Our Continent Our Future African Perspectives On Structural Adjustment:

Our Continent, Our Future P. Thandika Mkandawire, Charles Chukwuma Soludo, 1999 Our Continent Our Future African perspectives on structural adjustment Our Continent, Our Future P. Thandika Mkandawire, Charles Chukwuma Soludo, 1999 The emerging African perspective on the complex issue of structural adjustment is here analysed It answers the major challenge for Africans themselves to lead the reform process which has been dominated by external ideas and models The editors two of Africa's top scholars provide a succinct yet comprehensive synthesis of the adjustment debate from a truly African perspective supported by thirty individual studies twenty five of which are from top economists and scholars from every corner of Africa For decades now many African countries have implemented the structural adjustment programs of the Bretton Woods Institution And yet extreme poverty and underdevelopment continue to plague what is becoming the world's forgotten continent Responding to this need for a new approach from within the editors articulate a path for the future underscoring the need to be sensitive to each other's unique history and current condition They argue for a broader policy agenda and for a much more active role for the state within what is largely a market economy African Economies and the Politics of Permanent Crisis, 1979-1999 Nicolas Van de Walle, 2001-09-24 This Book explains why African countries have remained mired in a disastrous economic crisis since the late 1970s It shows that dynamics internal to African state structures largely explain this failure to overcome economic difficulties rather than external pressures on these same structures as is often argued Far from being prevented from undertaking reforms by societal interest and pressure groups clientelism within the state elite ideological factors and low state capacity have resulted in some limited reform but much prevarication and manipulation of the reform process by governments which do not really believe that reform will be effective Who is Nursing Them? It is Us Jennifer R. Zelnick, Charles Levenstein, Robert Forrant, John Wooding, 2017-07-05 This book explores the impacts of HIV AIDS and neoliberal globalization on the occupational health of public sector hospital nurses in KwaZulu Natal South Africa The story of South African public sector nurses provides multiple perspectives on the HIV AIDS epidemic for a workforce that played a role in the struggle against apartheid women who deal with the burden of HIV AIDS care at work and in the community and a constituency of the new South African democracy that is working on the frontlines of the HIV AIDS epidemic Through case studies of three provincial hospitals in KwaZulu Natal set against a historical backdrop this book tells the story of the HIV AIDS epidemic in the post apartheid period Their Future Michael Gubser, 2025-05-27 A compelling examination of how economic development projects ignore local history and the effects of this shortsightedness Foreign aid planners rarely consider the history of the societies in which they work an oversight noted in the development literature but rarely examined Aid programs costing billions of dollars operate largely in a historical vacuum divorced from the knowledge of what succeeded or failed in the past Michael Gubser chronicles the varieties of ahistoricism in international development theory and practice since 1945 He traces the history of development ideas analyzing key theoretical and policy statements to highlight the marginalization of history in favor of technical solutions to economic and social problems and he examines aid programs in several developing countries to show how Western models of social and economic development have been applied and misapplied

The African Union and New Strategies for Development in Africa Said Adejumobi, Adebayo O. Olukoshi, 2008

The early twenty first century witnessed remarkable attempts by Africa's political leadership to promote regional integration as a means of fast tracking economic progress facilitating peace and security consolidating democratic gains and promoting the general welfare of the African people The transition of the Organization of Unity OAU to the African Union AU as well as the foisting of a new economic blueprint for the continent the New Partnership for Africa's Development NEPAD combined with the growing role of the regional economic communities RECs in harmonizing and creating subregional norms and standards in the political and economic arena suggests a new trend towards regionalism in Africa Indeed in the new regional integration architecture the RECs are considered to be the building blocks of the integration process led by the African Union This new impetus of a regional development strategy was largely prompted by the slow pace of economic progress on the continent the increasing marginalization of Africa in the global economy and the need to create regional resources and standards that would benefit the continent in all spheres of social life A painful realization became obvious that small micro states in Africa sticking to their political independence and sovereignty would hardly make much progress in an increasingly globalised world A macro states approach of regional integration has assumed Africa's new strategy to intervene in and integrate with a globalizing world The current regional trend in Africa has received very little scholarly attention especially in a systematic and comprehensive way This is due partly to the fact that the processes are currently unfolding and there is still uncertainty in the outcomes Poor documentation and the dearth of primary materials especially from the regional institutions also contribute to the lack of scholarly work in this area This study assembles the voices of some of the most seasoned African and Africanist scholars who have constantly in one way or another interacted with the integration process in Africa and kept abreast of the developments therein and seeks to capture those developments in a nuanced manner in the economic political and social spheres The essence of this book is to analyze those processes teasing out the issues problems challenges and major policy recommendations with tentative conclusions on Africa's regional development trajectory The book therefore fills major knowledge and policy gaps in Africa's regional development agenda This book is a landmark contribution in a systematic attempt to comprehend Africa's regional development strategy led by the African Union It examines the background nuances and dimensions of the process which include the basis and historiography of pan Africanism the transition of the OAU to the AU the issue of popular participation in development the NEPAD and APRM initiatives the evolving regional peace and security architecture and the efforts of regional institutions to facilitate democracy human rights rule of law and good governance on the continent The book underscores the fact that formidable obstacles and challenges

