Public Places Private Journeys Ethnography Entertainment And The Tourist Gaze:

Public Places, Private Journeys Ellen Strain, 2003 In this globally interconnected planet we are increasingly able to access exotic locales without ever actually seeing these places first hand Instead what we perceive to be fresh cultural experiences are actually second hand moments filtered through mediums such as television film the internet CD Roms and various other media Ellen Strain posits that the images in film and popular culture not only fill in the gaps of a person's first hand or rather lack of first hand experience with other cultural situations but also predisposes the tourist gaze to view particular locales in a predetermined way She theorizes the idea of a touristic way of understanding the world in general How she asks are our cross cultural perceptions of places and peoples created in the first place Can a set of images such as postcards mediate our vision of distant geographies Are there culturally constructed strategies set up to mediate our cross cultural perceptions of the exotic Strain includes the works of Jules Verne E M Forster and Michael Crichton as well as film CD Rom travel games and virtual reality in her own authorial gaze From the Tourist's Gaze Pietro Agnoletto, 2025-06-27 From the Tourist's Gaze bridges environmental humanities and amateur cinema studies exploring tourism induced environmental issues through the visual representations created by tourists themselves The protagonists of the book are families from North West Italy and their holiday films captured during their holidays in the Ligurian Riviera The timeframe spans between the 1950s and 1970s the so called Italian economic miracle a period in which Italy experienced an extraordinary and rapid economic growth and consequentially a rise in living standards including tourism and film cameras accessibility Radical environmental transformations such as the industrialization and cementing of spaces or the conversion of entire coastlines into territories equipped to receive masses of tourists were just one of the consequences studied from a myriad of sources but never through amateur films The most illustrative case is the Ligurian Riviera which has been regarded as an example of land consumption since those contemporary years Despite being centered on a specific case study readers will be equipped with practical tools to enhance their study of historical amateur films These tools are introduced through innovative methodological approaches to archival research and visual analysis The results will highlight the visual imagery of mid 20th century tourists and their perspectives on the destinations they visited offering fresh visually oriented insights that contribute to the field of tourism studies As a visual journey through mid 20th century Italian tourism and its environmental narratives it may interest cultural geographers tourism and media scholars and the broader group of environmental humanists the latter will have the opportunity to explore amateur cinema as an untapped resource for understanding cultural narratives while amateur cinema scholars will have an example of a fresh and different approach to their subject It can also give new insights to archivists specialized in home movies and be appealing to scholars and intellectuals interested in these topics Cinematic Geographies and Multicultural Spectatorship in America Amy Lynn Corbin, 2019-03-30 Exploration intertwined with home seeking has always defined America Corbin argues that films about significant cultural landscapes in America evoke a sense of travel for their viewers These virtual travel experiences from the mid 1970s through the 1990s built a societal map of popular multiculturalism through a movie going experience

Mediating the Tourist Experience Jo-Anne Lester, Caroline Scarles, 2016-04-29 Traditionally tourism media has referred to the image of destinations constructed through media texts such as brochures and postcards with increasing attention towards other mediascapes such as films and television Yet with prolific advancements in technologies of media communication such traditional formats have experienced a shift in the productive and consumptive practices through which they come into being The possibilities of production and subsequent consumption are unequivocally changing the ways in which tourists imagine understand and engage with destinations This book therefore explores the role of tourism media and mediating practices in the development of non linear processes of communication and understanding as both producers and consumers come together to negotiate the tourist experience In varying ways it examines the emergent relationships and connections between media practices and tourism practices everyday experiences and encounters of place Collectively the authors in this book address a range of media and technologies from brochures television video and film to mediated virtual spaces such as e brochures Internet cultures social networks and Google Earth In doing so the book highlights the continued significance of media in tourism contexts recognising both traditional and newer technologies and the non linear continuous cycle of mediated representations and experiences

