Our Masters Voices The Language And Body Language Of Politics:

Our Masters' Voices John Maxwell Atkinson, 1984 First published in 1984 For those who have heard Max Atkinson expounding his theses about the nature of stimulus and response for political speakers seeking applause have their political lives transformed They cannot go to a public meeting without listening for the anti theses and the triads that when properly delivered guarantee applause and in the right circumstances television coverage Oratory is an ancient art Demosthenes Cicero and Quintillian offered instruction in the art of holding audiences and winning sympathetic reaction from them But they did not have the advantage of modern technology to analyse systematically why particular styles or tricks worked Oratory was a major academic subject for 2000 years But over the last three centuries criticism has moved from the spoken to the written word Now Max Atkinson has tried to redress the balance He has added a new dimension to the appreciation of current politics Our Masters' Voices Max Atkinson, 1991 Our master's voices John Maxwell Atkinson, 1986 The

Cambridge Handbook of Methods in Conversation Analysis Jeffrey D. Robinson, Rebecca Clift, Robin H. Kendrick, Chase Wesley Raymond, 2024-12-05 Conversation Analysis CA is one of the predominant methods for the detailed study of human social interaction Bringing together thirty four chapters written by a team of world renowned experts this Handbook represents the first comprehensive overview of conversation analytic methods Topics include how to collect manage and transcribe data how to explore data in search of possible phenomena how to form and develop collections of phenomena how to use different types of evidence to analyze data how to code and quantify interaction and how to apply publish and communicate findings to those who stand to benefit from them Each method is introduced clearly and systematically and examples of CA in different languages and cultures are included to show how it can be applied in multiple settings Comprehensive yet accessible it is essential reading for researchers and advanced students in disciplines such as Linguistics Sociology Anthropology Communication and Psychology The Psychology of Political Communication Peter

Bull, Maurice Waddle, 2023-06-05 Contemporary politics is mass communication politics Politicians are not only seen and heard they are seen and heard in close up through television appearances speeches interviews and on social media In this book the authors analyse the ways in which politicians communicate with each other the media and the electorate they also discuss the implications of contemporary political discourse on the democratic process as a whole Politicians in interviews are typically castigated for their evasiveness However microanalytic research shows that there is more to political discourse than this apparent ambiguity This book reveals how equivocation interruptions and personal antagonism can offer valuable insights into a politician's communicative style The authors review their empirical research not only on political interviews but also on speeches parliamentary debates and political journalism Further insights include how political speakers interact with their audiences how party leaders engage in adversarial discourse at PMQs and how the spoken messages of politicians can be affected by modern journalistic editing techniques Thereby this research generates greater awareness of communicative practices in a diverse range of political contexts While the interviews and parliamentary debates analysed pertain to UK politics the speeches also draw on the USA and European and Far Eastern nations This engaging book is a fascinating resource for students and academics in psychology politics communication and other related disciplines such as sociology and linguistics The research is also extremely relevant to policy makers and practitioners in politics and political journalism

Analyzing Multimodality in Specialized Discourse Settings Veronica Bonsignori,Belinda Crawford Camiciottoli,Denise Filmer,2022-03-01 Contemporary society has witnessed radical changes in the field of communications in terms of how messages and meanings are disseminated Digitalization and the Internet have signalled an exponential rise in the circulation of multimodal texts in which different semiotic resources are orchestrated together to construct meaning in all areas of social life across languages and cultures and in diverse specialized discourse domains This has foregrounded the need to examine the semiotic functions affordances and issues at stake in a range of multimodal discourse forms while simultaneously highlighting the importance of critical multimodal literacy in audiences and learners This volume develops and extends pioneering research on the intersection between multimodality and specialized discourse Eight newly commissioned studies offer innovative perspectives on multimodal research methodologies and applications in a variety of ESP English for Specific Purposes contexts for practitioners and scholars alike The volume offers a glimpse at future directions in this dynamic and ever evolving area of investigation focusing on the synergy between verbal and non verbal modes of communication in the digital age Each chapter explores an original area of application academic economic scientific marketing legal medical political and tourism The contributors approach multimodality from a range of theoretical and methodological viewpoints including synchronic and diachronic corpus based and corpus aided studies critical discourse analysis and systemic functional linguistics Analytical tools such as multimodal critical discourse analysis multimodal transcription and multimodal annotation software capable of representing the interplay of different semiotic modes speech intonation direction of gaze facial expressions gesturing and spatial positioning of interlocutors are employed The diversity of research strands contained in the volume illustrates just some of the vast areas of multimodal knowledge dissemination that are still unmapped As a cornerstone of communication multimodality needs exploring in all its facets These contributions aim to further that cause

