Making Something Happen Michael Thurston,2003-01-14 Poetry makes nothing happen wrote W H Auden in 1939 expressing a belief that came to dominate American literary institutions in the late 1940s the idea that good poetry cannot and should not be politically engaged By contrast Michael Thurston here looks back to the 1920s and 1930s to a generation of poets who wrote with the precise hope and the deep conviction that they would move their audiences to action He offers an engaging new look at the political poetry of Edwin Rolfe Langston Hughes Ezra Pound and Muriel Rukeyser Thurston combines close textual reading of the poems with research into their historical context to reveal how these four poets deployed the resources of tradition and experimentation to contest and redefine political common sense In the process he demonstrates that the aesthetic censure under which much partisan writing has labored needs dramatic revision Although each of these poets worked with different forms and toward different ends Thurston shows that their strategies succeed as poetry He argues that partisan poetry demands reflection not only on how we evaluate poems but also on what we value in poems and therefore which poems we elevate Literary History of Canada Carl F. Poetic Metaphors Carina Rasse,2022-06-15 Poetry pushes metaphor to the limit Consider how many different dynamic and interconnected dimensions e g text rhyme rhythm sound and many more a poem has and how they all play a role in the ways metaphorical meaning is constructed There is probably no other genre that relies so much on the creator s ability to get his or her message across while at the same time leaving enough room for the interpreters to find out for themselves what a poem means to them what emotions and feelings it evokes and which experiences it conveys This book uses interviews questionnaires and think aloud protocols to investigate the meanings and functions of metaphors from a poet s perspective and to explore how readers interpret and engage with this poetry Besides the theoretical contribution to the field of metaphor studies this monograph presents numerous practical implications for a systematic exploration of metaphors in contemporary poetry and beyond The Princeton Handbook of World Poetries Roland Greene,Stephen

Politics Therí A. Pickens, 2014-02-05 In the increasingly multi racial and multi ethnic American landscape of the present understanding and bridging dynamic cross cultural conversations about social and political concerns becomes a complicated humanistic project How do everyday embodied experiences transform from being anecdotal to having social and political significance What can the experience of corporeality offer social and political discourse And how does that discourse change when those bodies belong to Arab Americans and African Americans Ther A Pickens discusses a range of literary cultural and archival material where narratives emphasize embodied experience to examine how these experiences constitute Arab Americans and African Americans as social and political subjects Pickens argues that Arab American and African American narratives rely on the body s fragility rather than its exceptional strength or emotion to create urgent social and political critiques The creators of these narratives find potential in mundane experiences such as breathing touch illness pain and death Each chapter in this book focuses on one of these everyday embodied experiences and examines how authors mobilize that fragility to create social and political commentary Pickens discusses how the authors focus on quotidian experiences complicates their critiques of the nation state domestic and international politics exile cultural mores and the medical establishment New Body Politics participates in a vibrant interdisciplinary conversation about cross ethnic studies American literature and Arab American literature Using intercultural analysis Pickens explores issues of the body and representation that will be relevant to fields as varied as Political Science African American Studies Arab American Studies and Disability Studies

Treasures of Literature Federico Favi, Virginia Mastellari, 2024-06-17 The contributions included in this volume deal with the indirect tradition of classical Greek texts in anthologies lexica and scholia The innovative approach taken consists in considering the indirect sources as texts worth studying in their own right rather than as repositories of older more important texts The indirect tradition in scholarly literature is thus considered in terms of its broader historical and cultural implications