Transmedia Selves James Dalby, Matthew Freeman, 2023-10-20 This book examines the mediated shift in the contemporary human condition focusing on the ways in which we synthesise with media content in daily life essentially transmediating ourselves into new forms and re creating ourselves across media Across an international roster of essays this book establishes a transdisciplinary theory for the transmedia self exploring how technological ubiquity and digital self determination combine with themes and disciplines such as celebrity culture fandom play politics and ultimately broader self conception and projection to inform the creation of transmedia identities in the twenty first century Specifically the book repositions transmediality as key to understanding the formation of identity in a post digital media culture and transmedia age where our lives are interlaced intermingled and narrativised across a range of media platforms and interfaces This book is ideal for scholars and students interested in transmedia storytelling cultural studies media studies sociology philosophy and politics

Travel, Tourism and the Moving Image Sue Beeton, 2015 This book explores the relationship between tourism and the moving image from the early era of silent moving pictures through to cinema as mass entertainment It examines how our active and emotional engagement with moving images provides meaning and connection to a place that can affect our decision making when we travel It also analyses how our touristic experiences can inform our film viewing A range of genres and themes are studied including the significance of the western espionage road and gangster movies along with further study of film studio theme parks and an introduction to the relationship between gaming and travel This book will appeal to tourism scholars as well as film studies professionals and is written in an accessible manner for a general audience      Cinematic Tourist Mobilities and the Plight of Development Rodanthi Tzanelli, 2018-11-09 It is said that movies have encroached upon social realities creating tourism enclaves based on distortions of history and heritage or simulations that disregard both What localities and nation states value are discarded suppressed or modified beyond recognition in neoliberal markets thus flattening out human experience destroying natural habitats in the name of development and putting the future of whole ecosystems at risk Without disregarding such developmental risks Cinematic Tourist Mobilities and the Plight of Development explores how en route to any beneficial or eco destructive development film tourist industries co produce atmospheres of place and culture with tourists film fans local activists and nation states Drawing on international examples of cinematically induced tourism and tourismophobic activism Tzanelli demonstrates how the allegedly unilateral industry driven design of location stands at a crossroads between political structures systems of capitalist development and resurgent localised agency With an interdisciplinary methodological and epistemological portfolio connected to the new mobilities paradigm this volume will appeal to scholars students and practitioners interested in tourism migration and urban studies in sociology anthropology geography and international relations      The Routledge International Handbook of New Critical Race and Whiteness Studies Rikke Andreassen, Catrin Lundström, Suvi Keskinen, Shirley Anne Tate, 2023-06-22 Since its foundation as an academic field in the 1990s critical race theory has developed enormously and has among others been supplemented by and dis integrated with critical whiteness studies At the same time the field has moved beyond its origins in Anglo Saxon environments to be taken up and re developed in various parts of the world leading to not only new empirical material but also new theoretical perspectives and analytical approaches Gathering these new and global perspectives this book presents a much needed collection of the various forms sophisticated theoretical developments and nuanced analyses that the field of critical race and whiteness theories and studies offers today Organized around the themes of emotions technologies consumption institutions crisis identities and on the margin this presentation of critical race and whiteness theories and studies in its true interdisciplinary and international form provides the latest empirical and theoretical research as well as new analytical approaches Illustrating the strength of the field and embodying its future research directions The Routledge International Handbook of New Critical Race and Whiteness Studies will appeal to scholars across the social sciences and humanities with interests in race and whiteness Chapter 34 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license      The Cinematic Tourist Rodanthi Tzanelli, 2007-06-11 This book takes a closer look at the phenomenon of cinematic tourism exploring audiences perceptions of film and their covert relationship with tourist advertizing campaigns alongside the nature of and resistance to newly born tourist industries      Northern Getaway Dominique Brégent-Heald, 2022-10-15 For more than a century posters advertisements and brochures have characterized Canada as a desirable tourist destination offering spectacular scenery wild animals outdoor recreation and state of the art accommodations However these explicitly commercial displays are not the only marketing tools at the country s disposal beginning in the 1890s film also played a role in selling Canada In Northern Getaway Dominique Br gent Heald investigates the connections between film and tourism during the first half of the twentieth century exploring the economic pedagogical geopolitical and socio cultural contexts and aspirations of tourism films From the first moving images of the 1890s through the end of the 1950s a complex web of public and private stakeholders in Canadian tourism experimented sometimes in collaboration with Hollywood with a variety of film forms 16 mm or 35 mm feature or short films fiction or nonfiction professional or amateur filmmakers to promote Canada Spectators particularly Americans saw Canada as a tourist destination on screens in motion picture theatres schools and fairgrounds Rooted in settler colonial representations that celebrate the nation s unspoiled but welcoming wilderness landscapes these films also characterize Canada as a technologically and industrially advanced settler country Using evidence from a wide range of archival sources and drawing from current scholarship in film history and tourism studies Northern Getaway demonstrates how Canada was an innovator in using film to shape and project a recognizable destination brand Thailand, Western Cinema, and Imagery Andrew Russell,2024-12-15 In this book Andrew Russell explores Western media s fascination with images of the East by focusing primarily on Thailand as a case study Russell argues that Hollywood s representation of Thailand still relies heavily on an Orientalist gaze filled with stereotypes that exoticise and eroticise both the country and its people Furthermore he also addresses the impact this has had on Thai filmmakers who have at times utilised a process of erasure by reducing national specificity in their films to prime them for global export building on previously successful waves from other areas of Asia like the J Horror cycle that made way for their inclusion in the Western marketplace Despite these trends however this book finds that Thai filmmakers are reclaiming the imagery of their country and people in the arthouse sector utilising critically divisive slow cinema aesthetics to address pertinent allegorical content Ultimately this book argues that through an understanding of the context and culture of production we can gain new understanding of important political factual and artistic history that reveals a unique version of Thailand not previously seen on Western screens Scholars of film studies Asian studies cultural studies and history will find this book of particular interest