abound in the trajectory politics and processes of this regional development paradigm especially as Africa navigates an uncertain future in a deeply divided and unequal yet globalised World The book constitutes a major reference material and compendium for a wide range of readers students and scholars of African affairs and African development policy makers both in Africa and the western countries regional and international institutions and organizations and all those interested in the past present and future of Africa s development process Malawi Zoë Groves, Jessica Johnson, 2025-06-27 This book explores Malawi s recent history in light of longer term historical developments contributing important new insights to debates about migration citizenship chieftaincy language cultural practice anti colonialism and nationalism The book is organised around five key themes Rethinking Kamuzu Banda s Malawi Rural Development and Agricultural Production Power and Politics from pre to post colony Malawi and the Southern African Region and Culture and Cultural Production The focus on a single country facilitates consideration of local particularities as well as identification of similarities in the trajectories and challenges shared with other countries in Africa This book provides a nuanced understanding of Hastings Kamuzu Banda Malawi s first Prime Minister and President 1964-94 and the legacy of his rule Chapters analyse decolonisation in a political and a cultural sense and show how the beginning and end of colonial rule were gradual processes rather than sharp ruptures Individual chapters expand our knowledge of the history of public health development rural livelihoods food production and agricultural policy as well as prompting new debate on migration citizenship chieftaincy language cultural practice anti colonialism and nationalism This book will be of particular interest to scholars of Malawi and the wider Southern African region Nine of the chapters were originally published in a special issue of the Journal of Southern African Studies volume 46 issue 2 2020 This volume contains a revised Introduction five additional chapters all previously published in JSAS and a new Afterword

Underdevelopment, Development and the Future of Africa Mawere, Munyaradzi, 2017-02-10 In view of the resilience of Africa s underdevelopment what do Africans make of their determined aspirations for development The continent of Africa has constantly drawn global attention most especially for both human and natural evils Underdevelopment it appears is one of the most eminent threatening evils It has plunged and promises to maintain the majority of Africa in abject poverty insecurity and vulnerability What perpetuates the ghost and gory of underdevelopment in Africa despite a proliferation of development rhetoric and initiatives How do ordinary Africans react to repeated talk and claims of development with little evidence of transformation for the better in their material circumstances This book interrogates the tenacity of underdevelopment amid calls for Africa to rise from its slumber and reclaim its position in global affairs as the mother continent of humankind It contributes to the ongoing debates on why Africa remains trapped in the clutch of underdevelopment many decades after the purported end of colonialism The book comes at a critical time in human history a time when the talk on Africa s under development is louder due to the ravages of economic downturns and dysfunctional conflicts It poses a challenge to development practitioners civil society activists statesmen economists political scientists and theorists to rethink and reconsider their role as technocrats experts and ambassadors of positive change in Africa and the world beyond The World Bank and Africa Graham Harrison,2004-06-01 Shortlisted for the Inaugural International Political Economy Group annual book prize 2006 An incisive exploration of the interventions of the World Bank in severely indebted African states Understanding sovereignty as a frontier rather than a boundary this key study develops a vision of a powerful international organization reconciling a global political economy with its own designs and a specific set of challenges posed by the African region This analysis details the nature of the World Bank intervention in the sovereign frontier investigating institutional development discursive intervention and political stabilization It tackles the methods by which the World Bank has led a project to re shape certain African states according to a governance template leading to the presentation of success stories in a continent associated with reform failure This conceptually innovative book details a political economy of the World Bank in Africa that is both globally contextualized and attentive to individual states It is the only volume to look at the bank s relations with Africa and will interest all students and researchers of African politics and the World Bank African Youth Cultures in a Globalized World Paul Ugor, Lord Mawuko-Yevugah,2016-03-09 All over the world there is growing concern about the ramifications of globalization late modernity and general global social and economic restructuring on the lives and futures of young people Bringing together a wide body of research to reflect on youth responses to social change in Africa this volume shows that while young people in the region face extraordinary social challenges in their everyday lives they also continue to devise unique ways to reinvent their difficult circumstances and prosper in the midst of seismic global and local social changes Contributors from Africa and around the world cover a wide range of topics on African youth cultures exploring the lives of young people not necessarily as victims but as active social players in the face of a shifting late modernist civilization With empirical cases and varied theoretical approaches the book offers a timely scholarly contribution to debates around globalization and its implications and impacts for Africa s youth

