A Battlefield of Ideas Tadeusz Debski, 2001 Written by a concentration camp survivor Battlefield of Ideas draws upon personal experience and historical sources largely unknown to American scholars to provide an in depth examination of life inside the camps and the survival tactics of Polish prisoners Debski offers a new battlefield model for studying the camps that emphasizes the prisoners actions against Nazi power and stands as a powerful critique of older explanatory models put forth by prominent scholars such as Hannah Arendt and Lawrence Langer that assume prisoners were unable to resist Reflecting the range of responses in the camps up to and including resistance Debski presents a typology of prisoners that represents a significant contribution to our understanding of the sociology of the camps The book also includes detailed documentation on the structure of the camps and the daily routines of the prisoners lives A final chapter deals with the lives of the survivors after liberation and the sometimes painful reintegration into society and reintegration of their selves that marked survivors ultimately as victors and not victims Battlefield of Ideas is at once deeply personal and rigorously researched a stirring testimony to the human instinct to persevere in the face of evil Hitlerowskie próby zasiedlania ziemi śląsko-dąbrowskiej w latach II wojny światowej, 1939-1945 Andrzej Szefer, 1984 Wartości a przemoc Anna Pawełczyńska, 1995 Anus belli Zygmunt Zonik, 1988 Describes the process of the evacuation of inmates from the concentration and extermination camps in Poland and Germany at the end of the war giving details of events in each camp Against the background of the military and the political situation discusses the German decision to liquidate the camps the conditions of evacuation the death marches and the number of victims stressing the large numbers who died or were killed in the process
