Realism's Others Eva Aldea, Geoffrey Baker, 2010-07-12 For at least a century scholarship on realist narrative and occasional polemics against realist narrative have assumed that realism promotes the values of sameness against those of otherness and that it does so by use of a narrative mode that excludes certain epistemologies ideologies and ways of thinking However the truth is more complex than that as the essays in this volume all demonstrate Realism's Others examines the various strategies by which realist narratives create the idea of difference whether that difference is registered in terms of class ethnicity epistemology nationality or gender The authors in this collection examine in detail not just the fact of otherness in some canonical realist and canonical magical realist and postmodern novels but the actual means by which that otherness is established by the text These essays suggest that neither realist narrative nor narratives positioned as anti realist take otherness for granted rather the texts discussed here actively create difference and this creation of difference often occasions severe difficulties for the novels representational schema How does one represent different types of knowledge other aesthetic modes or other spaces for example in texts whose epistemology has long been seen as secular and empirical whose aesthetic mode has always been approached as pure descriptive mimesis and whose settings are largely domestic These essays all begin with a certain collision of nationalities of classes of representational matrices of religions and go on to chart the challenges that this collision presents to our ideas or stereotypes of realism or to the possibilities of writing against and beyond realism This question motivates examination of key realist or social realist texts in some of these essays by Honoré de Balzac George Eliot Franz Grillparzer Theodor Storm Gottfried Keller Theodor Fontane Wilhelm Raabe María Amparo Ruiz de Burton Henry James William Dean Howells Charles Chesnutt Theodore Dreiser H. T. Tsiang Alan Sillitoe and Richard Yates However it is no less central a question in certain non realist texts which engage realist aims to a surprising degree often to debate them openly some of these essays discuss in this light fantastic magical realist and postmodern works by Abram Tertz Paul Auster Alejo Carpentier Toni Morrison Gabriel García Márquez, Salman Rushdie and A.S. Byatt. Realism becomes more than an aesthetic aim or narrative mode. It becomes rather a value evoked and discussed by all of the works analyzed here in order to reveal its impact on fiction's treatment of ethnicity, nationality, ideology, space, gender, and social class.

Anti-Catholicism in America, 1620-1860 Maura Jane Farrelly, 2017-11-09 Using fears of Catholicism as a mechanism through which to explore the contours of Anglo-American understandings of freedom, Anti-Catholicism in America, 1620-1860 reveals the ironic role that anti-Catholicism played in defining and sustaining some of the core values of American identity, values that continue to animate our religious and political discussions today. Farrelly explains how that bias helped to shape colonial and antebellum cultural understandings of God, the individual, salvation, society, government, law, national identity, and freedom. In so doing, Anti-Catholicism in America, 1620-1860 provides contemporary observers with a framework for understanding what is at stake in the debate over the place of Muslims and other non-Christian groups in American society.

From Texas to Tinian and Tokyo Bay Jonathan Templin Ritter, 2019-11-15 This is the story of J.R. Ritter, 1902-1994, a civil engineer from Texas who became a U.S. Navy Seabee officer during World War II. For his memoir, he preserved personal papers, letters, photos, and other items, many of which are reproduced in this book. His narrative is edited and annotated by his grandson, Jonathan Templin Ritter. The U.S. Naval Construction Battalions, known as the Seabees, were formed in March 1942. Their duties were to build military facilities and airfields overseas in both the European and Pacific Theaters. In the Pacific Theater alone, including the Aleutians, the Seabees built 111 major airstrips, 441 piers, 2258 ammunition magazines, and much more. Ritter tells the story of two Seabee Battalions, one in the Aleutians and one in the Central Pacific. He describes the Aleutian Islands Campaign during 1942-1943, when there was a real concern that Japan might try to attack Alaska and the continental United States through the back door. Ritter also gives an eyewitness account of the building of the airfields on Tinian Island in the Northern Marianas that enabled the B-29 fire raids on Japan, the Empire Run, which culminated in the two missions that dropped the atomic bombs in August 1945, ending the Pacific War. This book provides a major contribution to the wartime literature about the Seabees, those brave, resourceful, and hard-working American patriots whose mottoes were "Can do" and "The difficult we do now, the impossible takes a little longer."

Lincoln and Freedom Harold Holzer, Sara Vaughn Gabbard, 2007-08-27 Lincoln's reelection in 1864 was a pivotal moment in the history of the United States. The Emancipation Proclamation had officially gone into effect on January 1, 1863, and the proposed Thirteenth Amendment had become a campaign issue. Lincoln and Freedom: Slavery, Emancipation, and the Thirteenth Amendment captures these historic times, profiling the individuals, events, and enactments that led to slavery's abolition. Fifteen leading Lincoln scholars contribute to this collection, covering slavery from its roots in 1619 Jamestown through the adoption of the Constitution to Abraham Lincoln's presidency. This comprehensive volume, edited by Harold Holzer and Sara Vaughn Gabbard, presents Abraham Lincoln's response to the issue of slavery as politician, president, writer, orator, and commander in chief. Topics include the history of slavery in North America, the Supreme Court's Dred Scott decision the evolution of Lincoln's view of presidential powers the influence of religion on Lincoln and the effects of the Emancipation Proclamation This collection effectively explores slavery as a Constitutional issue both from the viewpoint of the original intent of the nation's founders as they failed to deal with slavery and as a study of the Constitutional authority of the commander in chief as Lincoln interpreted it Addressed are the timing of Lincoln's decision for emancipation and its effect on the public the military and the slaves themselves Other topics covered include the role of the U S Colored Troops the election campaign of 1864 and the legislative debate over the Thirteenth Amendment The volume concludes with a heavily illustrated essay on the role that iconography played in forming and informing public opinion about emancipation and the amendments that officially granted freedom and civil rights to African Americans Lincoln and Freedom provides a comprehensive political history of slavery in America and offers a rare look at how Lincoln's views statements and actions played a vital role in the story of emancipation

Dum Spiro, Spero: Chambersburg's Black Civil War Soldiers and Sailors Luther Scott Karper, Jr., 2013-05-13 These essays were written by Shippensburg University History majors in 2010 as a class assignment for their required historical research methods course It was no ordinary class At the beginning of the course their professor challenged them to uncover the hidden history of the African American soldiers and sailors buried in Chambersburg's Mt Vernon and Lebanon Cemeteries Over the course of the semester the students located long forgotten records and pieced together the remarkable stories of these forgotten heroes These works have been revised and republished to mark the 150th anniversary of the Emancipation Proclamation and the 150th anniversary of the United States War Department's issuance of General Order Number 143 on May 22 1863 the order that established the federal Bureau of Colored Troops