The Dialectics of Transformation in Africa E. Bongmba,2006-03-15 A discussion of political and religious crisis in Africa this book covers such topics as democratic transition good governance civil society and the African renaissance Elias K Bongmba proposes humanistic interventions centred on the recovery of interpersonal relations and seeks to understand the ongoing struggles in Africa Forensics of Capital Michael Ralph,2015-07-08 In this ambitious and sophisticated work anthropologist Michael Ralph uses the case of Senegal often held to be an exceptional democracy in Africato illustrate the mechanisms of credit and debt enforcement common to the emergence of all nation states Each chapter systematically addresses various pillars of what are termed the structures of liability thereby managing to convey the idea that senses of belonging and exclusion i e citizenship are as influenced by the economic sphere as the supposedly distinct cultural one Ralph then goes beyond this and attaches it to the national level i e sovereignty as well asserting that diplomatic standing in the arena of nation states is also tied to questions of access and respect on the international credit markets He argues that no country carries just governance in its essence justice emerges from clear and reliable methods of accountability In a world where democracy is adjudicated at the interface between national legislation and international standing in a regime of nations all citizens of the world play a role in shaping the critical theories and methods required to ensure that protocols for international governance and lending are as accessible and democratic as they purport to be and that governments whoever they may be face strict censure when they are not This book represents an important intervention into several fields of studies ranging from African Studies to Economic History to Anthropology Poor Numbers Morten Jerven, 2013-01-24 One of the most urgent challenges in African economic development is to devise a strategy for improving statistical capacity Reliable statistics including estimates of economic growth rates and per capita income are basic to the operation of governments in developing countries and vital to nongovernmental organizations and other entities that provide financial aid to them Rich countries and international financial institutions such as the World Bank allocate their development resources on the basis of such data The paucity of accurate statistics is not merely a technical problem it has a massive impact on the welfare of citizens in developing countries Where do these statistics originate How accurate are they Poor Numbers is the first analysis of the production and use of African economic development statistics Morten Jerven's research shows how the statistical capacities of sub-Saharan African economies have fallen into disarray The numbers substantially misstate the actual state of affairs As a result scarce resources are misapplied Development policy does not deliver the benefits expected Policymakers attempts to improve the lot of the citizenry are frustrated Donors have no accurate sense of the impact of the aid they supply Jerven's findings from sub-Saharan Africa have far reaching implications for aid and development policy As Jerven notes the current catchphrase in the development community is evidence based policy and scholars are applying increasingly sophisticated econometric methods but no statistical techniques can substitute for partial and unreliable data

Contemporary Governance Challenges in the Horn of Africa Charles Manga Fombad, Assefa Fiseha, Nico Steytler, 2022-09-06 This book argues that a leading cause of the political instability in the Horn of Africa is a crisis of governance caused by extreme centralization of power weak institutions and the failure to institutionalise the responsible use of authority In recent years many attempts have been made to resolve the ongoing conflicts in Somalia and South Sudan but problems remain and in 2019 the instability spread to Ethiopia This book critically examines how many of the governance problems in the region can be addressed through institutional design The central argument is that an inclusive system of governance through federalism devolution and inclusive political institutions as well as ensuring the institutionalization of power through strengthening the rule of law has the potential to make governments more accountable inclusive and be able to deliver critical services Such systems ensure relative stability and peace and reduce the risks of state fragmentation a major concern in the region Demonstrating that the threats of further fragmentation and conflict due to the crisis of governance are likely to continue unless serious steps are taken to deal with the situation the book will be an important read for researchers and policy makers with an interest in peacemaking politics constitutional law and federalism in the region

The Palgrave Handbook of African Politics, Governance and Development Samuel Ojo Oloruntoba, Toyin

Falola, 2017-10-10 This handbook constitutes a single collection of well researched articles and essays on African politics governance and development from the pre colonial through colonial to the post colonial eras Over the course of these interconnected periods African politics have evolved with varied experiences across different parts of the continent As politics is embedded both in the economy and the society Africa has witnessed some changes in politics economics demography and its relations with the world in ways that requires in depth analysis This work provides an opportunity for old and new scholars to engage in the universe of the debate around African politics governance and development and will serve as a ready reference material for students researchers policy makers and investors that are concerned with these issues

