Is There Life on Other Worlds? ... with an Introduction by Isaac Asimov Poul Anderson, 1963 Science, Culture and the Search for Life on Other Worlds John W. Traphagan, 2016-08-26 This book explores humanity's thoughts and ideas about extraterrestrial life paying close attention to the ways science and culture interact with one another to create a context of imagination and discovery related to life on other worlds Despite the recent explosion in our knowledge of other planets and the seeming era of discovery in which we live to date we have found no concrete evidence that we are not alone Our thinking about life on other worlds has been and remains the product of a combination of scientific investigation and human imagination shaped by cultural values particularly values of exploration and discovery connected to American society The rapid growth in our awareness of other worlds makes this a crucial moment to think about and assess the influence of cultural values on the scientific search for extraterrestrial life Here the author considers the junction of science and culture with a focus on two main themes 1 the underlying assumptions many of which are tacitly based upon cultural values common in American society that have shaped the ways researchers in astrobiology and SETI have conceptualized the nature of their endeavor and represented ideas about the potential influence contact might have on human civilization and 2 the empirical evidence we can access as a way of thinking about the social impact that contact with alien intelligence might have for humanity The Search for Life on Other Planets Bruce Jakosky, 1998-10-15 Does life exist on other planets This 1998 book presents the scientific basis for thinking there may be life elsewhere in the Universe It is the first to cover the entire breadth of recent exciting discoveries including the discovery of planets around other stars and the possibility of fossil life in meteorites from Mars Suitable for the general reader this authoritative book avoids technical jargon and is well illustrated throughout It covers all the major topics including the origin and early history of life on Earth the environmental conditions necessary for life to exist the possibility that life might exist elsewhere in our Solar System the occurrence of planets around other stars and their habitability and the possibility of intelligent extraterrestrial life For all those interested in understanding the scientific evidence for and likelihood of extraterrestrial life this is the most comprehensive and readable book to date Short Story Index ,1989 Echoes of Other Worlds: Sound in Virtual Reality Tom A.

Garner,2017-09-01 This book explores the nature and importance of sound in virtual reality VR Approaching the subject from a holistic perspective the book delivers an emergent framework of VR sound This framework brings together numerous elements that collectively determine the nature of sound in VR from various aspects of VR technology to the physiological and psychological complexities of the user to the wider technological historical and sociocultural issues Garner asks amongst other things what is the meaning of sound How have fictional visions of VR shaped our expectations for present technology How can VR sound hope to evoke the desired responses for such an infinitely heterogeneous user base This book is for those with an interest in sound and VR who wish to learn more about the great complexities of the subject and discover the contemporary issues from which future VR will surely advance The Size, Composition, and Surface Features of the

Planets Orbiting the Sun Ellen Foxe,2006 This anthology provides insight into some of the more recent information that has been gathered by scientists about the planets in our solar system Is there water on Mars Is Pluto really a planet What do surfaces of the planets farthest from the Sun look like The cutting edge collection of articles on these topics is an excellent source of the latest information on this fascinating subject The Lost Planets John Wenz,2019-10-08 A fascinating account of the pioneering astronomer who claimed erroneously to have discovered a planet outside the solar system There are innumerable planets revolving around innumerable stars across our galaxy Between 2009 and 2018 NASA's Kepler space telescope discovered thousands of them But exoplanets planets outside the solar system appeared in science fiction before they appeared in telescopes Astronomers in the early decades of the twentieth century spent entire careers searching for planets in other stellar systems In The Lost Planets John Wenz offers an account of the pioneering astronomer Peter van de Kamp who was one of the first to claim discovery of exoplanets Van de Kamp working at Swarthmore College's observatory announced in 1963 that he had identified a planet around Barnard's Star the second closest star system to the Sun He cited the deviations in Barnard's star's path wobbles that suggested a large object was lurching around the star Van de Kamp became something of a celebrity appearing on a television show with Mr Wizard Don Henry but subsequent research did not support his claims Wenz describes van de Kamp's stubborn refusal to accept that he was wrong discusses the evidence found by other researchers and explains recent advances in exoplanet detection including transit radial velocity direct imaging and microlensing Van de Kamp retired from Swarthmore in 1972 and died in 1995 at 93 In 2009 Swarthmore named its new observatory the Peter van de Kamp Observatory In the 1990s astronomers discovered and confirmed the first planet outside our solar system In 2018 an exoplanet was detected around Barnard s Star not however the one van de Kamp thought he had discovered in 1963
