A Strange Mixture Sascha T. Scott, 2015-01-21 Attracted to the rich ceremonial life and unique architecture of the New Mexico pueblos many early twentieth century artists depicted Pueblo peoples places and culture in paintings These artists encounters with Pueblo Indians fostered their awareness of Native political struggles and led them to join with Pueblo communities to champion Indian rights In this book art historian Sascha T Scott examines the ways in which non Pueblo and Pueblo artists advocated for American Indian cultures by confronting some of the cultural legal and political issues of the day Scott closely examines the work of five diverse artists exploring how their art was shaped by and helped to shape Indian politics She places the art within the context of the interwar period 1915-30 a time when federal Indian policy shifted away from forced assimilation and toward preservation of Native cultures Through careful analysis of paintings by Ernest L Blumenschein John Sloan Marsden Hartley and Awa Tsireh Alfonso Roybal Scott shows how their depictions of thriving Pueblo life and rituals promoted cultural preservation and challenged the pervasive romanticizing theme of the vanishing Indian Georgia O'Keeffe's images of Pueblo dances which connect abstraction with lived experience testify to the legacy of these political and aesthetic transformations Scott makes use of anthropology history and indigenous studies in her art historical narrative She is one of the first scholars to address varied responses to issues of cultural preservation by aesthetically and culturally diverse artists including Pueblo painters Beautifully designed this book features nearly sixty artworks reproduced in full color Pueblo Artists Rina Swentzell, Alfred L. Bush, 1998 A collection of animal myths from thirty six American Indian tribes Pueblo Indian Painting J. J. Brody, 1997 Brody also explores the role played by the individuals who supported and promoted the Pueblo artists work including writers Mary Austin and Alice Corbin Henderson archaeologist Edgar Lee Hewett artist and scholar Kenneth M Chapman painter John Sloan and art patrons Mabel Dodge Luhan and Amelia Elizabeth White Fourteen Families in Pueblo Pottery Rick Dillingham, 1994 In 1974 Seven Families in Pueblo Pottery was published to accompany an exhibit at the Maxwell Museum of Anthropology twenty years later there are some 80 000 copies in print Like Seven Families this updated and greatly enlarged version by Rick Dillingham who curated the original exhibition includes portraits of the potters color photographs of their work and a statement by each potter about the work of his or her family In addition to the original seven the Chino and Lewis families Acoma Pueblo the Nampeyos Hopi the Guteirrez and Tafoya families Santa Clara and the Gonzales and Martinez families San Ildefonso the author had added the Chapellas and the Navasies Hopi Tewa the Chavarrias Santa Clara the Herrera family Choti the Medina family Zia and the Tenorio Pacheco and the Melchor families Santo Domingo Because the craft of pottery is handed down from generation to generation among the Pueblo Indians this extended look at multiple generations provides a fascinating and personal glimpse into how the craft has developed Also evident are the differences of opinion among the artists about the future of Pueblo pottery and the importance of following tradition A new generation of potters has come of age since the publication of Seven Families The addition of their talents along with an ever growing interest in Native American pottery make this book a welcome addition to the literature on the Southwest

"American Women Artists, 1935-1970" Helen Langa, 2017-07-05 Numerous American women artists built successful professional careers in the mid twentieth century while confronting challenging cultural transitions shifts in stylistic avant gardism harsh political transformations and changing gender expectations for both women and men These social and political upheavals provoked complex intellectual and aesthetic tensions Critical discourses about style and expressive value were also renegotiated while still privileging masculinist concepts of aesthetic authenticity In these contexts women artists developed their careers by adopting innovative approaches to contemporary subjects techniques and media However while a few women working during these decades have gained significant recognition many others are still consigned to historical obscurity The essays in this volume take varied approaches to revising this historical silence Two focus on evidence of gender biases in several exhibitions and contemporary critical writings the rest discuss individual artists complex relationships to mainstream developments with attention to gender and political biases cultural innovations and the influence of racial ethnic diversity Several also explore new interpretative directions to open alternative possibilities for evaluating women s aesthetic and formal choices Through its complex nuanced approach to issues of gender and female agency this volume offers valuable and exciting new scholarship in twentieth century American art history and feminist studies Pueblo and Navajo Contemporary Pottery Guy Berger,Nancy N.
