its people My Arabian Days and Nights Eleanor Jane Taylor Calverley, 1958 Kuwait its land its people Arabian Days and Nights; Or, Rays from the East Marguerite A. Power, 1863 Arabian Days' Entertainments Wilhelm Hauff, 1882 Arabian Days' Entertainments Wilhelm Hauff, 2022-10-24 Reprint of the original first published in 1859 Christianity in Oman Andrew David Thompson, 2019-10-31 This book explores the relationship between the distinctive Islamic beliefs Ibadism of Oman and how they define the experience of the church with regards to religious freedom Oman is a nation with a long and glorious history of maritime trade stretching from China and India to the East coast of Africa From sultan to shopkeeper farmer to craftsman the citizens of Oman embrace a surprising diversity of cultural heritage ranging from Baluchi Persian Yemeni and East African Yet there has hitherto been very little research about Christianity in this part of the world Through the use of historical research interviews and theological discourse Andrew David Thompson analyzes and reveals the distinctive experience of the Church in Oman Pre-School Education in the Arab World Huda Nashif, 2020-09-23 The organized play of the pre school child with a group of peers in an educational atmosphere is now recognised as an important element in child development The Arab states of the Gulf as indeed most of the emerging countries place special emphasis on the education of the young generation and are therefore particularly interested in the creation of pre school education This book first published in 1985 highlights the interplay in Kuwait of the traditional Islamic Arab approach to education with the more Western influenced ideas on the education of the pre school child Arab Family Studies Suad Joseph, 2018-07-10 Family remains the most powerful social idiom and one of the most powerful social structures throughout the Arab world To engender love of nation among its citizens national movements portray the nation as a family To motivate loyalty political leaders frame themselves as fathers mothers brothers or sisters to their clients parties or the citizenry To stimulate production economic actors evoke the sense of duty and mutual commitment of family obligation To sanctify their edicts clerics wrap religion in the moralities of family and family in the moralities of religion Social and political movements from the most secular to the most religious pull on the tender strings of family love to recruit and bind their members to each other To call someone family is to offer them almost the highest possible intimacy loyalty rights reciprocities and dignity In recognizing the significance of the concept of family this state of the art literature review captures the major theories methods and case studies carried out on Arab families over the past century The book offers a country by country critical assessment of the available scholarship on Arab families Sixteen chapters focus on specific countries or groups of countries seven chapters offer examinations of the literature on key topical issues Joseph's volume provides an indispensable resource to researchers and students and advances Arab family studies as a critical independent field of scholarship Kuwait: Prospect and Reality H.V.F. Winstone, Zahra Freeth, 2017-08-18 For many the story of this small Arabian state begins and ends with the wealth that has accrued from its vast oil deposits But the real fascination of Kuwait lies in its geological and archaeological history in its long struggle for survival among powerful neighbours in its ambitious plans for industrial and economic development This book first published in 1972 shows the effects of the new material wealth opened up by oil in relation to the country's remote past and its Islamic background Routledge Library Editions: Kuwait Various Authors,2021-03-18 This set collects together a range of books that together examine a broad spectrum of issues relating to Kuwait Two titles examine the key question of Kuwait's reliance on immigrant labour another analyses the growth and stability of the oil dependent economy other titles focus on aspects of Kuwait's social experience Together they are a key reference source on Kuwait its economy and its people Playing the Game Penelope Tuson,2003-10-24 The lives of the Western women who lived worked and travelled in Arabia in the first half of the 20th century have been largely ignored by historians Penelope Tuson tells the stories of these women Sometimes flamboyant and unconventional sometimes conservative and conformist all of them wanted in some way to be a part of British imperial life Some were prepared to play the game others were not and could even be regarded as difficult and dangerous Playing the Game explores how these women negotiated power and position in the Empire and how conventional female roles were defined by the masculine perspectives and hierarchies of imperial authority often with the collusion of the women themselves actively but also sometimes despite their attempts to subvert the stereotypes American Interests and Policies in the Middle East, 1900-1939 John A. DeNovo,1963-11-29 American Interests and Policies in the Middle East 1900-1939 was first published in 1963 Minnesota Archive Editions uses digital technology to make long unavailable books once again accessible and are published unaltered from the original University of Minnesota Press editions Scholars concerned with the diplomatic history of the United States have largely neglected the subject of American relations with the Middle East during the four decades before World War I With this study Professor DeNovo fills the gap by describing and assessing the United States cultural economic and diplomatic relations with Turkey Persia and the Arab East in that period He traces chronologically and topically the activities of such American interest groups as Protestant missionaries educators philanthropists archaeologists businessmen and technical advisers as well as the official actions of their government The account falls roughly into three chronological periods The first section traces the interest groups through the pre World War I years of political and cultural stirring in the Ottoman Empire and Persia Special attention is given to the Chester Project for railroad development in Turkey The second part deals with the upheavals accompanying World War I and the tasks of peacemaking from the Mudros armistice through the Lausanne settlement of 1923 The latter chapters detail the rise of the Turkish national movement the deepening Persian and Arab nationalism and the accommodation of American cultural and economic groups to these conditions The author points out that before World War II began Americans had acquired a significant interest in Middle Eastern oil and had become emotionally involved in the Arab Zionist tension In 1939 the United States was on the verge of a new phase in its Middle Eastern relations when that region would become more intimately linked to America's national security

