No Place to be Somebody Charles Gordone, 1969 Ebony, 1970-07 EBONY is the flagship magazine of Johnson Publishing Founded in 1945 by John H Johnson it still maintains the highest global circulation of any African American focused magazine Black World/Negro Digest, 1970-04 Founded in 1943 Negro Digest later Black World was the publication that launched Johnson Publishing During the most turbulent years of the civil rights movement Negro Digest Black World served as a critical vehicle for political thought for supporters of the movement Prefiguring Postblackness Carol Bunch Davis, 2015-11-23 Prefiguring Postblackness explores the tensions between cultural memory of the African American freedom struggle and representations of African American identity staged in five plays between 1959 and 1969 during the civil rights era Through close readings of the plays their popular and African American print media reviews and the cultural context in which they were produced Carol Bunch Davis shows how these representations complicate narrow ideas of blackness which often limit the freedom struggle era to Martin Luther King's nonviolent protest and cast Malcolm X's black nationalism as undermining the civil rights movement's advances These five plays strategically revise the rhetoric representations ideologies and iconography of the African American freedom struggle subverting its dominant narrative This revision critiques racial uplift ideology's tenets of civic and moral virtue as a condition of African American full citizenship The dramas also reimagine the Black Arts movement's restrictive notions of black authenticity as a condition of racial identity and their staged representations construct a counter narrative to cultural memory of the freedom struggle during that very era In their use of a postblack ethos to enact African American subjectivity the plays envision black identity beyond the quest for freedom anticipating what blackness might look like when it moves beyond the struggle The plays under discussion range from the canonical Lorraine Hansberry's A Raisin in the Sun and Amiri Baraka's Dutchman to celebrated yet understudied works Alice Childress's Wine in the Wilderness Howard Sackler's The Great White Hope and Charles Gordone's No Place to Be Somebody Finally Davis discusses recent revivals showing how these 1960s plays shape dimensions of modern drama well beyond the decade of their creation Ebony, 1970-07 EBONY is the flagship magazine of Johnson Publishing Founded in 1945 by John H Johnson it still maintains the highest global circulation of any African American focused magazine African American Dramatists Emmanuel S. Nelson, 2004-10-30 Despite their significant contributions to the American theater African American dramatists have received less critical attention than novelists and poets This reference offers thorough critical assessments of the lives and works of African American playwrights from the 19th century to the present The book alphabetically arranges entries on more than 60 dramatists including James Baldwin Arna Bontemps Ossie Davis Zora Neale Hurston and Richard Wright Each entry is written by an expert contributor and includes a biography a discussion of major works and themes a summary of the playwright's critical reception and primary and secondary bibliographies The volume closes with a selected general bibliography African American dramatists have made enormous contributions to the theater and actresses whose names have shone brightly on Broadway marquees earned their place in history not only through hard work perseverance and talent but also because of the legacy left by those who came before them Like the doors of many professions those of the theater world were shut to minorities for decades While the Civil War may have freed the slaves it was not until the Civil Rights Movement of the 1960s that the playing field began to level In this remarkable book theater producer and historian Stewart F Lane uses words and pictures to capture this tumultuous century and to highlight the rocky road that black actors have travelled to reach recognition on the Great White Way After the Civil War the popularity of the minstrel shows grew by leaps and bounds throughout the country African Americans were portrayed by whites who would entertain audiences in black face While the depiction of blacks was highly demeaning it opened the door to African American performers and by the late 1800s a number of them were playing to full houses By the 1920s the Jazz Age was in full swing allowing black musicians and composers to reach wider audiences And in the thirties musicals such as George Gershwin's Porgy and Bess and Eubie Blake's Swing It opened the door a little wider As the years passed black performers continued to gain ground In the 1940s Broadway productions of Cabin in the Sky Carmen Jones and St Louis Woman enabled African Americans to demonstrate a fuller range of talents and Paul Robeson reached national prominence in his award-winning portrayal of Othello By the 1950s and 60s more black actors including Ruby Dee Ossie Davis and Sidney Poitier had found their voices on stage and black playwrights and directors had begun to make their marks Black Broadway provides an entertaining poignant history of a Broadway of which few are aware By focusing a spotlight on both performers long forgotten and on those whom we still hold dear this unique book offers a story well worth telling
