Hollywood's Others Katherine Fusco, 2025-09-02 We tend to think about movie stars as either glamorous or relatable But in the 1920s and 1930s when the Hollywood star system was taking shape a number of unusual stars appeared on the silver screen representing groups from which the American mainstream typically sought to avert its eyes What did it mean for a white entertainment columnist to empathize with an ambiguously gendered Black child star Or for boys to idolize Lon Chaney famous for portraying characters with disabilities Hollywood's Others explores the affective ties between white non disabled audiences and the fascinatingly different stars with whom they identified but only up to a point Katherine Fusco argues that stardom in this era at once offered ways for viewers to connect across group boundaries while also policing the limits of empathy Examining fan magazines alongside film performances she traces the intense audience attachment to atypical celebrities and the ways the film industry sought to manage it Fusco considers Shirley Temple's career in light of child labor laws and changing notions of childhood shows how white viewers responded to Black music in depictions of the antebellum South and analyzes the gender politics of conspiracy theories around celebrity suicides Shedding light on marginalized stardoms and the anxieties they provoked Hollywood's Others challenges common notions about film's capacity to build empathy Hi There, Boys and Girls! Tim Hollis, 2010-01-06

Lee,2021-02-12 After World War II studies examining youth culture on the silver screen start with James Dean But the angst that Dean symbolized anxieties over parents the Establishment and the expectations of future citizen soldiers long predated Rebels without a Cause Historians have largely overlooked how the Great Depression and World War II impacted and shaped the Cold War and youth contributed to the national ideologies of family and freedom From Dead Ends to Cold Warriors explores this gap by connecting facets of boyhood as represented in American film from the 1930s to the postwar years From the Andy Hardy series to pictures such as The Search Intruder in the Dust and The Gunfighter boy characters addressed larger concerns over the dysfunctional family unit militarism the race question and the international scene as the Korean War began Navigating the political social and economic milieus inside and outside of Hollywood Peter W Y Lee demonstrates that continuities from the 1930s influenced the unique postwar moment coalescing into anticommunism and the Cold War Current Biography Yearbook ,2008 Cold War Children's Television Vibiana Bowman Cvetkovic,2023-10-16 Cold War Children s Television Philadelphia as a Case Study examines a culturally significant phenomenon of the Cold War the locally produced hosted children s show The Cold War era and the coming of age of commercial television were entwined not only chronologically but societally The era of the locally produced hosted show closed in the wake of Sesame Street due to shifts in social policy industry economics and rising expectations for children programming Through the lens of cultural and historical analysis this book reveals that beyond that nostalgia lies a vital visual form that thrived in the Cold War era one that reflected the ideals of childhood media and nation of a societal terrain from which the American children s television host emerged American National Biography ,1999