Locative Tourism Applications Erin E. Lynch,2022-09-30 Travel through time Walk the streets as they were See through floors Hunt for ghosts with drink in hand Hear the walls speak These are just a few of the ways that locative tourism applications seek to augment the urban experience This book explores the universe of locative tourism applications It uses multi sited sensory ethnography with diverse apps in 12 cities around the world to interrogate how these applications layer often branded maps of meaning over the urban environment and exposes what their use at the embodied intersection of physical and digital space can tell us about the production of cityscapes for touristic consumption Locative Tourism Applications takes a journey in three parts to evaluate how these extensions of the senses mediate users experience of urban locales The first offers the reader some theoretical and methodological orientation the second takes them on a whirlwind tour of locative apps and the third settles in for an extended exploration of two destinations Montreal and Christchurch With broad cross disciplinary appeal this volume will be of interest to scholars from tourism studies cultural geography urban studies new media studies and sensory studies and will be particularly valuable for sensory ethnographers examining mobile and location aware media

Locating Nordic Noir Kim Toft Hansen, Anne Marit Waade, 2017-10-14 This book is a comprehensive study of Nordic Noir television drama from the 1990 s until today The authors introduce the history of contemporary Nordic Noir from the perspective of place production and location studies The chapters include readings of well known television crime dramas such as Beck The Killing Trapped and The Bridge as well as a range of other important Nordic Noir cases The authors position the development of Nordic Noir in the global market for popular television drama and place the international attention towards Nordic crime dramas within regional development of drama production in Sweden Denmark Norway and Iceland Consequently Nordic Noir is read as both a transnational financial and creative phenomenon and as a local possibility for community building Offering a comprehensible scholarly and methodologically original approach to the popularity of Nordic television crime dramas this volume is aimed at readers with an interest in crime drama as well as scholars and students of television drama

