Other Voices 26:

"Other" Voices David De Brou, Aileen Moffatt, 1995 This book compiles essays from individuals and groups of Saskatchewan women highlighting the province's diversity in race ethnicity class religion and language The book begins with an essay on the development of Saskatchewan women's history through three stages then presents essays on the interplay of ethnicity and gender in Swedish women French speaking women and homesickness Jewish women in two rural settings the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire women and relief in Saskatoon farmers wives aboriginal women adapting to change and recent immigrant women Deke! Donald K. Slayton, Michael Cassutt, 1995-06-15 Deke gives essential insight into both Deke Slayton and the US space program in Deke's own quiet and matter of fact voice Greg Bear New York Times bestselling author Deke Slayton was one of the first seven Mercury astronauts and he might have been the first American in space Instead he became the first chief of American Astronaut Corps It was Deke Slayton who selected the crews who flew the Gemini Apollo and Skylab missions It was Deke Slayton who made Neil Armstrong the first man on the moon Deke is Deke Slayton's story told in his own words and in the voices of the men and women who worked with him and knew him best Deke Slayton's knowledge of how the US manned space program worked is the missing piece of every space buff's puzzle Now after decades of silence he tells his priceless stories of those years when America was engaged in the greatest voyage of exploration in human history Deke Slayton was probably the single most important man in the US manned space program Slayton was a genuine American hero Stars and Stripes No one can really understand the manned space flight of the 60s without understanding Deke's role in it This is his story in his own words and it often seems as if Deke were there in person No nonsense no excuses just get on with the mission Frank Borman NASA astronaut Deke is a must read for those who remember that most exciting of nights and for those not yet born who want to learn about one of the 20th century's most thrilling moments Rocky Mountain News Broadcasting Freedom Arch Puddington, 2014-07-11 Among America's most unusual and successful weapons during the Cold War were Radio Free Europe and Radio Liberty RFE RL had its origins in a post war America brimming with confidence and secure in its power Unlike the Voice of America which conveyed a distinctly American perspective on global events RFE RL served as surrogate home radio services and a vital alternative to the controlled party dominated domestic press in Eastern Europe Over twenty stations featured programming tailored to individual countries They reached millions of listeners ranging from industrial workers to dissident leaders such as Lech Walesa and Vaclav Havel Broadcasting Freedom draws on rare archival material and offers a penetrating insider history of the radios that helped change the face of Europe Arch Puddington reveals new information about the connections between RFE RL and the CIA which provided covert funding for the stations during the critical start up years in the early 1950s He relates in detail the efforts of Soviet and Eastern Bloc officials to thwart the stations their tactics ranged from jamming attempts assassinations of radio journalists the infiltration of spies onto the radios staffs and the bombing of the radios

headquarters Puddington addresses the controversies that engulfed the stations throughout the Cold War most notably RFE broadcasts during the Hungarian Revolution that were described as inflammatory and irresponsible He shows how RFE prevented the Communist authorities from establishing a monopoly on the dissemination of information in Poland and describes the crucial roles played by the stations as the Berlin Wall came down and the Soviet Union broke apart Broadcasting Freedom is also a portrait of the Cold War in America Puddington offers insights into the strategic thinking of the RFE RL leadership and those in the highest circles of American government including CIA directors secretaries of state and even presidents

Other Voices, Other Views Helen Ostovich, Mary V. Silcox, Graham Roebuck, 1999-12 The debate over canon represented by this book is implicit in the broad range of its contents As a whole it argues for expansion the inclusion of other voices to augment the standard university syllabus for the early modern period urging recognition of the period s diversity and reforming the conditions under which we pass judgment on its culture Each of these essays reveals the literary potential of works that have been considered inferior and inappropriate for serious study While such individual discovery is certainly valuable what is even more interesting is their significance as a group All the essays contained here are engaged in opening texts up to different perspectives creating a canon that speaks of diversity rather than uniformity

