Public Secrets Public Spaces Cinema And Civility In China:

Public Secrets, Public Spaces Stephanie Donald, 2000 Public Secrets Public Spaces explores the possibility of symbolic public space in the context of Chinese cinema Focusing especially on women children and the dispossessed Stephanie H Donald looks at the ways public space is constructed and occupied and how it interacts with Opublic secrets O the unstated common sense knowledges of everyday life extraordinary to those who are not initiated into the routines of a particular cultural place and space In traditional societies public secrets are organized through observable ritual in modern societies they are embedded in the cultural discourse of the routine and the everyday As we see in this perceptive book film offers a rich medium for unearthing these secrets Cinema, Space, and Polylocality in a Globalizing China Yingjin

Zhang, 2009-10-09 In this milestone work prominent China film scholar Yingjin Zhang proposes polylocality as a new conceptual framework for investigating the shifting spaces of contemporary Chinese cinema in the age of globalization Questioning the national cinema paradigm Zhang calls for comparative studies of underdeveloped areas beyond the imperative of transnationalism The book begins by addressing theories and practices related to space place and polylocality in contemporary China before focusing on the space of scholarship and urging scholars to move beyond the current paradigm and explore transnational and comparative film studies This is followed by a chapter that concentrates on the space of production and surveys the changing landscape of postsocialist filmmaking and the transformation of China's urban generation of directors Next is an examination of the space of polylocality and the cinematic mappings of Beijing and a persistent reel contact with polylocality in hinterland China In the fifth chapter Zhang explores the space of subjectivity in independent film and video and contextualizes experiments by young directors with various documentary styles Chapter 6 calls attention to the space of performance and addresses issues of media and mediation by way of two kinds of playing the first with documentary as troubling information the second with piracy as creative intervention The concluding chapter offers an overview of Chinese cinema in the new century and provides production and reception statistics Combining inspired critical insights original observations and new information Cinema Space and Polylocality in a Globalizing China is a significant work on current Chinese film and a must read for film scholars and anyone seriously interested in cinema more generally or contemporary Chinese culture Postsocialist Cinema in Post-Mao China Chris Berry, 2004-06-01 This book argues that the fundamental shift in Chinese Cinema away from Socialism and towards Post Socialism can be located earlier than the emergence of the Fifth Generation in the mid eighties when it is usually assumed to have occurred By close analysis of films from the 1949 1976 Maoist era in comparison with 1976 81 films representing the Cultural Revolution it demonstrates that the latter already breaks away from Socialism Screen Media and the Construction of Nostalgia in Post-Socialist China Zhun Gu, 2023-01-31 This book traces the cultural transformation of nostalgia on the Chinese screen over the past three decades It explores how filmmakers from different generations have engaged politically with China's rapidly changing post socialist society as it has been formed through three mutually constitutive frameworks political discourse popular culture and state led media commercialisation The book offers a new critical model for understanding relationships between filmmakers industry and the State

Chinese Revolutionary Cinema Jessica Ka Yee Chan, 2019-01-21 Engaging with fiction films devoted to heroic tales from the decade and a half between 1949 and 1966 this book reconceives state propaganda as aesthetic experiments that not only radically transformed acting cinematography and screenwriting in socialist China but also articulated a new socialist film theory and criticism Rooted in the interwar avant garde and commercial cinema Chinese revolutionary cinema as a state cinema for the newly established People's Republic adapted Chinese literature for the screen incorporated Hollywood narration appropriated Soviet montage theory and orchestrated a new glamorous socialist star culture In the wake of decolonisation Chinese film journals were quick to project and disseminate the country's redefined self image to Asia Africa and Latin America as they helped to create an alternative vision of modernity and internationalism Revealing the historical contingency of the term propaganda Chan uncovers the visual aural kinaesthetic sexual and ideological dynamics that gave rise to a new aesthetic of revolutionary heroism in world cinema Based on extensive archival research this book's focus on the distinctive rhetoric of post war socialist China will be of value to East Asian Cinema scholars Chinese Studies academics and those interested in the history of twentieth century socialist culture contemporary China such as the social stigma of being left over reflected in Xu Jinglei's films the issue of wealth flaunting represented in Guo Jingming's films or nostalgia for the long lost innocence of adolescence demonstrated in Zhao Wei's film

Considering present day consumer capitalism through the lens of cinema this text analyses in detail the significance of films chosen for their relevance providing a reflection of social reality and cultural changes in 21st century China Chinese Animation, Creative Industries, and Digital Culture Weihua Wu, 2017-08-03 This book explores the development of the Chinese animation film industry from the beginning of China's reform process up to the present It discusses above all the relationship between the communist state's policies to stimulate creative industries concepts of creativity and aesthetics and the creation and maintenance through changing circumstances of a national style by Chinese animators The book also examines the relationship between Chinese animation changing technologies including the rise first of television and then of digital media and youth culture demonstrating the importance of Chinese animation in Chinese youth culture in the digital age Film and the Chinese Medical Humanities Vivienne Lo, Chris Berry, Guo Liping, 2019-12-06 Film and the Chinese Medical Humanities is the first book to reflect on the power of film in representing medical and health discourse in China in both the past and the present as well as in shaping its future Drawing on both feature and documentary films from mainland China the chapters each engage with the field of medicine through the visual arts They cover themes such as the history of doctors and their concepts of disease and therapies understanding the patient experience of illness and death and establishing empathy and compassion in medical practice as well as the HIV AIDs epidemic during the 1980s and 90s and changing attitudes towards disability Inherently interdisciplinary in nature the contributors therefore provide different perspectives from the fields of history psychiatry film studies anthropology linguistics public health and occupational therapy as they relate to China and people who identify as Chinese Their combined approaches are united by a passion for improving the cross cultural understanding of the body and ultimately healthcare itself A key resource for educators in the Medical Humanities this book will be useful to students and scholars of Chinese Studies and Film Studies as well as global health medical anthropology and medical history Fixing Landscape Corey Byrnes, 2019-01-15 In 1994 workers broke ground on China's Three Gorges Dam By its completion in 2012 the dam had transformed the ecology of the Yangzi River displaced over a million people and forever altered a landscape immortalized in centuries of literature and art The controversial history of the dam is well known what this book uncovers are its unexpected connections to the cultural traditions it seems to sever By reconsidering the dam in relation to the aesthetic history of the Three Gorges region over more than two millennia Fixing Landscape offers radically new ways of thinking about cultural and spatial production in contemporary China Corey Byrnes argues that this monumental feat of engineering can only be understood by confronting its status as a techno poetic act a form of landscaping indebted to both the technical knowledge of engineers and to the poetic legacies of the Gorges as cultural site Synthesizing methods drawn from premodern modern and contemporary Chinese studies as well as from critical geography art history and the environmental humanities Byrnes offers innovative readings of eighth century poetry paintings from the twelfth through twenty first centuries contemporary film nineteenth century British travelogues and Chinese and Western maps among other sources Fixing Landscape shows that premodern poetry and visual art have something urgent to tell us about a contemporary experiment in spatial production Poems and paintings may not build dams but Byrnes argues that the Three Gorges Dam would not exist as we know it without them