Tourism: The Key Concepts Peter Robinson, 2012-10-12 Tourism The Key Concepts offers a comprehensive collection of the most frequently used and studied concepts in the subject of tourism Within the text key terms concepts typologies and frameworks are examined in the context of the broader social sciences blending together theory and practice to explore the scope of the subject Terms covered include Ethical Tourism LGBT Tourism Hospitality Mobility Authenticity Quality Management Destination Management Geographies of Tourism Planning Sociology in Tourism Society and Culture Tourism Strategy Each entry contextualises defines and debates the concept discussed providing an excellent starting point for those studying tourism for the first time and a quick reference for those who are more experienced With case studies examples and further reading throughout this text will be invaluable for all undergraduate and postgraduate tourism students

Visual Difference Elizabeth Heffelfinger, Laura Wright, 2011 To date no text exists that focuses exclusively on the concept of postcolonial film as a framework for identifying films produced within and outside of various formerly colonized nations nor is there a scholarly text that addresses pedagogical issues about and frameworks for teaching such films This book borrows from and respects various forms of categorization intercultural global third and accented while simultaneously seeking to make manifest an alternate space of signification What feels like a mainstream approach is pedagogically necessary in terms of access both financial and physical to the films discussed herein given that this text proposes models for teaching these works at the university and secondary levels The focus of this work is therefore twofold to provide the methodology to read and teach postcolonial film and also to provide analyses in which scholars and teachers can explore the ways that the films examined herein work to further and complicate our understanding of postcolonial as a fraught and evolving theoretical stance      Middlebrow Modernism Melinda J. Cooper, 2022-10-01 Eleanor Dark 1901-85 is one of Australia's most innovative 20th century writers. Her extensive oeuvre includes ten novels published from the early 1930s to the late 1950s and represents a significant engagement with global modernity from a unique position within settler culture. Yet Dark's contribution to 20th century literature has been undervalued in the fields of both Australian literary studies and world literature. Although two biographies have been written about her life, there has been no book-length critical study of her writing published since 1976. Middlebrow Modernism counters this neglect by providing the first full-length critical survey of Eleanor Dark's writing to be published in over four decades. Focusing on the fiction that Dark produced during the interwar years and reading this in the context of her larger body of work, this book positions Dark's writing as important to the study of Australian literature and global modernism. Melinda Cooper argues that Dark's fiction exhibits a distinctive aesthetic of middlebrow modernism which blends attributes of literary modernism with popular fiction. It seeks to mediate and reconcile apparent binaries: modernism and mass culture, liberal humanism and experimental aesthetics, settler society and international modernity. The term middlebrow modernism also captures the way Dark negotiated cosmopolitan commitments with more place-based attachments to nation and local community within the mid-20th century. Middlebrow Modernism posits that Dark's fiction and the broader phenomenon of Australian modernism offer essential case studies for larger debates operating within global modernist and world literature studies, providing perspectives these fields might otherwise miss.

Virtual Voyages Jeffrey Ruoff, 2006-01-24 The different forms that travelogues have taken: documentaries, IMAX home movies, ethnographic films from the 1800s to the present.

Mediatization of Communication Knut Lundby, 2014-08-25 This handbook on Mediatization of Communication uncovers the interrelation between media changes and changes in culture and society. This is essential to understand contemporary trends and transformations. Mediatization characterizes changes in practices, cultures, and institutions in media-saturated societies, thus denoting transformations of these societies themselves. This volume offers 31 contributions by leading media and communication scholars from the humanities and social sciences with different approaches to mediatization of communication. The chapters span from how mediatization meets climate change and contribute to globalization to questions on life and death in mediatized settings. The book deals with mass media as well as communication with networked digital media. The topic of this volume makes a valuable contribution to the understanding of contemporary processes of social, cultural, and political changes. The handbook provides the reader with the most current state of mediatization research.

Performing Black Masculinity Bryant Keith Alexander, 2006-07-24 This is a remarkable set of linked essays on the African American male experience. Alexander picks a number of settings that highlight Black male interaction, sexuality, and identity: the student-teacher interaction, the black barbershop, drag queen performances, the funeral eulogy. From these he builds a theory of Black masculine identity using auto-ethnography and ideas of performance as his