Other Voices William L. Rivers, Everette E. Dennis, 2011-12-31 Conflicting journalistic voices that were raised in the past have become such a jumble that merely identifying them is difficult Dennis and Rivers define categorize present and examine the voices that contributed to what became known as the new media environment in the 1970s This new journalism came about as a result of dissatisfaction with existing values and standards of the early 1960s style of journalism The authors are comprehensive in their concerns as reflected in the national scope presented They cover developments in the major cities on both coasts in the Middle West and South in every major region of the United States Most of the research required travel and interviews all of it required reading almost endlessly and watching the video productions of journalists who built the structure of alternative television Dennis and Rivers offer a representative view of forms and media as well as the people who fashioned the new orientation The authors claim that the wrangling over objective and interpretative reporting misses the main point which is that neither is in close touch with reality The best objective report may cover all surfaces of an event the best interpretative report may explain all its meanings but both are bloodless a world away from the experience Color flavor atmosphere the ultimate human meaning all these the new journalists contend are far beyond the reach of traditional models of journalism This is one of the central reasons for the emergence of different forms and practices in our time This volume will help younger scholars understand the sources of quasi journalistic practices extant today including blogging and electronic only publications

The Voice as Something More Martha Feldman, Judith T. Zeitlin, 2019-09-30 In the contemporary world voices are caught up in fundamentally different realms of discourse practice and culture between sounding and nonsounding material and nonmaterial literal and metaphorical In The Voice as Something More Martha Feldman and Judith T Zeitlin tackle these paradoxes with a bold and rigorous collection of essays that look at voice as both object of desire and material object Using Mladen Dolar's influential A Voice and Nothing More as a reference point The Voice as Something More reorients Dolar's psychoanalytic analysis around the material dimensions of voices their physicality and timbre the fleshiness of their mechanisms the veils that hide them and the devices that enhance and distort them Throughout the essays put the body back in voice Ending with a new essay by Dolar that offers reflections on these vocal aesthetics and paradoxes this authoritative multidisciplinary collection ranging from Europe and the Americas to East Asia from classics and music to film and literature will serve as an essential entry point for scholars and students who are thinking toward materiality

'Other' Voices in Education—(Re)Stor(y)ing Stories Carmen Blyth, 2023-09-30 This book explores how stories can be used as data that prefigure and make possible the numerous permutations of life that comprise existence and examines how stories can be reconfigured to transform that existence into something other It uses varied theoretical and critical frameworks such as autoethnography and posthumanism with which to explore the stories shared that go beyond cause and effect This book looks to engage with storying and storytelling as inquiry in non Western worlds and looks to make storying restorative and stories written by non Western educators the locus of attention By doing so it seeks to illustrate what distinctive ways of storying and storytelling can look like in worlds other than those that follow a Western ethico onto epistemological worldview It provides a way to articulate thought that may be commonly omitted in teacher education around the world and looks at truth as situated rather than as totality local rather than global with stories used to problematize subject object positionings within those same stories

Humming Suk-Jun Kim, 2018-12-13 Humming is a ubiquitous and mundane act many of us perform The fact that we often hum to ourselves to family members or to close friends suggests that humming is a personal intimate act It can also be a powerful way in which people open up to others and share collective memories In religious settings such as Tibetan chanting humming offers a mesmerising sonic experience Then there are hums that resound regardless of human activity such as the hums of impersonal objects and man made or natural phenomena The first sound studies book to explore the topic of humming Humming offers a unique examination of the polarising categories of hums from hums that are performed only to oneself that are exercised in religious practice that claim healing and that resonate with our bodies to hums that can drive people to madness that emanate from cities and towns and that resound in the universe By acknowledging the quirkiness of hums within the established discourse in sound studies Humming takes a truly interdisciplinary view on this familiar yet less trodden sonic concept in sound studies

Other Voices 26: Bestsellers in 2023 The year 2023 has witnessed a remarkable surge in literary brilliance, with numerous compelling novels enthralling the hearts of readers worldwide. Lets delve into the realm of popular books, exploring the engaging narratives that have captivated audiences this year. Other Voices 26 : Colleen Hoover's "It Ends with Us" This touching tale of love, loss, and resilience has captivated readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover skillfully weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can prevail. Uncover the Best : Taylor Jenkins Reids "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This intriguing historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reids compelling storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery. Other Voices 26 : Delia Owens "Where the Crawdads Sing" This captivating coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens weaves a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, captivating readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting. These top-selling novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of compelling stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a masterful and gripping novel that will keep you speculating until the very end. The novel is a warning tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