Labour orators from Bevan to Miliband Andrew S. Roe-Crines,Richard Hayton,2016-05-16 How do leading Labour figures strive to communicate with and influence the electorate Why have some

proven more successful than others in advancing their ideological arguments How do orators seek to connect with different audiences in different settings such as parliament party conference and through the media This thoroughly researched and highly readable collection comprehensively evaluates these questions as well as providing an extensive interrogation of the political and intellectual significance of oratory and rhetoric in the post war Labour Party This collection evaluates the oratory and rhetoric of twelve leading figures from Labour politics Aneurin Bevan Hugh Gaitskell Harold Wilson Barbara Castle James Callaghan Michael Foot Tony Benn Neil Kinnock John Smith Tony Blair Gordon Brown and Ed Miliband Each chapter explores how its subject attempted to use oratory to advance their agenda within the party and beyond Students of British politics Labour history and communication studies will find this volume essential reading Rhetorical Aspects of Discourses in Present-Day Society Lotte Dam, Lise-Lotte Holmgreen, Jeanne Strunck, 2009-05-27 Since antiquity the notion of rhetoric has been associated with Aristotle Cicero and Quintilian Their theories are central to the understanding that on the one hand rhetoric can be used for persuading and convincing an audience and on the other for becoming an eloquent speaker Based on this understanding the study of rhetoric was for many years regarded by scholars as a meaningless enterprise as it was perceived as a study of linguistic ornamentation However in the beginning of the twentieth century scholars regained an interest in the study of rhetoric in recognition of rhetorical skills being important for communication in modern society Like speakers in public life e.g. politicians who had always acknowledged the role of rhetoric all sorts of communicators mediators and scholars became interested in rhetoric as a practical tool for building up texts meant for the public sphere as well as an analytical tool for the critique of public argumentation This led to the development of new theories from New Rhetoric over Rhetorical Criticism to theories of genre and discourse reflecting the view that rhetoric must be understood and used against the social and cultural framework in which it is embedded The contributions of this book reflect this multi faceted approach to rhetoric discourse and genre through their focus upon and analysis of different institutionalised discourses Thus within the three sections of political journalistic and organisational discourse the articles discuss various discourse types and their rhetorical features contributing to the understanding of rhetoric and discourse having significant influence on human action and interaction in society Persuasion in Society Jean G. Jones, Herbert W. Simons, 2017-04-07 Persuasion in Society Third Edition introduces readers to the rich tapestry of persuasive technique and scholarship interweaving rhetorical critical theory and social science traditions This text examines current and classical theory through the lens of contemporary culture encouraging readers to explore the nature of persuasion and to understand its impact in their lives Employing a contemporary approach authors Jean G Jones and Herbert W Simons draw from popular culture mass media and social media to help readers become informed creators and consumers of persuasive messages This introductory persuasion text offers A broad based approach to the scope of persuasion expanding students understanding of what persuasion is and how it is effected Insights on the diversity of persuasion in action through such contexts as advertising marketing political campaigns activism and social movements and negotiation in social conflicts The inclusion of sender and receiver perspectives enhancing understanding of persuasion in practice Extended treatment of the ethics of persuasion featuring opposing views on handling controversial issues in the college classroom for enhanced instruction Case studies showing how and why people fall for persuasive messages demonstrating how persuasion works at a cognitive level Discussion questions exercises and key terms for very nearly every chapter The core of this book is that persuasion is about winning beliefs and not arguments and that communicators who want to win that belief need to communicate with their audiences This new edition of Persuasion in Society continues to bring this core message to readers with updated case studies examples and sources