Re-Inventing Islam Deanna Ferree Womack, 2025 From the end of the American Civil War to the start of World War II the Protestant missionary movement unintentionally tilled the soil in which American Islamophobia would eventually take root What ideas did missionaries in Islamic contexts pass on to later generations How were these ideas connected to centuries old Protestant discourses about Muslims and gender beginning in the Reformation And what bearing does this history have on the birth of Islamophobia and on Christian Muslim dialogue efforts in the US today In answering these questions Re-inventing Islam traces the gender constructs that have informed historical Protestant perceptions of Islam especially in the far reaching textual visual and material influences of the American and British movement for missions to Muslims This book first considers Protestant discourse about Muslim women and men from the Reformation to the Enlightenment Then it turns to the colossal archive of literature images and cultural objects that missionaries and particularly missionary women collected from Islamic contexts and used to inform and motivate their constituents Anglo Protestants in the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries perpetually re invented stereotypes about Muslims and used these negative images to achieve particular Protestant theological and political purposes including missionary aims They did so when disseminating gender critiques widely to Protestant men women and children Why did they re invent Islam Deanna Ferree Womack argues that they did so to reinforce Protestant theological claims to justify their evangelistic endeavors to express both humanitarian concern and Eurocentric views of the world and to support British and American cultural economic and military expansion Simultaneously however this same missionary movement educated its constituents about diverse Islamic cultures in part by providing humanizing images of Islam Missionaries also formed personal relationships with Muslims that would open pathways toward formal efforts of Christian Muslim dialogue after the mid twentieth century Americans have inherited all of these legacies In revisiting this history readers will find new possibilities for building a more open and just future

Bibliography of Periodical Literature on the Near and Middle East ,1958 Getting God's Ear Eleanor Abdella Doumato,2000 A detailed study of the role of religious worship and spiritual affairs in women s lives in the twentieth century Arab world

Kuwait Transformed Farah Al-Nakib,2016-04-13 As the first Gulf city to experience oil urbanization Kuwait City s transformation in the mid twentieth century inaugurated a now familiar regional narrative a small traditional town of mudbrick courtyard houses and plentiful foot traffic transformed into a modern city with marble fronted buildings vast suburbs and wide highways In Kuwait Transformed Farah Al Nakib connects the city s past and present from its settlement in 1716 to the twenty first century through the bridge of oil discovery She traces the relationships between the urban landscape patterns and practices of everyday life and social behaviors and relations in Kuwait The history that emerges reveals how decades of urban planning suburbanization and privatization have eroded an open tolerant society and given rise to the insularity xenophobia and divisiveness that characterize Kuwaiti social relations today The book makes a call for a restoration of the city that modern planning eliminated But this is not simply a case of nostalgia for a lost landscape lifestyle or community It is a claim for a right to the city the right of all inhabitants to shape and use the spaces of their city to meet their own needs and desires