The Oxford Handbook of Industrial Policy Arkebe Oqubay, Christopher Cramer, Ha-Joon Chang, Richard

Kozul-Wright, 2020-10-20 Industrial policy has long been regarded as a strategy to encourage sector industry or economy wide development by the state It has been central to competitiveness catching up and structural change in both advanced and developing countries It has also been one of the most contested perspectives reflecting ideologically inflected debates and shifts in prevailing ideas There has lately been a renewed interest in industrial policy in academic circles and international policy dialogues prompted by the weak outcomes of policies pursued by many developing countries under the direction of the Washington Consensus and its descendants the slow economic recovery of many advanced economies after the 2008 global financial crisis and mounting anxieties about the national consequences of globalization The Oxford Handbook of Industrial Policy presents a comprehensive review of and a novel approach to the conceptual and theoretical foundations of industrial policy The Handbook also presents analytical perspectives on how industrial policy connects to broader issues of development strategy macro economic policies infrastructure development human capital and political economy By combining historical and theoretical perspectives and integrating conceptual issues with empirical evidence drawn from advanced emerging and developing countries The Handbook offers valuable lessons and policy insights to policymakers practitioners and researchers on developing productive transformation technological capabilities and international competitiveness It addresses pressing issues including climate change the gendered dimensions of industrial policy global governance and technical change Written by leading international thinkers on the subject the volume pulls together different perspectives and schools of thought from neo classical to structuralist development economists to discuss and highlight the adaptation of industrial policy in an ever changing socio economic and political landscape

Development Centre Studies Trading Competitively Trade Capacity Building in Sub-Saharan Africa Bonaglia

Federico, Fukasaku Kiichiro, 2002-11-13 Presents evidence confirming the existence of a wide array of policy options for increasing business competitiveness and reducing dependence on primary commodities in Sub Saharan Africa

Reclaiming Africa Sam Moyo, Praveen Jha, Paris Yeros, 2018-09-03 This book presents the findings of research conducted by scholars and activists associated with the Agrarian South Network based mainly in Africa, Asia and Latin America. The research articulates a Southern perspective on the new scramble for Africa with a view to strengthen tri-continental solidarities. The book explains the significance of the new scramble in terms of the economic structures inherited from the late nineteenth century scramble and the subsequent post-independence period. The renewed competition for Africa's land and natural resources and the resumption of economic growth at the turn of the millennium have revived concerns regarding the continent's position in the world economy and the prospects for its development in the twenty-first century. In this regard, the book addresses two related issues: the character of the expansion of Southern competitors in relation to the more established Western strategies and the impact of the renewed influx of investments in land, minerals and associated infrastructure. The findings are presented with empirical rigor and conceptual clarity to enable the reader to grasp what really is at stake in the twenty-first century: an epic struggle to reclaim Africa from the monopolies that exercise control over its land, minerals, labour and destiny.

Africa since Independence Paul Nugent, 2012-06-13 An indispensable introductory textbook that provides students with a genuinely comparative study of the different trajectories and experiences of independent African states. Paul Nugent explores a range of key concerns including the impact of HIV and AIDS, the contagion of warfare and efforts at achieving national reconciliation both in the past and today. This is an ideal core text for modules on Modern African History, African Politics or Africa since Independence or a supplementary text for broader modules on African History which may be offered at the upper levels of an undergraduate History, Politics or African Studies degree. In addition, it is a crucial resource for students who may be studying modern African history for the first time as part of a taught postgraduate degree in African History, African Politics or African Studies. New to this Edition: Revised and updated throughout in light of the latest research. Reflects recent developments on issues such as AIDS, urbanization, the secession of South Sudan, questions of citizenship and the importance of transnational spaces. This second edition now features photographs.

Africa-China Cooperation Philani Mthembu, Faith Mabera, 2020-10-01 This book offers a range of perspectives on the Africa-China partnership in the context of the Forum on China and Africa Cooperation (FOCAC). Incorporating historical, political, social and cultural dimensions, it offers innovative views on the Africa-China relationship that combine theory and practice and critically examines the prospects of a Pan-African policy towards China complementary to China's comprehensive African policy. The chapters address a number of key questions including: What steps are being taken to achieve a more coordinated approach and policy towards China on the African continent? Does Africa even need a collective strategy in the first place? How would a coherent policy framework affect Africa's relations with Europe and other external partners? How do the pillars of the partnership align with the African Union's Agenda 2063 and the United Nations 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development?
