Ostinato Vamps:

Ostinato Vamps Wanda Coleman, 2014-08-29 Ostinato Vamps is Wanda Coleman's first book of poetry since the demise of her longtime publisher Black Sparrow Press. It continues and enlarges the traits that have been her hallmark for more than three decades: a fierce adherence to the truth and a language so musical one can almost hear the blues line underneath her stanzas. Linguistically daring, lyrically breathtaking, stylistically bold, these poems both explore familiar territory and shatter stereotypes. Life is difficult, often unfair, but it belongs to the living, as Coleman reminds us in no uncertain terms. Racing between an earthy eroticism and fatalistic despair, filled with humor and tragedy, these poems are alive. They breathe. They challenge us, even as they reward us for seeking the truth.

The Routledge Companion to Literature and Class Gloria McMillan, 2021-09-01 The Routledge Companion to Literature and Class offers a comprehensive and fresh assessment of the cultural impact of class in literature, analyzing various innovative interdisciplinary approaches of textual analysis and intersections of literature including class subjectivities, mental health, gender, and queer studies, critical race theory, quantitative and scientific methods, and transnational perspectives in literary analysis. Utilizing these new methods and interdisciplinary maps from field-defining essayists, students will become aware of ways to bring these elusive texts into their own writing, as one of the parallel perspectives through which to view literature. This volume will provide students with an insight into the history of the intersections of class theory of class and invisibility in literature and new trends in exploring class in literature. These multidimensional approaches to literature will be a crucial resource for undergraduate and graduate students becoming familiar with class analysis and will offer seasoned scholars the most significant critical approaches in class studies.

the déjà vu Gabrielle Civil, 2022-02-22 Gabrielle Civil mines black dreams and black time to reveal a vibrant archive of black feminist creative expressions. Emerging from the intersection of pandemic and uprising, the dj vu activates forms both new and ancestral, drawing movement, speech, and lyric essay into performance memoir. As Civil considers Haitian tourist paintings, dance rituals, race at the movies, black feminist legacies, and more, she reflects on her personal losses and desires, speculates on black time and dreams into expansive black life. With intimacy, humor, and verve, the dj vu blurs boundaries between memory, grief, and love, then now and the future.

Into a Light Both Brilliant and Unseen Malin Pereira, 2010-12-01 Malin Pereira's collection of eight interviews with leading contemporary African American poets offers an in-depth look at the cultural and aesthetic perspectives of the post-Black Arts Movement generation. This volume includes unpublished interviews Pereira conducted with Wanda Coleman, Yusef Komunyakaa, Thylas Moss, Harryette Mullen, Cornelius Eady, and Elizabeth Alexander, as well as conversations with Rita Dove and Cyrus Cassells, previously in print. Largely published since 1980, each of these poets has at least four books. Their influence on new generations of poets has been wide-reaching. The work of this group, says Pereira, is a departure from the previous generation's proscriptive manifestos in favor of more inclusive voices, perspectives, and techniques. Although these poets reject a rigid adherence to a specific black aesthetic, their work just as effectively probes racism stereotyping and racial politics Unlike Amiri Baraka's claim in Home that he becomes blacker and blacker positioning race as a defining essence these poets imagine a plurality of ideas about the relationship between blackness and black poetry They question the idea of an established literary canon defining black literature For these poets Pereira says the idea of home is found both in black poetry circles and in the wider transnational community of literature A Sarah Mills Hodge Foundation Publication

Black Nature Camille T. Dungy,2009 Black Nature is the first anthology to focus on nature writing by African American poets a genre that until now has not commonly been counted as one in which African American poets have participated Black poets have a long tradition of incorporating treatments of the natural world into their work but it is often read as political historical or protest poetry anything but nature poetry This is particularly true when the definition of what constitutes nature writing is limited to work about the pastoral or the wild Camille T Dungy has selected 180 poems from 93 poets that provide unique perspectives on American social and literary history to broaden our concept of nature poetry and African American poetics This collection features major writers such as Phillis Wheatley Rita Dove Yusef Komunyakaa Gwendolyn Brooks Sterling Brown Robert Hayden Wanda Coleman Natasha Trethewey and Melvin B Tolson as well as newer talents such as Douglas Kearney Major Jackson and Janice Harrington Included are poets writing out of slavery Reconstruction the Harlem Renaissance the Black Arts Movement and late twentieth and early twenty first century African American poetic movements Black Nature brings to the fore a neglected and vital means of considering poetry by African Americans and nature related poetry as a whole A Friends Fund Publication
